Marin Gets Beach, Flood Study Money

Bay Model Is Assured As JFK Signs Measure

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — President John F. Kennedy today signed the five billion dollars water projects appropriation bill which includes funds for start of a survey of Richardson Bay streams, completion of the study of Bolinas channel improvement, and virtually complete operation of the San Francisco bay model in Sausalito in connection with the bay study.

The bill provides 14 million dollars for flood control features of the Oroville dam, 47 million dollars for Central Valley Project reclamation units, 15 million dollars for the Los Angeles County drainage area.

More than a billion of the fund is earmarked for flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects of the Army Engineers, a fund which includes the Marin County appropriations.

Largest in Marin is the $200,000 for the San Francisco area study, which includes operation of the model in Sausalito. George Reilly, chief of the engineering Division of the Army Engineers, San Francisco, said the model will continue to operate on the bay survey until the middle of next year, perhaps into the next fiscal year which starts next July 1.

However, he said, an interim report would be made "in the first two or three months" of next year, with the final report due at the end of the year.

The $15,000 earmarked for the Bolinas channel survey will be enough to complete it, Reilly said. One hearing already having been held, no other is expected. The complete report on the survey is due "sometime in calendar 1963."

The Richardson Bay streams survey will get under way as soon as the $20,000 appropriated by the bill is available here, Reilly said. Because this is only the start of the project he said he had no idea when or how many public hearings would be held or how long the survey would take. "I doubt that we'll be through with it in 1963," he indicated.

The bill also provides a million dollars for "continuing channel work downstream from Coyote dam in Mendocino County and an additional $25,000 for further studies on the Russian River."

BAPTIST LEADER TELLS HIS VIEWS

The Baptist World Alliance declined an invitation to send observers to the Ecumenical Council now meeting in Rome because "we believe in spiritual unity of all believers, or Christians, but not ecumenical union which involves the compromise of spiritual and New Testament principles as we understand them."

Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs, president of the 10-million member Southern Baptist Convention, explained this today at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry where he is participating in the week-long "family life clinic."

"We cooperate with other religious bodies in many, many ways," he added, "that do not involve our theological principles. But we have through the past declined to enter into organic union."

The religious leader, who is author of 14 books, also said that of all the Christian faiths the Baptists are the farthest apart from the Catholics. "All others are in between," he said.

Hobbs, who was born in Alabama and now lives at Oklahoma City where he is pastor of the First Baptist Church, said he is a "gradualist" where integration is concerned.

"I am not a reactionary," he said. "I am a gradualist in that I think the goal of integration is to achieve what the Negro wants. But, I feel, because of social background and varying conditions, it must be a grad-

Powers Rips Nixon Over Cuba, Endorses Brown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Republican Lt. Gov. Harold J. (Butch) Powers today accused Richard M. Nixon of making "a cheap bid for votes" in the Cuban crisis and endorsed Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown for re-election.

A few moments after Powers left the news conference in the Biltmore Hotel, State Sen. John McCarthy (R-San Rafael) told newsmen Powers was "a disgruntled politician"—and was promptly accused by a Democratic spokesman of invading Powers' news conference.

The accusation touched off a flurry of charges and countercharges, but McCarthy, a one-time campaign manager for Powers, refused to leave despite Democratic Party complaints.

Powers, lieutenant governor from 1954 to 1958, an active Republican for 30 years, and who sought the GOP gubernatorial nomination Nixon won, said he will remain a Republican but is opposing Nixon because the former vice president has "failed to come up with a single, solitary program bene-

K Will Halt Arms If Blockade Ends; U.S. Intercepts, Lets Russ Ship By

Pentagon: Others Turn Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blockading U.S. Navy ship today intercepted a Soviet tanker but allowed it to continue toward Cuba.

The Pentagon said a dozen other Soviet ships apparently turned back for fear of running into the U.S. ban on Cuban arms shipments.

Thus there still was no direct U.S.-Soviet showdown, or war-provoking incident, in Cuban waters as the U.S. quarantine of the island went into its second day.

NOT BOARDED

Apparently, the tanker was not boarded by the Navy. The Pentagon said only that it was ascertained not to be carrying contraband weapons.

Washington informants said the tanker was hailed by the Navy ship and questioned about its cargo. The tanker captain said he carried only petroleum. Since the tanker had left its Communist port long before the blockade was announced Monday, and there was no known evidence that tankers had been used to carry weapons, these sources said the ship was allowed to proceed.

REASON WHY

The Navy's forebearance in not boarding the tanker, the informants said, was aimed at getting across to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the United States was not in Cuban waters with a chip on its shoulder looking for a fight.

Viewed in this light the incident appeared to be a significant part of the current diplomatic interchange, comparable in some respects to Khrushchev's decision not to force the issue by sending through the blockade vessels certain to be stopped, turned back or sunk.

EDGE OF WAR

The Washington view was that both the turnabout of some Soviet ships, and the free passage of the tanker, would have a profound bearing on intense efforts at the United Nations and elsewhere to develop some kind of formula to pull the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba back from the edg of nuclear war.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense read this announcement:

"It now appears that at least a dozen Soviet vessels have turned back, presumably because, according to the best of our information, they might have been carrying offensive materials.

"However, the first Russian ship that proceeded through the area patrolled by our naval forces was a Soviet tanker.

"It was ascertained by the U.S. naval vessel which intercepted her that the tanker had only petroleum aboard.

"Since petroleum is not presently included as prohibited material, under President Kennedy's proclamation setting up the quarantine, the tanker was allowed to proceed . . ."

But U.S. officials stressed that while sticking to his readiness for U.S.-Soviet negotiations, Kennedy's main concern and overriding objective is to put an end to Soviet nuclear missile bases in Cuba.

The Soviet premier in a message to British philosopher Bertrand Russell declared yes-

Would Lay Off For Time

MOSCOW (UPI)— Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed today to halt all arms shipments to Cuba for two or three weeks if the United States lifts its Cuban blockade for the same length of time.

The official Soviet Tass agency said Khrushchev made his offer in response to last night's appeal by United Nations acting secretary general Thant for both Russia and the United States to agree to a two-to-three week "suspension" of their actions on Cuba.

"I declare to you that I agree with your suggestion which is in the interests of peace," Khrushchev told Thant.

NOT DISCLOSED

President John F. Kennedy sent his reply to Thant at midday but its contents were not disclosed immediately.

The U.S. view expressed beforehand was that it would be foolhardy to call off its blockade without ironclad guarantees against a further Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

Moscow Radio interrupted a concert to report the exchange of messages between Thant and Khrushchev.

THANT ANXIETY

"Esteemed Mr. Thant, I received your communication and carefully read the proposal contained in it," Khrushchev said.

"I welcome your initiative. I understand your anxiety in connection with the situation which has developed in the area of the Caribbean Sea as the Soviet government, too, considers this situation to be a very dangerous one, demanding an immediate intervention by the U.N.

"I state to you that I greet your proposal which responds to the interests of peace."

The Khrushchev message bore today's date.

Merchant Finds Soviet Stores Poor

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of interviews with Marinites who visited the USSR with the Marin Executive Delegation.)

By HARRY CRAFT

"Furniture that you might find coming out of a manual training class" was the description applied by home furnishings dealer Sidney Braverman to household pieces which the average Russian is able to buy.

Braverman said stores in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev are large, but selections are small "with not much more than about 25 standard items. There is only one type of sofa which opens into a bed—and it doesn't have foam rubber cushions."

He observed that prices were the same in all stores. There is no competitor down the block to sell for less. Manufacturers concentrate on fewer designs. By our standards he rated articles "from medium to fair to shoddy" in construction and durability. Factories, he said, are lacking in modern tools and equipment.

"Don't misunderstand me," cautioned Braverman. "Russians have the brains but not the facilities."

Among the articles of furniture in big demand, he named the huge, old-fashioned wardrobe of the type used many years ago in American homes. Russian living quarters are small and have no built-in closets.

"Everyone works," he said, "but apparently they have no great enthusiasm in their work. A dent in the Russian armor and a possible sign of creeping capitalism (though the Russians do not admit it to be that) is the recent introduction of incentive pay and piece work."

Braverman said the average worker's pay is about $50 a month, with top executives receiving as high as $250.

"If a man can afford it, he can buy a home in the suburbs and get a loan without interest," he related. "Payments are deducted from his income by his trade association and there are no credit problems such as we have here. If he does run into trouble it's handled direct through the individual trade union to which he is responsible. He cannot contract with anyone for work to be done on the house; that, too, is up to the union."

Nikita's Summit Proposal Seen As Cautious Course

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Some Western diplomats saw Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for a summit conference today as evidence he is guiding the Soviet Union on a cautious course in the Cuban crisis.

They expressed a belief that his suggestion indicates he wants to avert a head-on collision with the United States.

In a message yesterday to Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher, Khrushchev put the summit proposal this way:

"The question of war and peace is so vital that we should consider useful a top-level meeting in order to discuss all problems which have arisen, to do everything possible to remove the danger of unleashing a thermonuclear war."

While denouncing the U.S. blockade of arms shipments to Cuba as "piratical," Khrushchev ignored the reason President John F. Kennedy announced for the Cuban quarantine, the establishment of Soviet-built missile bases in Cuba.

Moscow insists all arms sent to Cuba are defensive. And it never has admitted missiles are among the weapons. But perhaps significantly, a Soviet Embassy official in London said no nuclear warheads were among arms sent to Cuba.

Russell, in a message, urged the Soviet leader "not to be provoked by the unjustifiable action of the U.S. in Cuba." The Briton also sent Kennedy a message condemning the blockade and calling on him to "end this madness." Kennedy has not replied.

In London, Russell seized on Khrushchev's summit suggestion and sent him a second message urging him to "hold back ships in Cuban waters long enough to secure American agreement to your proposal."

Then the 90-year-old philosopher, who in recent years has been campaigning to abolish nuclear weapons, sent another message to Kennedy. He urged the president to make a conciliatory response to Khrushchev.

There was no indication from Washington, however, that the president is in a hurry to meet Khrushchev. One Washington source said no conclusion should be drawn from the premier's words until it is known how Soviet ships meet the U.S. naval blockade.

Khrushchev's message to Russell contained no hint that he will submit to the U.S. blockade.

However, the premier told Russell the Soviet Union will make no reckless decisions and will not "be provoked by unwarranted actions of the United States."

Khrushchev coupled this with talk of nuclear war and a call for the United States to lift the Cuban quarantine.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Alvin York Sick

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Alvin York, 74, one of the nation's best known war heroes, has been hospitalized for treatment of internal hemorrhaging.

His physicians, Dr. Guy C. Pinckley, said last night the famed sergeant was not in serious condition but may become worse "if this thing doesn't clear up."

"It's been presumed the bleeding is due to ulceration," the doctor said. "But we are not sure."

York won the Medal of Honor after killing 25 enemy soldiers and capturing 132 others during World War 1 in the battle of the Argonne. He is partially paralyzed fromLYLI partially paralyzed from strokes and has been bedridden for nine years.

Winnie Ruth Judd Free Two Weeks

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd, 1931 mutilation slayer of two women friends, has been free two weeks, already making this her second most successful escape since a six-week absence in 1939.

That escape was her first and since that time she has slipped out of the Arizona State Hospital six more times.

Mrs. Judd, 58, made world headlines when her luggage was found to contain the remains of two friends.

Her latest escape caused little furor. For a few days, police received numerous tips on where she might be.

Now, says Police Sgt. Larry Gallup, no one calls in and no one seems concerned.

Satellite Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) The space agency plans to launch the Explorer 15 satellite tomorrow to probe the strength of the radiation belt formed by a U.S. nuclear explosion high above the Pacific last July.

The satellite is designed to measure intensity of the artificial band and perhaps tell scientists how to protect future spacecraft which will pass through it. Three United States satellites have been damaged and rendered useless by the belt.

Gas Rationing

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio said gasoline has been rationed in the Cuban city of Cienfuegos "as a precautionary measure in view of the threat of the Yankee imperialist blockade."

Cienfuegos is on Las Villas Province's southwestern coast near the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion site. The broadcast, monitored in Key West Wednesday night said nothing about gas rationing elsewhere in Cuba.

Conelrad Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Conelrad attack warning plan is being developed by the Federal Communications Commission and radio stations, the Defense Department said yesterday.

The broadcast frequencies which have been used in the past are still in effect — 640 and 1240 kilocycles.

The Pentagon said requirements for restrictions on broadcasting frequencies for emergency information have been lifted by the military and a new plan is being worked out.

No further details were available.

Missiles: Little Time To Install

WASHINGTON (AP) — The relatively simple launch gear of Soviet mobile missiles enabled the Communists to put China's 1,200-mile range rockets into position in very few days.

Longer range Soviet ballistic missiles spotted by U.S. reconnaissance aircraft are designed for firing from more complex permanent launch pads.

These bases for the 2,500-mile range IRBMs take some time to build and photographs made public by the Defense Department indicate construction of some of these Cuban sites are in the early stages.

The Pentagon pictures of the Soviet mobile missiles in Cuba show a relatively crude layout.

There are simple launch pads and missile erectors, missile fuel trucks and some storage buildings or trailers.

In one picture, the launchers were off to one side aimed, a Pentagon spokesman said, at a specific area of the United States.

He didn't say what area, but in general it was said that these missiles could strike within an arc covering the southeastern portion of the United States.

The missiles rested on trailers which are moved to the launcher where they are grasped by a mechanical device and erected upright.

U.S. CIVIL DEFENSE ACTIVITIES INCREASE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Civil defense agencies— on national, state, and local levels—stepped up emergency activities today to meet any eventualities posed by the Cuban crisis.

At Washington it was announced that the capital's emergency relocation center at nearby Lorton, Va., is manned on a 24-hour basis.

The Defense Department said 60 million shelter spaces throughout the nation are scheduled to be stocked with necessary supplies. At present, officials said, facilities for only several hundred thousand persons are immediately available.

The Civil Defense Committee of the Governors' Conference convenes tomorrow at the Pentagon in emergency session. The committee is headed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Already there has been a sharp rise in consumer purchases of canned goods and other non-perishable packaged foods.

Builders of home shelters, whose business had been slow, report a sudden surge in inquiries and requests for fast construction.

In Little Rock, Ark., Gov. Orval Faubus met with top civil defense and military leaders. The state's radiation testing instruments were being checked, and C.D. leaders said they may go on television and radio soon to advise citizens on safety measures. The regional civil defense office was swamped with calls.

The Los Angeles city civil defense director suggested housewives keep a two-week supply of food on hand and keep auto tanks full of gas.

OUTSTANDING WARD WEEK VALUES IN EVERY DEPARTMENT

Important Indian Town Is Captured

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Chinese Communists have captured the important northeast Indian town of Towang, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced today.

Towang lies on the old India-Tibet trade route between the Tibetan and Bhutan borders about 60 miles north northwest of Udalguri.

The spokesman announced that Towang fell after bitter fighting yesterday. Chinese Communist troops are advancing in most areas, he added.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon was coming under mounting fire because of the ineffectiveness of India's resistance on the frontier. Prime Minister Nehru was reported to be defending him.

"It looks as if someone is spreading a ceremonial red carpet for the advancing Red Chinese along the entire northeast frontier," said one party leader who with 29 others criticized Menon severely in a meeting with Nehru Tuesday.

The government meanwhile admitted steady Chinese advances all along the northeast boundary, as much as 37 miles in some areas and indicated the Communists had captured most of their objectives in the disputed areas in the northwest, the Ladakh sector of Kashmir.

Congress Party critics charged Menon "kept us all in the dark by painting a rosy picture of our eastern defenses."

"In no place has the Indian Army held ground since the massive Chinese assault began on Saturday, and every day it is the same tale of so many pockets falling to the advancing enemy," one of them said.

ual thing—not something that is forced.

"I do not object to the Supreme Court decision (on integration) but think we should have been more lenient in applying it." He said this also applies to the situation in Oxford, Miss. where James Meredith, a Negro, has started classes.

Hobbs said that there are no Negroes who are members of his church but that Negroes attend services and Sunday Schools. "They have their own churches and for the most part prefer to go to their own churches." He added that the convention which he heads has no colleges under its helm but that it has six seminaries, some in the South, and all are integrated. The Strawberry seminary is one of this six.

"We should hold up the principles that Jesus taught and that the New Testament teaches of the infinite worth of the individual," said Hobbs. "If I picked out one basic principle, I would choose the competency of each individual before God."

POWERS

ficial to California." Powers declared:

The 62-year-old grain rancher announced as a gubernatorial hopeful in June, 1961 but never filed for the office. After Nixon announced his candidacy in September, 1961, Powers withdrew from the race. At the time, he termed Nixon a "discard from the rubble heap of national politics."

After Powers left the conference room, McCarthy, who had been a silent witness during Powers' remarks, strode to the head table and sat down before the TV microphones and cameras.

He conceded his action was somewhat unorthodox, inasmuch as the Democrats had called the news conference, but offered to share costs of hiring the press conference room. At this point, Harry Lerner, a publicity man for Brown headquarters, walked to the head table and told newsmen that costs of the room are not an issue. He said McCarthy, minority leader of the State Senate, was "overstepping the bounds of propriety and fairness by undermining and invading" a Democratic news conference.

McCarthy insisted that he was not trying to take over the conference, again offered to share the costs and in turn accused the Democrats of invading news conferences. Lerner charged McCarthy with "below the belt tactics" and denied that Democrats had taken advantage of a conference called by the opposition to present their views.

As Lerner left the speaker's table, McCarthy replied: "You ought to know all about below-the-belt tactics, because you've been using them." Then the legislator told newsmen:

"I am appalled and shocked to see my friend, Mr. Powers, read that statement, which was written for him."

RUSS

Braverman was not able to visit any of the suburban homes, but said he saw a model of a new dwelling at one of the numerous exhibitions put on by the Chamber of Commerce of the USSR.

"It evidently was intended to be the last word, but was far removed from what we are used to in size of rooms and conveniences," he commented. "The Russians plan to provide one room for each person in a household by 1970 and by 1980 they hope to provide apartment rentals free. Rentals now run from $10 to $15 a month."

He described the general attitude of the Russian people as "somber" and not given to gaiety or light-heartedness. But he found no indications of disloyalty, rebelliousness or unhappiness among those he met.

"They are not able to save much money, but there are savings banks which pay 3 to 4 per cent interest. Of course if they accumulate too much it probably leads to suspicion that they are engaged in black market activities and an investigation. I understand there is some of this going on. In clothing factories, for example, the yardage is carefully checked, but apparently there are ways of getting around it," he commented.

In Budapest, which the group visited after two weeks in Russia, Braverman said conditions were noticeably different, even though Hungary is a satellite country. He felt the people were gayer and more given to open discussions. Hungary has its own manufacturing plants and there is a wider variety of furnishings and clothing, and more evidence of imported goods.

Defrocked Priest In Scandal Buried

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Walter A. Ryan, the 57-year-old defrocked Catholic priest with the tangled marital affairs, was buried today in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

Ryan, a former Army chaplain, died Saturday at Letterman Army Hospital in the Presidio.

He was defrocked by the church after his secret marriage to Alice Balskis in New York 12 years ago. They separated in 1955 after having three children.

She later sued the Roman Catholic Church, claiming church authorities kidnaped Ryan from her—a charge he and the church both denied. In later court action, Ryan was found not to have fathered a fourth child as she claimed.

CUBA

terday that he considered a summit meeting useful in order to do everything possible to remove the danger of nuclear war.

But in a letter to Kennedy about the same time, officials here said, Khrushchev made no direct bid for a conference and concentrated his remarks on denouncing Kennedy's quarantine action.

The Washington Post quoted a reliable government source today as saying six Soviet ships nearest Cuba had altered their course but did not turn back. It quoted the official as saying a Polish ship farther back was continuing toward Cuba.

The story added, "It also appeared that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wanted a satellite ship, rather than a Russian vessel, to test the U.S. determination to halt and search ships heading for Cuba, and thus avoid any direct confrontation of U.S.-Russian forces."

In other developments related to the crisis:

The Federal Aviation Agency directed that no civilian planes may fly over the southern half of Florida, the U.S. area nearest Cuba, unless they are operating on approved flight plans and in direct radio contact with air traffic control centers.

Mobilization plans for the home front were brought up to date for use in the event of a shooting war.

Word of the apparent diversion of Soviet ships which could only have been ordered from Moscow coupled with Khrushchev's statement to Russell that the Soviet government would avoid any rash decision and was interested in a summit conference served to lessen somewhat the tense sense of crisis. But authorities here cautioned that it could well be only a lull in the storm, that a confrontation of U.S. warships and Soviet vessels might still occur, and that the central issue of Soviet rocket bases in Cuba remained untouched.

The Defense Department released what it described as undeniable intelligence reports that at least 30 big missiles, more than 20-Soviet-built jet bombers are now in Cuba.

Bradley May Have 'Choked His Mother'

Ex-Marine Claude Hilton Bradley, 22, might well have choked Mrs. Carole Frederick, 29, because he thought she was his mother, a San Rafael psychiatrist testified yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Jean Pouteau, called by defense attorney Berwyn A. Rice, told the jury of nine women and three men that "misidentification" was a strong possibility. The psychiatrist explained that Mrs. Frederick's apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue was dimly lighted, and Bradley had been drinking heavily that night. These could have caused a "transference of identity."

Mrs. Nora Woosley, Bradley's mother, testified last week that her son had always resented the fact that she had remarried, and he did not get along with his stepfather.

Dr. Pouteau likened Bradley's temper to the tantrum of a 2-year-old child, who lies on the kitchen floor and pounds away until he is exhausted.

"The man is capable of explosive reaction," said Dr. Pouteau. "There is a possibility that this explosive reaction might have been toward his mother — a transference of identity."

Another psychiatrist, Dr. Philip S. Hicks of San Rafael, took the witness stand this morning as trial continued before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Dr. Hicks testified he believes Bradley was suffering from psychosis when he visited Mrs. Frederick on the morning of June 3. The psychiatrist said he does not believe that Bradley's mental state was such that he could premeditate the killing of anyone.

DANIEL THOMPSON

Daniel Martin Thompson, 53, senior group supervisor at Marin County Juvenile Hall for almost six years, died suddenly this morning at his Woodacre home, apparently from a heart attack.

He lived with is wife Albmil K. Thompson at 47 Taylor Drive in Woodacre. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Mrs. Thompson had already left for work this morning when Thompson was stricken in the bathroom.

Thompson's son, Richard Thompson of Fairfax, found his father lying on the floor, fully dressed, about 8:30 this morning. An autopsy was to be performed today. Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Probation Officer Walter H. Busher said Thompson joined the probation office on Jan. 2, 1957, and was the oldest member of the juvenile hall staff in years of service. "He was extremely well liked by the children, and was receptive to the best practices in the field," said Busher. "His loss will be hard to replace."

Flood, Sanitation Meeting Tomorrow

Committee Probes High School Science

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A 19-member committee today began probing California high school science courses to try and keep them up to date with rapidly growing scientific knowledge.

The Department of Education said the committee of educators and administrators will try to modernize biology, chemistry and physics courses along the lines recommended by several recent nationwide experimental studies.

These studies have placed prime emphasis on the laboratory end of science teaching. They recommended letting the student devise his own experiments based on his own ideas and hypotheses, instead of having him repeat old experiments whose results are already known.

One department spokesman said students have to be taugh how scientists think.

The committee has also been asked to collect and distribute information about new science courses some advanced school districts have developed for themselves.

San Rafael Teachers' Pay Compared In Nearby Areas

The ever-recurrent question of teacher salaries was brought up again this week with presentation to the San Rafael Board of Education of a request by the San Rafael Teachers Assn. for a new, 15-step scale.

The teachers took the position that salaries should be raised from those agreed upon last spring because the San Rafael High and Elementary School Districts are in a bit better financial position than was then expected — and because San Rafael teacher salaries are "at the bottom among 25 districts in the Bay Area."

To substantiate the latter allegation, J. F. Trentacoste of the teachers' salary committee presented a list of 25 school districts, all of which were higher at either bottom or top of the salary scale (or both) than the San Rafael schools.

Ralph K. Hansen, district personnel director, told the board, "These are not just picked. These were the districts that appeared in the California Teachers Assn. sample this year."

San Rafael's teacher salary scale has 16 steps ranging from $5,000 to a top of $9,770. None of the 25 others listed showed minimum pay below $5,000. Highest minimum shown was $5,900 in Fremont Union High School District in Santa Clara County. Maximums ranged from $9,332 (in Alum Rock Elementary District in Santa Clara County, with minimum pay of $5,050) to $10,700 in the Fremont district.

The 25 districts shown included such small ones as Brisbane and Woodside elementary districts in San Mateo County, and such large ones as San Francisco Unified (with a scale of $5,335 to $10,140).

San Rafael is among 15 Bay Area school setups with either a unified district or high and elementary school districts jointly administered (the latter being the case here).

Highest starting salary in the 15 is $5,200 in Santa Clara City Schools. San Rafael, at $5,000, tied for seventh place with Mount Diablo Unified (Contra Costa County), Richmond City Schools and San Jose Unified. Lowest minimum is $4,704 in Petaluma schools.

Highest maximum is $10,300 in South San Francisco Unified District. San Rafael again ranks seventh, with $9,770. Lowest is Vallejo Unified with $8,984.

One of the districts with a higher top than San Rafael is Pittsburg Unified in Contra Costa County, but there a doctor's degree is necessary to reach the top pay of $10,020. Without such degree, top is $9,775 — just $5 above San Rafael, where a doctor's degree is not required for the maximum pay.

All 14 of these districts, however, like all 25 on the list provided by the San Rafael Teachers Assn., have fewer steps between minimum and maximum pay than San Rafael. Trentacoste told the board that teachers were more interested in reducing the number of steps — thus making advancement in pay more rapid — than in increasing the scale.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

Saundra Lee Lundberg, 21, told the California Highway Patrol she lost control while negotiating a curve. The vehicle skidded into a fence, knocking down 10 feet of it, and came to rest against a large tree.

Planner Hiring Given Priority

Hiring of a new planning consultant was given "high priority" last night by the Mill Valley City Council, though one councilman said he didn't know if a new planner was needed at all.

The city has received notice planning consultant Robert Cornish will resign Nov. 19.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants was directed to look for a successor, and Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said "high priority" must be given the hiring.

Discussing three plans before the city—East Mill Valley, Alto and North Ridge — Councilman Michael Wornum said Cornish's resignation should be accepted subject to completion of Cornish's commitments, and asked that a letter be written spelling out projects Cornish has orally agreed to complete. These include the above three.

Wornum also said he was agitated because "Cornish said there was no need for a full-time planner at the last budget session. Subsequent to that he said he was too busy. I don't think this is responsible behavior. Now he (Cornish) suggests a fulltime planner. I don't know at this stage whether they (the planning commission) need a planner at all.

The council referred both the East Mill Valley plan and Alto plan back to the planning commission for further study.

The East Mill Valley plan concerns circulation in the area of Miller and Sycamore avenues and Camino Alto. The Alto plan concerns circulation between Highway 101 and Camino Alto along East Blithedale Avenue extension.

Manuel Gomez protested that a zoning hearing not be held on the North Ridge area until the county planning commission has completely studied the surrounding watershed area lying in the county. "If there is anything overdue, it is North Ridge," said Wornum. Both Wornum and Councilman George Blackwell agreed on this and Blackwell said Cornish, who planned the North Ridge, "should stay and see this thing through."

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks asked Mill Valley citizens to report any acts of vandalism and to conduct a vigilante committee to protect public property. He asked this after reporting that 15 per cent of the newly planted city trees had been "wantonly destroyed" Last weekend by vandals. "It's a sad commentary on our city," he said.

The council adopted a proclamation declaring Oct. 31 "UNICEF trick or treat holiday." The action backs the collection of money on Halloween to be used for food and medicine for children around the world.

The council also:

1. Adopted a resolution establishing "no parking" from 550 Miller Avenue to Gomez Way.

2. Decided to hold up until April a proposed repair of drainage problem at Meadow Road and Ashford Avenue.

3. Acknowledged receipt of $75 from Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agencies to purchase fire extinguishers for four police vehicles. This was a gift sent via Muller's General Insurance Agency of Mill Valley.

4. Asked Almcrants to investigate a lot at 30 Corte Madera, up for sale at $40,000, as possible property for city use.

Deer Hunter Found Guilty

He was fined $250 and his hunting license was suspended for three years by Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in place of Judge David R. Baty who had been recently disqualified from this case.

Baty had previously fined Leonard Groves, a milker on the Moreda ranch, $150, suspended his hunting license for three years, and ordered his rifle turned in to the California Department of Fish and Game on charges of hunting at night and with a spotlight and possession of a loaded rifle in a car. Moreda entered a plea of innocent at the time but waived right to a jury trial.

A total of 3,046 deer were killed by cars in Wisconsin in 1960, an increase of 55 from 1959.

JOHN STEINBECK
Sixth American to win

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — John Steinbeck, whose novel "The Grapes of Wrath" ranks as one of the classics of 20th century American letters, today was awarded the 1962 Nobel Prize for Literature.

Steinbeck, who rose to fame in the 1930s with novels and short stories that reflected the "common people" and the depressed economic conditions of the age, thus became the sixth American to receive the Nobel award.

The other five were William Faulkner, Ernest Hemingway, Sinclair Lewis, Pearl Buck, and playwright Eugene O'Neill.

Steinbeck was born on Feb. 27, 1902 in Salinas, Calif., a section that provided the background for many of his novels and stories.

Once, when asked to furnish biographic information, Steinbeck said:

"Please feel free to make up your own facts about me as you need them. I can't remember how much of me really happened and how much I invented . . . biography by its very nature must be half-fiction."

The Swedish Academy of Letters, in naming Steinbeck the recipient of the award, praised the American novelist for "his at one and the same time realistic and imaginative writings, distinguished as they are by a sympathetic humor and social perception."

Steinbeck's first three books sold only a few thousand copies and he languished in obscurity until the publication of "Tortilla Flat" in 1935.

"Tortilla Flat," is the story of Mexican and other foreign laborers in California.

Following the success of "Tortilla Flat," Steinbeck moved into the political realm with the publication of "In Dubious Battle," a portrait of background Communist movements in a strike of California fruit pickers.

One of his most sympathetic and famous novels was his next published "Of Mice and Men," the study of two itinerant farm hands.

Steinbeck received full critical acclaim in 1939 when "The Grapes of Wrath" was published.

Dealing with the Joad family and the misery they endure when forced to leave their land in Oklahoma and become "Okies" or migrant workers in California, Stenbeck's anger questioned the entire economic structure of a nation that could so blithely ignore private well-being.

Steinbeck's most recently published book was "Travels with Charley," a light, whimsical piece dealing with a trip the author and his dog (Charley) took across the United States.

However, it was apparent the Nobel committee selected Steinbeck not for any one work, but for his vast body of fiction.

Jury Trial Is Set For Ukiah Judge

UKIAH (AP)—A jury trial has been set for Dec. 3 for Judge Fred Goss of Ukiah, accused of deceit and collusion in Mendocino County war of warrants.

All are involved in the long-standing feud involving charges of corruption in the county's law enforcement. The situation currently is the subject of an extraordinary grand jury investigation.

THE WINNAH—AND NEW CHAMPEEN!

No, it's not a new kind of Halloween jack-o-lantern. It's a sugar cube with three drops of Sabin oral polio vaccine added (maybe for the eyes, nose and mouth?) giving itself a victory handshake for conquering poliomyelitis. Marin County, which turned out over 80 per cent of its residents for type 1 Sabin vaccine on the first K.O. Polio Sunday, is expected to do it again for type 2 on Nov. 4. Photographer Ken Molino concocted the fantasy of the tiny fighter.

Aid To Retarded Unit Will Hear Doctor Talk

Dr. Donald Dean, assistant superintendent of Sonoma State Hospital, will address Marin Aid to Retarded Children at 8 p.m. Nov. 19 in the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

RUNAWAY ALL WET, CAPTURED

Highway patrolmen yesterday turned over to Marin sheriff's deputies a wet, shivering 14-year-old parole violator from Oakland after cornering him in a culvert near Novato.

The youth, who told officers he ran away Tuesday night, had been paroled recently by the California Youth Authority, to which he was assigned for burglary and car theft.

Patrolman Keith Craig, driving south on Highway 101 near Novato, saw the youth walking north. Craig said the youth kept looking back over his shoulder after the patrol car passed him.

"I touched the brakes just to see what he would do," said Craig. "Sure enough, he dived for the ditch."

The youth ran through a field, crossed Novato Creek and swam a slough. He tried to hide in a culvert, but was captured there.

Marinite Named To Teacher Post

Frances Mason, fifth grade teacher at Laurel Dell School, has been named secretary of the California Assn. for Student Teaching.

The state group is affiliated with the American Assn. for Student Teaching with a membership composed of college professors, principals and supervising teachers.

Miss Mason has been a teacher in San Rafael city schools since 1951 and last year was president of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. She is now Marin County representative to the California Teachers Assn. state council.

Japanese Flower Expert For Show

A flower arrangement instructor and adviser from Japan will give two demonstrations Saturday afternoon during the annual chrysanthemum show at the Crocker-Anglo National Bank in San Rafael.

The 14th annual show, sponsored by the Marin Chrysanthemum Society, will be held in the bank lobby both Saturday and Sunday. The show opens at 2 p.m. Saturday and continues until 9:30 that night. Sunday hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Shuko Kobayashi, the flower arranging expert from Japan, will demonstrate at 3 p.m. and at 7 p.m. on Saturday. Last February, Kobayashi held demonstrations and a special workshop at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

On Sunday at 2 p.m., Homer F. Crowell of San Anselmo, chairman of the show, will use a special board of cut blooms to demonstrate the various types and varieties of chrysanthemums.

Ivan Johnson of Novato is co-chairman of the show.

Mrs. Russell F. Bjorn of San Rafael, arrangements chairman, announced that cash prizes, trophies and ribbons will go to winners in various categories. Live plants and cut blooms are expected to fill the lobby of the bank at Fourth and B Street in San Rafael.

Entries will be accepted at the bank from 7:30 p.m. Friday until the show opens Saturday at 2 p.m., Mrs. Bjorn announced.

Volunteers For Tax Campaign

Jules Becker of Ross, who has a San Francisco public relations firm, has agreed to serve as volunteer consultant for the Tamalpais High School District tax campaign, general chairman Edward W. Colthurst announced today.

Becker, with San Francisco newspaper editor Harry Press, was co-chairman of a Tam District campaign in 1959 which authorized the present $1.90 tax rate in the district.

The proposal, scheduled for the state general schools election in April, asks voters to retain the $1.90 basic operational tax rate, the rate to expire in 1964. For the current year, trustees have levied $1.86. In addition, the district levies 34 cents for bond redemption, retirement, and community services.

STATE PLANNING 627-FOOT HIGH BRIDGE

This is an artist's concept of the nation's second highest suspension bridge, a five-million-dollar span which the State Department of Water Resources will build across the Middle Fork of the Feather River in Butte County. It was made necessary by construction of Oroville Dam. The roadway will be 627 feet above the river bed. However, once the middle fork is filled, the water will come within 47 feet of the roadway. Only the Royal Gorge Bridge in Colorado is higher. The state will call for bids tomorrow.

'Hyde Park' Speechmaking At College

By FRED WYATT

A student who witnessed speechmaking in Hyde Park while living in London has brought the Hyde Park idea to College of Marin.

The student is Rick Gherman, 23, a business major, who gave opponents the business yesterday in the second weekly speaker's hour from a stump on the college main lawn.

"It's time," he told about 150 students in front of the library, to do something in this crisis with Russia over Cuba. I don't think Russia will back down. I think they'll try to run our blockade and we'll have an old fashioned shooting war. I hope the American people are ready."

Gherman, who spent three-and-one-half years in the American Army in Germany and then several months living in other European countries, was followed to the stump by Robert Stockwell, 19, head of the new Young Republican club on the campus.

"This is not a partisan issue," he said, urging students to send wires to President John F. Kennedy to express their feelings over his stand with Russia. He said wires so far had gone "12 to one in favor of his decision."

A student who identified himself as Mike Woods addressed the group in opposition to Proposition 24, the proposed Francis anti-Communist amendment, which he said was opposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Richard M. Nixon, the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles Times and California State Democratic Committee.

Jim Lucas, star end on the football team, said he had heard on the radio at noon that "Khrushchev backed down" by deciding not to have his ships try to reach Cuba "so I guess there's not going to be war."

Gherman spoke again, saying "I'm glad the Cuban problem is solved."

Gherman said "We can't trust the Russians" and expressed hope that "we won't be pushed around by those damned Reds." He said they kept grabbing land all over the world unless halted, "I'm for dropping bombs."

Other students spoke until it was 1 p.m. and Gherman thanked the students for their participation and disconnected the speaker system.

The speaker's hour will be held every Wednesday noon, he said. Gherman, a native of San Francisco, attended University of California at Santa Barbara before coming to Marin. He intends to go into the real estate business.

Car Collides With Deer On Highway

Pedro F. Elizondo, a gardener living at 2025 Shady Lane, Novato, was driving his station wagon north down St. Vincent's Hill north of Marinwood at 1:30 p.m. when the animal crossed the freeway from the left.

Elizondo said he braked hard but struck and killed the deer which shattered his left front headlight and the left side of the windshield. He refused hospitalization for minor cuts.

Haiti is second only to the United States as the oldest republic in the Western Hemisphere. Haitian independence was proclaimed Jan. 1, 1804.

Peninsula Group Might Expand

Reorganization of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council was considered at last night's council meeting because of increased interest in common problems among peninsula residents.

The council has been restricted to elected delegates from peninsula organizations such as homeowner groups and local districts. But William H. Rafter, council chairman, said there are many new residents who are concerned about community problems including taxes, bridges and planning controls.

The council will seek to open its membership to anyone interested, Rafter said, and may be formed along the lines of a town forum.

APPEALS—Pope John XXIII has appealed to the world's rulers to work harder then ever to keep peace. His appeal was contained in a worldwide broadcast. (AP Wirephoto)

Pope Makes Special Appeal For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) Pope John XXIII, showing deep concern over the Cuban crisis, appealed urgently to the world's rulers to do everything in their power to save peace.

The 80-year-old pontiff made the plea in a surprise broadcast beamed around the world by the Vatican radio. He apparently decided on the plea only a few hours before the broadcast started.

The Pope spoke for two and a half minutes, supplicating the world leaders to do all they can for peace.

"By so doing they will spare the world the horrors of a war that could have disastrous consequences such as nobody can foresee," he said.

"Let them continue to negotiate because this loyal and open attitude is of great value as a witness in the face of history.

"To promote, favor and accept negotiations, at all levels and at all times, is a rule of wisdom and prudence which calls down the blessings of heaven and earth."

Many of the thousands of Roman Catholic Ecumenical prelates here for the Vatican Ecumenical Council were unaware of the Pope's decision to speak. The council was in recess today.

Pope John said the council had just opened amid joy and hope of all men of good will, but "threatening clouds now come to darken again the international horizon and to sow fear in millions of families.

The Pope concluded his brief radio appeal by asking all Christians to "join their prayers to ours in order to obtain from heaven the gift of peace —a peace which will be true and lasting only if it is based on justice and equality."

KTIM Covering Current Crisis

Full radio news coverage of the international situation is being offered by Marin's radio stations KTIM-AM and FM, news editor Karl Barron announced today.

While the station's normal policy is to devote two-thirds of each newscast to local happenings, Barron said this has been changed during the present crisis.

Local news will be condensed to allow full international coverage on every broadcast. In addition, bulletins as they are received from United Press International will interrupt all programming.

News is heard on KTIM at 7:30, 8:45 and 10 a.m., noon, 1:05, 2, 4 and 5:30 p.m., with a final edition on FM at 9:45 p.m.

Carrow Charges Bagley Uses State Funds On His 'Image'

"Immoral and possibly illegal practices" were charged today by Robert D. Carrow, Novato Democratic candidate for the state assembly, against incumbent Republican William T. Bagley of San Rafael.

Carrow said in a KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer that Bagley improperly diverted state funds to a "professional image builder" in the person of Price Hall of San Rafael, listed in the phone book as a public relations man but hired by Bagley as legislative assistant.

Declaring that he was asking investigation by the Marin and Sonoma grand juries, Carrow demanded reply by Bagley.

"A desperate effort to gain a few votes . . . a farce" Bagley called the attack. He said Hall had been paid from campaign funds during the campaign and at other times had sometimes received the maximum $300 monthly allowed for an assistant, at times getting as little as $100.

Bagley said Hall had performed necessary and legal functions through handling phone calls and mail classification.

"I don't wish to descend to mud-slinging," said Carrow. "There is no question but that there is a great deal of work for an assistant as is recognized by the legislature's provision of $300 a month.

"The question is whether this should be directed toward a professional image builder."

Bagley retorted that "funds were not used to build an image of me and I don't feel that it is needed—I build my own image.

He added that Hall has a "small public relations business in addition to assisting me in a legislative capacity."

The hour-long discussion, which will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday by tape recording, got down to issues off and on with Carrow attacking what he characterized generally as a "bad vote" record defended by Bagley as constructive.

Bagley objected to being tied to the San Francisco-Tiburon bridge proposal as his sole contribution to traffic solution and said he favored a coordinated authority, with attention to such needs as a parallel to Highway 101.

Carrow said he favored Supervisor Peter Behr's plan for a bridge first paralleling the Bay Bridge, then swinging along the East Bay to connect with the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge giving a route to downtown San Francisco of about the present distance across the Golden Gate and also adaptable to rapid transit.

On the death penalty, Bagley favored its retention as a deterrent though saying its application should be made more fair, while Carrow felt it should go along with other "barbaric practices" of the past.

Tam School Unification Move Gets Setback

Possibility of a giant, unified school district that would put all elementary and high schools within the Tamalpais Union High School District under one administration and one governing body was set back last night.

A motion placed before the Marin County Augmented Committee on School District Organization to recommend such a district was tabled by a 15 to five vote. The action came during a four and one-half hour meeting of the augmented committee that stretched into the yawning hours in Ruby Scott Auditorium at Tamalpais High School.

When the augmented committee adjourned at 12:30 a.m. today, the regular meeting of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, which makes up the core of the augmented committee, was called to order. The seven members still present voted unanimously to include the West Marin and Point Reyes elementary school districts in the Tamalpais unification study.

The action was hailed by four residents of the West Marin district, including Mrs. David Baty, a member of the West Marin Elementary District board. She said that since the State Board of Education's recent rejection of a Tomales High School Unification, the only alternative West Marin and Point Reyes Districts have is to join some other high school district.

The effect of the action in including the two additional districts will be to force the committee to hold at least three more meetings before making a recommendation on unification in the Tamalpais District.

But it was evident last night that the augmented committee is far from agreement on any recommendation and at least three more meetings will be in order.

Edwin L. Blackmore, coordinator of rural education for the county schools office and assistant secretary of the district organization committee, touched off the discussion last night by presenting tax and attendance figures for four possible areas of unification: the Redwood High School attendance area, the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area, the Tamalpais High School attendance area and the Tamalpais District as a whole.

Based on the 1961-62 assessed values in these areas, the tax rate needed to raise the same amount of school money raised in these areas during that year would be $4.43 per $100 of assessed valuation in Redwood, $4.19 in Drake, $3.79 in Tamalpais and $4.18 in the district as a whole.

There was considerable discussion and debate over the validity of these figures, but members of the committee agreed that the figures could serve as "guides" in the discussion.

Doris Harnsberger, a trustee from the San Anselmo School District, said that a three-way split of the district along attendance area lines would impose serious inequities.

She figured that tax revenues per pupil, including local, state and federal tax revenues, would range from $682 in Drake, to $859 in Tamalpais to $974 in Redwood.

After considerable discussion Robert E. Rogers, a committee member from San Rafael, observed that the three-way, attendance area split held the possibility of endangering education for some and benefiting only a few. He moved that the augmented committee adopt a tentative recommendation in favor of unifying the Tamalpais district as a whole.

Roger Morse, a committee member from San Rafael, seconded the motion.

Main issue in the debate that followed was that such action would rule out all other alternatives—alternatives that have not yet been fully considered by the committee. Strongest protest came from members of the Reed Elementary School District who favor a unified district on the Tiburon Peninsula that would split the Redwood attendance area.

Blackmore explained that adoption of the resolution would force the committee into public hearings on the large, unified district alone. Adoption or rejection of the proposal as a recommendation to the state board of education would take place when the hearings were over.

Rogers' motion never came to a vote. J. R. B. Ellis, Kentfield trustee, moved that it be tabled. Fay Jensen, Fairfax trustee, seconded.

Morse, Rogers, Committeeman Jean Kallmayer of San Rafael, and the Lagunitas and San Anselmo elementary districts cast the only votes against tabling.

In the augmented committee, each school district in the study area involved has one vote. Sausalito and Nicasio elementary school districts were not represented, and William L. Blair of Fairfax and Alex Mitchell of Tomales, members of the district organization committee were absent last night.

During a recess, trustees from various districts were asked to caucus on the three-way attendance area split.

Kentfield, Ross and Reed districts were against a district as a whole. Lagunitas, Fairfax and San Anselmo were against any action that would place Drake in a district by itself. Mill Valley and Bolinas-Stinson were undecided.

Helen Wallace of Belvedere, chairman of the committee, suggested that the augmented committee at its next meeting Nov. 28 hear the Reed proposal and hear also what could be offered by a giant, district-wide unification. The two, contrasting proposals, she thought, would give committee members "points of reference" in the discussion.

Members agreed to this and then voted to adjourn.

The augmented committee will meet Nov. 28. The committee's next regular meeting will be Nov. 21.

Navy Reserve Officer Exam Deadline Nov. 16

Summit Feeler Eases Fears In Europe

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's summit feeler today eased European fears that the Soviet Union and the United States might go to war over Cuba.

Demonstrations protesting the U.S. blockade of arms shipments to Cuba still flared around the globe. Some neutralist nations lined up in opposition to Washington's action.

America's allies in Europe rallied behind the United States. So did those in Latin America, and a number offered military aid to help enforce the blockade of Fidel Castro's Cuba.

A Soviet Embassy official in London asserted arms supplied to Cuba by Moscow are not fitted with nuclear warheads.

Khrushchev's suggestion that "a meeting at the highest level would be useful to discuss all questions that have arisen and to eliminate the threat of nuclear war" was contained in a message to Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher who campaigns for nuclear disarmament.

The West German government representative in West Berlin, Felix Von Eckardt, said he feels world peace will be in acute danger only if the Soviets walk out of the U.N. Security Council.

Demonstrations, most of them anti-American, continued on both sides of the iron curtain.

In London, 500 demonstrators trying to march on the U.S. Embassy fought with police. There was a rash of marches and petitions throughout Britain.

There were demonstrations against the U.S. in Communist Hungary and Poland.

Pro-Castro demonstrators also marched in Milan, Italy. In Rome pro-American youths fought with leftist union demonstrators. Demonstrators for and against Castro clashed outside the U.S. Embassy in Oslo.

Radio Peiping said Communist China agrees with the Soviet Union that a naval blockade of Cuba is "an act of aggression."

Algeria's ruling political bureau declared Algerian solidarity with "the valiant Cuban people." It called the blockade aggression.

An official statement from the United Arab Republic assailed the blockade and urged a peaceful settlement of the U.S.-Soviet dispute.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cuban crisis captured the attention in the campaign for California's governorship today with a somber announcement and a challenge by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The Democratic governor last night called off most of his campaign appearances between now and election day because of the international situation.

At the same time, he challenged his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, to forget the communism issue during the current emergency.

Brown announced plans to fly to Washington for a governors' civil defense meeting Saturday and said he was "immediately moving back into my Sacramento office." Brown has spent most of his time during the campaign in Los Angeles.

"Let us agree here and now to remove this ugly and divisive kind of material from the campaign," he said.

Nixon told newsmen he does not consider it necessary to alter his campaign because of Cuban developments.

He said he would not cancel any campaign appearances, even if Brown did.

"I haven't been invited to Washington," Nixon said. "I hold no state office that requires my presence. I would have no excuse for canceling my engagements."

Asked if he would acede to a previous request by Brown to stop talking about communism and confine the campaign to "state issues," Nixon told reporters:

"I am going to continue to campaign on state issues. As far as I am concerned, I have been talking about state issues."

Today in a speech prepared for a service club meeting in the Los Angeles suburb of Pico Rivera, Nixon said "one area in which citizen organizations can make great contributions to the fight against communism is in crime prevention and upholding respect for the law."

In other political developments:

1. Brown turned down a demand by Assemblyman John Busterud, GOP candidate for state treasurer that he investigate the conduct of Democratic State Treasurer Bert Betts. Betts has been accused by Busterud of conflict of interest.

2. Republicans organized a "truth squad" to follow Brown around on his campaign travels. Then they learned Brown had called off most of his campaign.

WHY BOB CARROW ISN'T RUNNING ALL HIS ADS DURING THE LAST WEEK OF THE CAMPAIGN

That's the "right" way to do things, you know. A study at Michigan State University showed that many candidates spend about 70% of their advertising budgets during the last 36 hours of the campaign.

Trying to blitz you, the voter, into changing your mind, if only for two or three days. And then you have two years to wish maybe you hadn't.

Bob Carrow, the Democratic candidate for Assembly from Marin-Sonoma, feels that it's pretty important that you make your decision at leisure, on the basis of the men and the issues, not the last minute folderol and flagwaving.*

So now, while there are still a few weeks left, we ask you to consider carefully the merits of Robert Carrow (the Democrat) — and his opponent, W*llm B*gl*y (the R*p*bl*c*n).

We urge you to stop by your nearest Democratic headquarters (in San Rafael, Novato, Santa Rosa, Cloverdale, Petaluma or Sonoma) and pick up all the little folders that tell about Bob Carrow, the man and his platform. (Of course the good ladies there will doubtless load you down with Pat Brown, Stanley Mosk, and Woodrow Wilson bumper stickers. Just remember Bob Carrow is the bald one).

Then we suggest you stop by R*p*bl*c*n headquarters and collect some of the W*llm B*gl*y handouts. Compare the two now, while there's still time to get your questions answered and your opinions organized.

And we'll bet that you'll agree along with us, that Bob Carrow (the Democrat) is the better man to represent you in the State Assembly.

*—Oh, we're going to run a full-page ad in all the dailies on election eve, too. Doesn't everyone? Bob Carrow's however, may be a bit different.

HAPPY PIGEON—Pacific Telephone linemen have found a friendly pigeon called "Ma Bell" — or she's found them. "Ma" turned up last week at the company's equipment yard in San Rafael and seems to have made the yard her home. Gil Johannesen (left) holds the pigeon while Richard Morgan offers her some food. PIGEON HOLES UP

Telephone Company Is Getting The Bird

A blue-gray homing pigeon has made a pigeon out of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Down at the phone company's equipment yard at 98 Louise Street, San Rafael, they're calling the bird "Ma Bell." She's there to stay. The linemen have decided to adopt her—because she's adopted them.

The truck went out on a two-day job at Point Reyes. Ma stayed with it, perfectly content despite the winding road.

Back in San Rafael, they tried again to get her to fly away home. Nothing doing. That truck was home, to the pigeon.

Yesterday, Richardson and Polacchi took the truck on a job in Woodacre—with the pigeon as passenger. But when Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean showed up to take the stow-away's picture, she had vanished.

"Well, that's that," said Richardson and Polacchi. "We've got rid of the pigeon."

But about that time, a pigeon landed in an identical truck which linemen Walter Simonds and George Flanders had left for a grease job at a Chevron service station on Francisco Boulevard, directly in front of the phone company yard.

Sure enough, it was Ma Bell.

Richardson and Polacchi were feeling a little out of it today. Ma was happy as a lark (or a pigeon) in Simonds' and Flanders' truck.

They're her pigeons.

JFK Clears His Desk Of Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today signed the last two money bills passed by the 87th Congress, completing enactment of a record peacetime total of $102,262,154,659 in appropriations.

The measures were among 11 signed into law by the president. This cleared his desk of legislation approved by the Congress before it left the capital.

The other measures included legislation cutting taxes immediately for all persons over 65 who have big retirement incomes.

Total funds voted by Congress to operate the government this year has been exceeded only twice before—both times during World War II.

The measures signed today provided $5,487,029,500 for the Agriculture Department and $5,069,134,000 for public works projects and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Prisoner Who Escaped Camp Arrested In Washington, D.C.

Patrick Morehouse, 32, a San Quentin inmate who escaped from a Mendocino County work camp a week ago, was in custody in Washington, D.C. facing charges of assault and possible involvement in a murder, Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said yesterday.

Frady said San Quentin authorities were notified of Morehouse's arrest by teletype from the metropolitan police in Washington.

Morehouse was being held for authorities at Seat Pleasant, Md., for alleged assault on a police officer. Washington police said the escapee may also be involved in a murder in Hereford County, Md.

Morehouse crosswired a car and drove off from the Parlin Fork Conservation Camp on Oct. 18, Frady said. He was sentenced to prison for assault with a deadly weapon in Alameda County in 1957.

Morehouse's wife and mother live in Washington, Frady said.

How Did Green Bay Become A Power In NFL? Here's Answer

HANLEY

How did Vince Lombardi convert Green Bay's cellar dwellers into champions in three years? He used a simple formula. But then all complicated problems become simple once solved. Green Bay's problem was extremely complicated when Lombardi went to work on it in 1959. The Packers had won just one of 12 league games in 1958, their worst season in 40 years.

Civic pride and team morale had dipped so low following the 1958 season that the late Bert Bell, then commissioner of the National Football League, feared Green Bay would drop out of the NFL. Bell didn't want that to happen because Green Bay cradled pro football in 1919. Bell convinced the multiple owners of the Packers they needed a strong man who would be the absolute voice in the front office and also on the field. What did the numerous small stockholders have to lose? They agreed.

BELL THEN went to Wellington Mara, owner of the New York Giants, who agreed to let Lombardi go if Bell could sweet talk him into taking the job as general manager and head coach of the Packers. At the time Lombardi was Jim Lee Howell's No. 1 aide with the Giants. A persuasive talker, Bell convinced Lombardi who not only was in line to succeed Howell but had lived his entire life in and about New York.

Lombardi's qualifications for the job were sound. Hadn't he been one of Fordham's "seven blocks of granite" in the '30s? And didn't he coach a New Jersey high school team to a string of 36 wins before becoming freshman coach at Fordham whence he moved to a five year career at Army as Earl Blaik's assistant? It was from the Army in 1954 that Lombardi made the big jump to the pros as Howell's assistant.

LOTS OF COACHES had comparable qualifications but Lombardi also had some extra —a law degree from Fordham that he earned following his basic college degree in 1937. That legal training was as important as his football background because the Green Bay job called for dual hats—general manager and head coach.

One of Lombardi's first acts as general manager now has become a favorite story in Green Bay, part of the community's legend. But it was no legend at the time it happened. Lombardi slashed the Packers' political pass list drastically, even lopping the "dead heads" of city supervisors from the free list.

Lombardi was just as tough with the football team. It sounded corny when he announced his simple formula to the veterans. Blocking and tackling. "They are the basics and that's where we are starting," Lombardi told the Packers.

BLOCKING and tackling comprised 90 per cent of the spring training for the '59 Packers. It was obvious to Lombardi that talent also was lacking in the Packer forward wall. Bell had promised to use his influence in getting the Packers help. It wasn't coincidence that Paul Brown, another general manager-head coach, provided three-fourths of the Packer defensive line from Cleveland—Willie Davis, Bill Quinlan and Henry Jordan.

Lombardi now was ready to announce his attack strategy. "We are not going to attack the foe at his soft spots," Lombardi told the team. "We are going to attack his strength. His weaknesses then become weaker than ever."

That '59 Packer team tied for third with a 7-5 record, a sensational rebound from the 1-10-1 record of '58. The Packers won the Western Division title in 1960 and last year whipped (37-0) the Giants whom Lombardi once helped coach, for the NFL championship.

Medic Doubts Cepeda's Eye Is Serious

By HUBERT J. ERB

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Orlando Cepeda, the San Francisco Giants' slugging first baseman, has eye trouble but the specialist who will examine him Monday says he doubts if the problem is anything as serious as a cataract.

Cepeda, a batting disappointment in the World Series with only three hits in 19 at-bats, revealed his concern over eye trouble yesterday. The 1961 National League home run and runs batted in king said he thought the trouble might be a cataract in his right eye.

Cepeda said he first learned about the condition last week when he took a driver's test.

"I couldn't see out of my right eye," he said. "Left eye, okay. Right eye bad. I went to a doctor who told me I may have a cataract. I am going back to the doctor for another examination before I go home to Puerto Rico."

Dr. George S. Campion, the opthalmologist employed by the Giants, said a cataract condition in Cepeda's eye "without a previous injury or inflammatory condition would be highly unusual."

Admitting that he had not examined Cepeda since 1959, Dr. Campion said there is reasonable doubt Cepeda suffers from an ailment of a cataract nature.

President Horace Stoneham of the Giants said "apparently, there is no cause for alarm. Such a condition would explain why he was missing the ball by six inches. If it is what Orlando says, minor surgery can be performed immediately."

Stoneham said Cepeda had been ordered to report to Dr. Campion Monday when the first baseman returns from a weekend trip.

Cepeda hit 46 home runs and drove in 142 runs for the Giants in 1961. He was hitting at a .352 clip in June this season when he began to tail off. He finished up at .306. During one month, he failed to hit even one homer.

"I was tired," said Cepeda, recalling the slump. He said he told Giants' trainer Ernie Bowman he thought his eyes were bothering him.

Montana May Get Rematch

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The hottest fight town in United States, if you can believe promoter Norman Rothschild, is Bozeman, Mont.

"And where is Bozeman?" asked a sportswriter. "I've just barely heard of it."

"Bozeman," said the Rothschild, "is in Montana, near Yellowstone Park. And if we can hold the next Gene Fullmer-Dick Tiger bout there for the middleweight championship, I can guarantee that we'll have a gate of at least $150,000."

Bozeman, according to the postal guide, has a population of around 15,000 persons. San Francisco area, with a population of around 4,000,000, put only $101,000 into the box office till for the same fight the other night.

When is the fight to be held?

SNOW PROBLEM

"We'll hold it on Jan. 19, if possible," says Rothschild. "And don't worry about the town being buried in snow at that time. Even if it is, the good people of Bozeman will come to the fight—by dog sled or any way they have to get there."

Rothschild has had a bit of experience in Bozeman before. He staged the Fullmer-Joey Giardello fight there in April, 1960, and grossed approximately $140,000 at the gate.

Rothschild has a contract to stage the return match between the two gladiators who hit each other with everything except lightning Tuesday at Candlestick Park with Tiger the victor. The contract calls for the bout to be held either in Bozeman or Las Vegas, Nev.

Jersey Jones, the veteran manager of Tiger, isn't sure either place is the right one.

L.A. OR S.F.

"How about Los Angeles, or a return bout right here in San Francisco?" asked Jersey, who has been around the fight game longer than most people have lived.

"We'd be interested in it for New York," said Harry Markson, of Madison Square Garden.

"Las Vegas would furnish the biggest gate," said Jim Deskin, chairman of the Nevada Athletic Commission.

"Wait a minute," chimes in Rothschild. "Don't forget Bozeman. "There's a r-e-a-l fight town."

Giants Get Record Payoff For Losers

NEW YORK (UPI)—There was $2,591.25 a man riding on the pitch which Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees retired Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants for the last putout of the World Series.

And there was at least $5,400 a man riding on the pitch with which Stan Williams of the Los Angeles Dodgers walked home the Giants' winning run in the third game of the National League's playoff.

The first amount is the difference between the full winner's shore of $9,882.74 which will go to 34 Yankees and the full loser's share of $7,291.49 which will go to 29 Giants. And the second is the difference between the relatively paltry $1,860.63 which will go to the Dodgers for finishing second and the lowest amount they could have won in the World Series.

The figures, announced yesterday by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, represent the third highest winner's share and the highest loser's share in World Series history.

The Yankees displayed their customary generosity by voting large amounts to several players who spent only part of the season with them. They voted full shares to Dale Long, who didn't join the club until mid-July, and to Joe Pepitone, who spent part of the season with Richmond of the International League. In addition they voted a half share of $4,941.36 to Bob Cerv, who spent only the early part of the season with them, and voted a cash award of $1,000 to Hector Brown, who appeared in only two games near the end of the season.

Both Yankee trainers and one clubhouse man received full shares and three quarter shares went to batting practice pitcher Spud Murray and a second clubhouse man. Cash awards of $500 or $1,000 went to various other part-time players.

The Giants showed similar generosity with full shares going to catcher John Orsino, a two-thirds share to Manny Mota and half-shares to Bob Garibaldi, Gaylord Perry and a second clubhouse man.

The 1959 Dodgers received the biggest winner's shares in series history, $11,231.18, while the 1954 Giants were second highest with full shares worth $11,147.90 each.

The previous high loser's share was the $7,275.17 received by the 1949 White Sox.

The second-place Dodgers and Minnesota Twin each will receive $64,746.13 to be split among their members; the third-place Los Angeles Angels and Cincinnati Reds got $43,164.08, and the fourth-place Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates got $21,582.04 for fourth place.

Total gate receipts for the series came to $2,878,891.11. In addition to the $863,281.71 which went to the players, the New York club, the San Francisco club, and the American and National League offices received a total of $1,583,775.74 while the commissioner's office got $431,833.66.

Uncle Sam's tax collector was in on the act, too, toting away $250,122.14 in tax money . . . without throwing a pitch.

Grid Fatalities Mushroom; Helmet Controversy Flares

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football fatalities continue to mushroom toward the 25-year peak total of 36 in 1961 with the deaths of two teen-age players in accidents connected with the contact sport, bringing the unofficial number for the 1962 season to 18.

The latest additions to the list of players who have died as a direct or indirect result of football injuries came within a 24-hour period yesterday when the deaths of Mike Mallory, 17, and James Lucian Baudin, 18, were reported.

Mallory, a senior starting guard from Gallup, N.M., high school, apparently died of a head injury after collapsing on the practice field. Baudin, a freshman at Louisiana State University at Alexandria, suffered a skull fracture in an intramural touch football game.

Mallory's coach, Pete Hurst, said the youth had not complained of an injury or of being ill when he came up for a talk with the coach.

"The was standing there and all of a sudden fell over," said Hurst

Mallory's death was the 13th in high schools this year, Baudin's the second in sandlot play. Three collegians also have died. Last year, there were 21 high school deaths, 8 sandlot, 6 college and 1 semi pro.

Most of the football fatalities have occurred in practice sessions — only four have been attributable to actual competition. And in those four cases, two were sandlot accidents, where it is assumed inferior equipment was used. The main cause seems to be head injuries

And here the controversy over the helmet enters, leaving that issue in somewhat of a stalemate.

At the beginning of the year, sportswriters replying to an A.P. survey designated the hard plastic helmet with its big face bars as the No. 1 cause of accidents on the field. In May, however, the American Medical Assn. said the plastic helmet in general use is the best yet tried.

This week Fritz Crisler NCAA Rules Committee chairman and University of Michigan athletic director, said that the latest blocking technique — blocking with the head and the hard plastic headgear—has increased head and neck injuries by 82 per cent on all football levels.

Giants Drop Bob Nieman

The San Francisco Giants announced today the release of outfielder Bob Nieman and the appearance of four new faces on the 40-man roster. The additions are pitchers Robert Bishop, John Pregenzer and Albert Stanek and outfielder Jim McLain.

Nieman was purchased in April of this season from the Cleveland Indians. The Giants were the seventh team Nieman has played for since breaking into the major leagues with the St. Louis Browns in 1951. Used mainly as a pinch hitter by the Giants during the 1962 season, Nieman appeared in 30 games with 31 at bats. He hit one home run, got 9 hits and had a batting average of .290.

Lakers Lose 4th Straight Tilt, 118-107

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers literally came within an inch of dethroning Boston as the National Basketball Assn. kingpins last season. This year, the experts said, they'll go all the way.

Instead, they seem to be determined to go all the way to the bottom.

The Chicago Zephyrs, getting a fine defensive performance from Woody Sauldsberry, handed the Lakers their fourth straight loss, 118-107 last night. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 121-114 in the only other league action.

Redwood Runners Win Cross Country Event

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Dennis Schunk, tough linebacker for the Redwood Giants who are tied with Tam for the lead in the Marin Athletic League football race, is the Independent-Journal's Athlete of the Week for his defensive play in the Redwood-Drake game last Friday. Schunk, a 16-year-old junior who stands 5-10 and weighs 165 pounds, made 14 unassisted tackles in the contest which Redwood won 12-6. Head Giant grid coach Bob Troppmann says Schunk "has terrific linebacker instinct and is pound-for-pound one of the best linebackers in the county."

Injuns Drill On Offense At Goal Line

STANFORD (UPI)—Coach Jack Curtice does not want to see a repetition of Stanford's performance last week against Washington when the Cards repeatedly failed to move the final 10 yards for touchdowns.

He drilled the team yesterday on goal line offense. The Cards take off tomorrow for their game with UCLA in which they hope to break a three-game loss streak.

CAL CONFUSION

BERKELEY — All was still confusion today in the California Bears' search to come up with a quarterback for Saturday's tussle with tough Penn State.

Larry Balliett received a head injury against USC last week and was expected to get the final word from doctors today on whether he could play Saturday. Craig Morton, out all last year with an injury, might be ready and Jerry Morton, also hurt last Saturday, is also a question mark.

SPARTAN INJURIES

SAN JOSE—San Jose State came up with injuries to both its punters in an afternoon scrimmage yesterday, but Coach Bob Titchenal says he thinks one or the other will be available for Saturday's homecoming clash with New Mexico.

Halfback Bob Patterson suffered a back injury, thought to be a muscle spasm, while Larry Doss, also a halfback, injured an ankle.

UOP PROMOTIONS

STOCKTON—Center Roger Higdon and fullback Bill Kutzer were on the first unit today as the University of Pacific worked out for Saturday night's clash with unbeaten Washington State.

The Tigers yesterday held an intensive pass drill, while the linemen worked on tackling. Coach John Rhode then announced the promotion of Higdon and Kutzer.

WIMBLEDON BLOCKADES GALS' FANCY PANTIES

LONDON (UPI)—The eyes of British Lawn Tennis officialdom frowned today on ladies panties—as worn at Wimbledon.

The London Daily Express reported today that the 12-man Lawn Tennis Championship Committee met in secret session last night in a room over a London restaurant and reached a "major decision" about next year's Wimbledon championships.

"Pink panties will not be allowed," reported the newspaper. "Nor blue panties, nor green panties, nor panties considered by the committee to be of 'extravagant design'."

The trend for "fancy panties" started by America's "Georgeous Gussie" Moran is at an end, it appeared. In future Wimbledon play, the newspaper said, "there will be no more mink or gold or shocking pink."

Rams To Get Tough For 49er Struggle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams are going all out in preparation for their Sunday game in San Francisco against the 49ers.

Coach Bob Waterfield has issued orders against unnecessary conversation in the workouts. The players are working in full harness instead of the light pads usually worn. The head-knocking has been for real.

With a record of 0 and 6, the Rams can't very well hope for victory against the 49ers. But if they can play as well as they did when they held Detroit to a narrow victory two weeks ago, they might give San Francisco a few anxious moments.

'GET TOUGH'

General Manager Elroy Hirsch said the Ram coaching staff abandoned the usual "get tough" attitude when the preseason camp was established at Orange, hoping that friendly relations between veterans and newcomers would build a close team spirit and pay dividends.

"But apparently it hasn't worked," said Hirsch, "so Waterfield is making certain adjustments in the workouts. The players continue to support the coaching staff and they admit that the mistakes they have made are their fault, not that of the coaches."

HICKEY KNOWS RAM WEAKNESS BUT WON'T TELL

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers claims to know that what the Los Angeles Rams' troubles are in going zero for six in NFL play this season.

"I just hope it lasts through one more game," he said today, but he wouldn't disclose the Rams' weakness.

Somebody pointed out that latest league starts show the Prospectors dead last in passing in the league with only 631 yards in six contests.

He said the decline of the air game came when first the team expected to score too easily with big bombs early in the season and later turned into a hard-nosed running team that has, in Hickey's words "won three out of four games playing tough head-to-head ball. So long as they win, I don't care what the passing figures show."

Seals Defenseman Hero In 3-2 Win Over Stampeders

BY U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A hockey defenseman who scores two goals is the happiest man this side of a football linebacker who scores a touchdown.

Enjoying that euphoria today is Maurice Mantha, a defensive stalwart for the San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League. Mantha scored twice and Len Haley added another as the Seals edged Calgary last night, 3-2, at Calgary.

In the only other game on the WHL card Bob Solinger's last-minute goal enabled the Los Angeles Blades to nip Portland, 4-3.

Mantha, who had not worried a goalie all season prior to last night's game, hit twice within the first four minutes of the second period, Erasing a 2-1 lead which the stampeders had built up in the first stanza.

Willows Pheasant Assn. Openings

Marinites interested in joining the Willows Pheasant Assn. should write to the association at Willows, California, announced Father John McGoldrick of St. Monica's Catholic Church in Willows.

He said the association will release 1,000 rooster pheasants shortly before the season opens. The group has 40,000 acres of hunting reserved for the coming season.

Father McGoldrick founded the Willows Pheasant Assn 13 years ago.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Salmon Trolling Favors Few; Here Are Some Good Reports

Salmon trolling outside the Gate continues to favor the few and by-passes the many. From Caruso's Sid McMullin we learn that the fish per boat ran between four and seven; but some of the few were weighty ones—up to 40 pounds.

Most of the local salmon fleet stayed in their respective harbors on Monday because of pea-soup fog but, with somewhat better conditions on Tuesday, a few of the did get out but apparently action was no better.

Speaking of foggy weather, seems like it has effected the striped bass in the upper San Pablo Bay. Some fair catches have been reported, but there has been a decided drop in the overall average per rod.

THE LADS who offer a properly rigged bullhead to the stripers continue to outclass the sardine and anchovy tossers.

In all the reports to hand, I find that 90 per cent of the bigger bass have been taken on bullheads. For example, Frank Josephs reported a duo of diehards who fished Saturday and came in with six lunkers from 10 to 18 pounds. Joseph(of Joseph's Resort at Rodeo) insists that there are plenty of fish around, but the majority of anglers refuse to heed his advice to fish close to shore with bullheads. Instead they follow the party boats downstream where fishing has fallen off considerably.

THINGS ARE different on the Marin side of the bay, though. For about the first time in months, such spots as the Pump House, the shell banks and Coregidor have paid off. Joe Nerviani, of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia and Grace Quan of China Camp are in better spirits as a result of the influx of fine looking bass. Joe told me that on Tuesday, Oscar Nelson and John Wiberg took easy limits from seven to nine pounds on the incoming tide; Ed Majesky and friend had six bass from 10 to 13 pounds Sunday, and on Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. McGowan unloaded limits from five to eight pounds. Understand, please, other fish by other anglers were caught over the weekend—a lot of them, but I have no other names of local Marinites.

Bullhead fishing for stripers at Dillon's Point (water too muddy for plugging) has paid off the Scotts, Ruth and hubby. One day, a nine and a 16, and yesterday, an eight and a 14.

MRS. LAGRONE reported some very nice catches being made on bullheads—large bass, and ditto with sardines but not so large.

Anyone interested in competing in a bass derby should know that the annual San Leandro Bass Derby gets under way this Saturday and Sunday. No restrictions as to locale fished, and some swell prizes to be awarded. Take a drive to South County and pick up a ticket for you might be a winner. Lots of fish coming into the San Leandro Marina these days. They're being caught all over the south bay waters all the way to the San Mateo Bridge on bullheads, sardines and live shiners. More than 100 dandies were registered at the Marina on Sunday. Weigh-in and starting times? From 8 A.M. to 8 P.M.

4 Grid Games In Marin This Week; 1 Away

A College of Marin and three high school football games will be held in Marin this weekend, and one high school game will be played across the bay.

The College of Marin Tars, undefeated in four games this season, will host the gridders of Yuba College in a Golden Valley Conference contest tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in College of Marin stadium.

In Marin Athletic League action, Tamalpais will battle San Rafael tomorrow at 8 p.m. on the S.R. Bulldog field, Terra Linda will host Novato Saturday at 1:30 p.m., and Marin Catholic and Drake will clash at College of Marin stadium Saturday at 8 p.m. Redwood draws a bye.

The San Rafael Military Academy Cadets will tangle with the California School for the Deaf in Berkeley across the bay tomorrow at 3:15 p.m. in a Bay Counties League game.

Teresa Carlisle Is Swim Champ

Teresa Carlisle of the Marin Pirates swim club took a first place in the 100-yard breaststroke for children 10 and under during the San Francisco Park and Recreation swim meet in San Francisco's Balboa Park over the weekend.

Other Marin Pirate swimmers who finished in the top three places were:

Don Keller, second in the 100-yard butterfly for children 15 and 16; Susan Carlisle second in the 100-yard breastroke for children 11 and 12; Don Keller took thirds in the 200-yard freestyle senior division and 100-yard freestyle for 15 through 17-year-olds.

Candy Beeler third in the 100-yard breaststroke for 13 and 14-year-olds; Gail Hartwick third in the 200-yard backstroke for seniors; Gary Cheroske third in the 100-yard backstroke for 13 and 14-year-olds; and Tim Frost third in the 100-yard breaststroke for 15 through 17-year-olds.

Little League Dance

The Marinwood Little League Baseball dance, sponsored by the Women's Little League Baseball Auxiliary of Marinwood, will be held tomorrow night starting at 8 o'clock at the Santa Venetia Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall. Proceeds will go for new uniforms and equipment for the teams.

Don't Shelve Your Boats Yet, A Sunny Saturday May Be Near

Fallen leaves are on the water. The sound of fog horns sorrow the length and width of the Bay. Marin Water Ski Club members have dismantled their Lake Berryessa site. Many boaters have stored away life jackets, laid their boat paddle across garage rafters, and set the battery box in a dry corner.

But please, don't batten 'er down too tightly. That Most Perfect Day is due any time now. You might open your eyes early this next, (or next, or next) Saturday morning. You'll know it, because you can hear, feel and smell this special day. It's rare. Precious. Launch your boat, and revel in it.

Set an easterly course to the north of the San Rafael-Richmond bay bridge. Prsently the sun will lip like orange neon over the Pinole hills, and press against the water on every side, turning it into a vast field of copper. October's—or early November's—salt-thin wind will be like suave wine.

WHY DID YOU buy a boat? Now you know, if you didn't before. Joie de vivre! Allez!

Set your throttle at cruising speed, and when you are approaching the east bay shore correct your course to follow the shoreline northward. Orient yourself with the Standard Oil tank and shipping installations. Round the point, and soon you will pass old schooner hulks that form a breakwater. You have arrived in San Pablo Harbor.

A few years ago a moving picture, "Blood Alley," with John Wayne, was partly produced in the China Camp area of Marin, also in this secluded harbor. The patina of civilization is but mist-deep here. And if you listen with affection, you can still hear ghostly creaking of the paintless-gray old mizzenmasts.

YOU'RE IN an atmosphere of yellow, lichened planks, teredo-etched piling, odors of ancient creosote, and the voice of the gull. It seems comfortably familiar. Even contemporary. Only the garishly new styrofoam floats become anachronistic.

WEATHER PERMITTING, members of the Gallinas Boating Club will hold their long-scheduled Bass Derby Saturday. Nov 3 is the date for their annual fall dance. The Starlight Club at Terra Linda will be the spot.

SAUSALITO CRUISING Club will host a party, Halloween in decor, Saturday. Some 14 boats from the Fort Sutter Yacht Club are expected to cruise down from the Sacramento area as guests of this event.

QUESTION: I'd like to know how to hold my boat off-shore when I want to land? In my peculiar situation, I can't tie up to a dock or beach my boat. — Jim L., Tiburon

ANSWER: Make one end of the line fast in your boat, and put the other end through the ring of the anchor, so that the anchor is in the loop of the line. As you approach the beach, drop the anchor over the side, and play out the line. After you land you can haul your boat off to the anchor by pulling on the free end of the line. But before you do, be certain your craft is secured to the shore by another line. You don't want to swim back. Do you?

QUESTION: I like to troll in the bay. What I have is a fisherman's outfit with an old 25 h.p. But sometimes after a half hour of fishing, my motor smokes and misses. Sometimes it dies. When I get back to dock it's OK again. Why doesn't it run good slow? Can I do something to the carb?

—Mike T., HAFB

ANSWER: Your motor has a bleeder network of passages for oil. Usually these move in horizontal planes, and now and then they stop up. Let someone who knows outboards take a look at yours. If this is your trouble he can show you how to clear, or blow out the system. It's not a longish job. Often, when the motor smokes, the owner thinks it is getting too much oil, and he cuts down on it. This can lead to motor ruin. We own a 75 h.p. and it was the consensus that we wouldn't be able to troll with it. We do; however, a few years back we had a 30 h.p. that refused to act pleasantly at any speed under a "sprint." Nevertheless, the small h.p.'s do the BEST trolling job.

Stan Wins Poll For 'Comeback'

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial, the seven-time National League batting champion who hit over .300 for the first time in four sessions, today was named the circuit's Comeback Player of the Year in the annual Associated Press poll.

Musial was selected by 31 of the 108 baseball writers participating in the balloting. Del Crandall of Milwaukee was second with 23 votes followed by Ed Roebuck, Los Angeles, 15, Bob Skinner of Pittsburgh 10 and Harvey Kuenn, San Francisco, 6.

Musial finished third in batting the past season with a .330 mark. He hit .255 in 1959, .275 in 1960 and .288 in 1961. His 1962 output included 143 hits, 19 of them homers, and 28 runs batted in. The 42-year-old outfielder also stole three bases.

SHOULDER INJURY

Crandall, sidelined with a shoulder injury during most of the 1961 season, came back to participate in 107 games in '62.

Roebuck, the Dodgers' ace relief pitcher, won 10 games and lost two while appearing in 64 games.

Skinner, an outfielder, his .302 in 144 games with 20 homers and 75 RBI. He had a .320 average in 1958, but dropped under .300 during each of the next three years. His 1961 mark was .268.

Kuenn showed vast improvement in his second season with the Giants, increasing his average 39 points to .304. He wound up at .265 in '61.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Many Parties Before Annual Charity Ball Saturday Night

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Adding to the gaiety of the Charity Ball will be many cocktail parties in Marin County as members of Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary get together before the dining and dancing begins at the Meadow Club on Saturday night. This year's event, a Shibui Ball, will, as always, benefit Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

The largest party will be given by Mr. and Mrs. William Scott Anderson Jr., who have invited about a hundred friends to a cocktail party at their Ross home before the ball. Most of the guests are from Marin. However, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winton of Modesto will be there and go to the ball with them and spend the weekend with them.

The Martin E. Stuarts will be entertaining at their home in Mill Valley. Among their guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Rudy Kopfer, Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Bogardas and John T. Raisen.

The George Mitchells of Fairhills, San Rafael will have among their guests Messrs. and Mesdames William Bagley, William McDevitt and George Stempel.

The John Bellamys will be joined at their Lucas Valley home by a group of friends including Dr. and Mrs. Chester Noyes and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Stott.

A no-host group will observe the cocktail hour at the Meadow Club. Included in this gathering are Messrs. and Mesdames Leland S. Murphy, John Rakow, John J. O'Neill, Robert Lashly and George Stempel.

MRS. LUCIA (LUPE) HALSEY, former San Rafael resident, who now has a beautiful home in Honolulu, is visiting friends in Marin. She recently returned from three months in Italy where she has many friends in the music and movie worlds. She came back to California for the San Francisco opera and went to Portland, Ore. to see her son, Richard Alan (Dick) Anderson, his wife, Sari, and their children.

Dick is now with Portland Planning Commission. He majored in architecture at Stanford University and after graduation he studied in Italy. The young Andersons' new home was badly damaged in the recent storm which struck the coast, and the roof of the house was torn off. Lupe also visited her other son, Reginald Grant Anderson, who lives in Ben Bow. Lupe will return to Hawaii the end of October.

MRS. GEORGE F. GIROT of San Rafael is attending the luncheon and fashion show today at the Gamma Phi Beta house at University of California. Mrs. Girot, whose daughter, Suzanne, is a student at the university and a member of the sorority, is co-chairman of the event sponsored by the Gamma Phi Beta Mothers Club. The annual style show will feature Italian and Swiss imports. Autumn gold will be the decor theme. Sorority members will model and bridge will be played after the fashion show.

A FIFTH GENERATION Californian is Krispin Elizabeth Lee, the second child of Dr. and Mrs. John R. Lee (Patricia Boland) of Mill Valley. Little Krispin, who has a brother, John, who is almost two years old, was born Monday at Marin General Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boland of Stinson Beach and Mrs. John Lee of Minneapolis, Minn. Frank Brown of San Rafael is the great grandfather of the little ones.

DELTA DELTA DELTA alumnae had a cocktail party and luncheon yesterday at the Meadow Club. The day was completed with a fashion show with Mrs. Stewart Burmeister, the commentator. About 150 members of the association and their friends attended the party. Proceeds go to the scholarships for girls graduating from Marin high schools.

Machines Talk

NEW YORK (UPI)—New vending machines in West Berlin are nicknamed "politeness" because they say "many thanks" to customers. Progessive Grocer, a trade publication, says the message of gratitude is expressed on a tape recording in "a very pleasant woman's voice." Products sold this way include fresh fruits, cigarettes and handkerchiefs.

LOOP-THE-LOOP

A fascinating, looped chain collar creates an intriguing new neckline silhouette in this lacy knit wool and mohair pullover by Bonnie Briar. The will-o'-wisp airiness of the open stitches, and the natural lightweight warmth of the all-American wool and mohair fibers, make it an all-around indoor or outdoor sweater in partnership with jumpers, slacks or skirts. Comes in glorious pure colors to give a lift to festive occasions.

French Actress Says American Women Taken-For-Granted Pals

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Usually the educators are the ones who sound off on the pros and cons of co-education.

Now, it's Michele Morgan, a beautiful blonde French actress, who holds that co-educational schools for youth are a basic reason why the American woman is a taken-for-granted pal to the men around her.

The European woman, in turn, who is segregated educationally from the boys until her late teens, shapes up as a female of mystery and of intense appeal to the men.

"IF I HAD a girl, I'd see that she went to a girls' school until she was ready for college or a university," said Miss Morgan.

Because of this mixing of the sexes from nursery school on, Miss Morgan believes that the American woman ends up "harder"; the American male, "Completely on the defensive."

"I just believe that European women know better how to handle their men," she said in an interview during a visit to New York from her home in Paris.

"MANY PEOPLE have theories on the difference between American and European women . . . and it is dangerous to generalize," she said. "But I believe that co-educational schooling from early childhood gives the girl a virile attitude toward life.

"She never is a mystery to the boys . . . they grow up playing sandlot baseball together. The coeducational school takes away her femininity at the start. Shyness, coyness . . . the feminine traits never have a chance."

Miss Morgan continued: "Flirtation, necking start at such an early age in America there is no excitement for either boy or girl when the time for these things SHOULD arrive.

"THE MAN IS left with nothing to conquer . . . they're so used to females around them all their lives, they stop looking at them."

Miss Morgan, 42, the mother of a son, Mike, 18, who is in Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, speaks from knowing both American and European customs in matters of education. She has made so many American films she has become almost a commuter between Hollywood and Paris.

HER FIRST HUSBAND was the American actor, Bill Marshall, whom she divorced. Her second was the French actor, Henri Vidal, often her leading man, who died four years ago of a heart attack.

Miss Morgan is in the United States in connection with the release by embassy pictures of "Crime Does Not Pay," first presented at the Cannes film festival.

Born Simone Roussel, she became an actress, she said, because a friend of her parents—reading her horoscope when she was a child—predicted this was the direction her future should take. She changed her first name to Michele because "I couldn't stand Simone"; her last to Morgan because "I was a very smart kid. Name easy for everybody to remember."

Bouffant Hairdos On Way Out

The big news in hair styles is the look of smooth, shorter hairdos which fit closer to the head. Bouffant hairdos are on the way out, and neat and natural-looking coiffures are taking their place. The length of the hair is about an inch or so below the ear. Hair fashion experts are stressing the swing back to "naturalness."

To have this new look, start with a good haircut and shaping. You'll be delighted how this new hair length will leave you with many hair styling possibilities. Once you've had your hair cut and shaped, use a hair dressing which is richly concentrated to give a youthful, beautiful shine to your hair.

What a blessing for us that the days of full and high hair styles are gone! With this new hair style we have a golden opportunity to recondition our hair.

If your hair has been damaged from over-teasing, I suggest you try reconditioning it until your hair becomes natural looking again. Reconditioning is a simple trick you can do by yourself. Simply rub some hair dressing into hair and scalp—cover your head with a hot towel or heat cap for ten minutes — then shampoo your hair as you usually do. This conditioning will work wonders.

Hairdresser Alexandre Decrees Hats

By PATRICIA McCORMICK

The truce came during the international hairdressers' convention in New York. No less than Alexandre of Paris, lock fixer to many of the globe's celebrated females, was first to run up the white flag.

The master coif maker from Internationale de Coiffures de Dames startled fellow hair fixers by saying:

"HATS WERE made to glorify hair, and this year women are realizing it. The trend to hats among my customers is enormous. True elegance is returning."

Then the lock fixer did a daring thing. He unboxed hats created by the milliner Halston, whom he described as "the greatest hat designer in the United States."

ALEXANDRE, CONTINUING the demonstration proving hats and tresses mix, preached while he worked.

"Together," he told the hair dressers, "we must teach women to be exciting again. The perfect hairdo finishes the face like a charming frame. And the hat finishes the dress, just as jewels complete an evening gown."

Before he finished he included demonstrations with hats made of jewels and feathers, berets and bretons and the slouch hat.

"These are the hats I call young, the kind that Brigitte Bardot, Sophia Loren, Elizabeth Taylor and Maria Schell favor," he said.

"LIZ TAYLOR bought 17 hats in 15 minutes from Jean Barthet in Paris. I was there. It was very amusing to watch. He just put them on her head, gave a push here and a tug there, said oui or non, pulled it off and slapped the next one on."

Alexandre figures American hairdressers must encourage patrons to stop wearing hats just to hide poor or messy hairdos.

"To tell the truth about the United States," he said, "women let themselves be seen in curlers here, and they keep the same hairdo, copy the same style.

"In Paris, every woman dresses individually and has a different coiffure. The women here seem determined to stop the great hairdressers from doing what they want."

Home Lighting Changes Due, State Interior Designers

CHICAGO (UPI)—If the wishes of interior designers are any indication, there'll be some changes made in home lighting.

At a news conference at the International Home Furnishings Market, interior designers and lamp manufacturers discussed current trends in lamp design.

Designers Roy F. Beal, Gilbert Gray and Lawrence Peabody called for improved lamp engineering and better use of materials.

Beal said most lamps have no design direction and are overscaled.

"Lighting should be part of the background of a room," he said. "It shouldn't be the most obvious thing you see."

He urged lamp makers to put the switches on the bases of lamps, where they would be easier to reach.

Gray asked for an end to the "early and late manual training" styles, represented by a block of wood with a shade, and the "mod-urn" style with the dual-purpose urn base which "provides light and greenhouse space."

He charged lamp makers with producing poor copies of good traditional forms. He said lamps are not always correctly engineered for practical use, and look like room accessories with a shade on top. Lamp designers, he said, rely too much on flashy ideas and materials.

Gray said the lamp industry should create original designs and styles based on research, rather than copying poor designs.

Peabody said he's using candles and kerosene lamps in his home because nothing manufactured today can romanticize his rooms as well. Manufacturers, he said, should relate lamps to the total volume of space, and the manufacturer, industrial designer and consumer should re-evaluate lighting now being offered.

Manufacturers Ben Glassman and Bernard Roberts represented the Lamp and Shade Institute of America on the panel. They defended the manufacturers, but agreed with some points made by the designers.

Glassman said the most important element he has to consider is consumer acceptance. He said most consumers don't readily accept change in lamps.

Masquerade Dance Planned Saturday

A Masquerade Dance sponsored by the "Voz of the Portuguese Colony Radio Program" will be held Saturday at the IDESI Hall in Sausalito.

The event will begin at 9 p.m. Prizes for the best costumes will be awarded.

Political candidates will also be introduced.

Agnelo Clementino is director of the program.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D

Daughters Can Be Bewildering In Their Views Of Parents

Daughters are nice, but bewildering. I speak from experience, having three of 'em. Can you understand your girls, fellow fathers?

While they're little, they're perfect. They share their innermost thoughts with us, hold our hands, and enjoy long walks with us. They bring us their toys to repair and dolls to talk to. There's nothing more wonderful than having a clear-eyed little girl look up at you and say, "Daddy, I love you!" Right, gentlemen?

We coast along happily while they start school, and work their way up into the grades. Then boom, they're young ladies. Flat surfaces are replaced by curves. Dolls and toys are put aside. They discover disc jockeys, twist experts, illiterate singers and other revolting entertainers. Clothes and hairdos are transformed. Make-up appears. Suddenly they start thinking their own thoughts. Confidences come rarely. Daddy becomes an "ick." Have you discovered that, fathers?

Then they fall in love. Our nice little girls develop fantastic crushes on the scrawniest, ugliest, noisiest young boys available. Our daughters follow the objects of their affection around like puppy dogs. They write secret love letters. They phone them and talk forever. When the boy friend smiles they're in heaven; when he frowns they're disconsolate. Thank goodness it doesn't last. They fall in and out of love quickly. With each episode their taste improves. Eventually they're dating nice boys. Boys with brains, yet.

About the time they finish high school our girls discover their fathers once more. They find we're okay after all. It's a welcome change. Then they marry and move away. The cycle starts all over again. C'est la vie!

(Q) "When should my girl start having dates?"

Mrs. R. L.

(A) There is no one age. It depends on the customs of your neighborhood, on your girl's ability to accept responsibility, and on the kind of boy she would be going with. Don't let your girl be the first to have dates. Don't make her the last in her gang to do so. Be sure she dates only boys with good reputations.

Hair Color Questionable For Drivers

The elimination by the Motor Vehicles Department of New York of the question about color of hair from drivers' licenses has sparked a campaign for similar action in the other 49 states. With equal gallantry, the department also eliminated the question about weight.

The campaign is being waged by a haircoloring company which early in 1961 urged that such action be taken. At that time, the company wrote to the heads of Motor Vehicles Departments in every state to point out the unreasonableness of regulations requiring a woman's haircoloring to match the shade originally designated on her license.

In reply, several Motor Vehicles commissioners indicated that regulations regarding haircoloring would not be too strictly enforced. However, none of them said that provisions for designating hair color on license would be eliminated completely.

With New York having thrown in the towel, the haircoloring company, out of regard for its customers, now has renewed its drive to do away with what it considers an outmoded regulation in every state.

Program On Wedgwood In Mill Valley

Olivia Lenhart, lecturer and collector of antique Wedgwood, presented the program this afternoon for the Outdoor Art Club's guest day program at the clubhouse in Mill Valley.

She began her presentation by explaining the story of Josiah Wedgwood (1730-1795), a crippled boy who, inspired by a great love, became the world's most famous potter. Miss Lenhart then used colored slides to show modern Wedgwood in the making in England.

Greeting guests at the door were Mrs. William Bentley and Roy Laugesen. Following the program tea was served by Mrs. Donald Schlemmer, assisted by Mesdames John Burnham, R. A. Young, Jr., Howard Bleyle, co-chairman; and Laurence Pritchard. Mrs. George Ballantyne and her committee decorated the club.

Obvious Flaws Call For 'No' Vote On Prop. 24

Designation of the Francis Amendment as "Subversive Activities" has made dispassionate discussion of it difficult. Everyone is against subversive activities. The real question is what to do about them.

Proposition 24, the Francis Amendment, is designed to regulate and control those who seek the "overthrow of the government of the United States, of the several states, and of this state, by force and violence."

We can agree with its aims; most of them are already law of the state.

But the big question is, Who has the authority and power to identify those who violate the law?

Prop. 24 attempts to answer the question in the highly controversial Section 3, which says:

"If an organization is found to be a communist-action organization or a communist front organization . . . by an appellate or superior court, or by the grand jury of any county in the state, or by the attorney general of the State of California, or by any court, officer, board, commission, agency or other body of the government of the United States making such a finding pursuant to law . . . (it) shall be deemed a subversive organization . . ."

With such a subversive designation, everyone knowingly a member of this group is subject to its penalties, including mandatory loss of job for school teachers, loss of tax exemptions, ballot rights and felony jail sentences.

This amendment gives the power of judge and jury to too many people. Grand juries have never been constituted as trial juries. At present they have no power to convict, only the power to turn a person over to the courts for trial.

A federal officer or board or commission or agency, like, for example a U.S. marshall or the Federal Communications Commission or the Federal Aviation Agency, should have no power to determine whether a group of people is subversive.

Proponents say, "But it says "pursuant to law,' that will protect the innocent." Will it? Not, according to the legislative counsel, if the courts construe the words literally.

Richard M. Nixon, who certainly can't be charged as a pro-Communist, says that "because of loose drafting in Section 3, which allows a wide assortment of groups and individuals to designate subversives, the amendment may inadvertently give the Communists a constitutional escape hatch."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, on the other hand, merely calls it "a very, very bad bill."

Because this is an initiative measure, imperfections in it can not be easily changed, even the smallest change must come from a general election of all the people of California. It should not be thus. Legislation which so vitally limits one of our most basic freedoms, the right to believe in an unpopular cause, should be carefully prepared and obvious flaws removed. It should also be available for further amendment if other flaws become apparent.

There are obvious flaws. Too many people are given the tremendous power of designating someone else subversive.

We urge a strong NO vote on Proposition 24.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

One thing that interested me in both the primary and the general elections was the involvement of Marin's two legislative officials in the gubernatorial campaign. In the primary, Assemblyman William T. Bagley disappeared for weeks at a time traveling with Richard M. Nixon. Now, seven children hardly know what their father, Sen. John F. McCarthy, looks like since he was designated some weeks ago, "unofficial chief of staff" for Nixon.

On the Nixon campaign train I was able to get some kind of an idea of what the job entailed. An "unofficial chief of staff's" biggest duty is like that of a good private secretary—to keep as many people off the boss' back as possible, preferably by solving their problems himself.

But there is an added, important responsibility. The "unofficial chief of staff" is authorized to speak for the candidate, both in public and in private.

Thus McCarthy's job on the train was a combination of political and social host. He personally met and greeted every VIP, regardless of age, size or sex, that rode on the train even from one stop to another.

IN DOING THIS, he had numerous problems, both party and governmental, brought to his attention for reference on to Nixon. Some of the problems, particularly party organizational problems, he solved immediately, some to the joy and some to the sorrow of their protagonists. At this type of work, McCarthy excels.

He gets the background and authority for direct action by sitting in on most of the Nixon strategy huddles. When the candidate daily draws his staff around him, McCarthy is included. He can speak and has a voice in the decisions. His contact with the people in the various areas makes him invaluable in bringing local problems to Nixon's attention.

HE IS OFTEN given specific assignments, varying from smoothing out some local feathers to bringing harmony between two GOP candidates.

In talking to newsmen he is authorized to state and detail a Nixon position. Quite often he reviews press releases before they are made public.

He often makes public appearances for Nixon. The night after the train trip, he appeared on television with State GOP Chairman Cap Weinberger in a debate with Assembly Floor Leader Jerome Waldie and Democratic State Chairman Eugene Wyman. He's been on both radio and TV numerous times, besides lunches, dinners and just meetings.

In short, I don't recommend being an "unofficial chief of staff."

ONE NON-PARTISAN reference: The League of Women Voters of Central Marin now has available their digest of provisions and principal arguments on ballot propositions. Either groups or individuals wanting to get this eight-page booklet, "Pros and Cons," may do so through Mrs. John Salz of Ross.

Hate Groups In Mill Valley

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

What type of people live in Mill Valley?

This is not being written about the large percentage who are friendly, kind and neighborly folks; it's about the small percentage, the same vandals who steal flowers from the Easter displays, take light bulbs from the Christmas decorations and broke the statue on the square and have started to pull up, break off, and otherwise damage the young trees that have been planted around town at quite a cost in planning, money, and several days of labor.

These are the same persons who belong to "hate groups" throughout our country. They hate everybody and everything.

There must be a special place for this type! Why not round them all up and ship them to some distant, barren island where they can be left to devour each other with their hate and let decent people live in peace and the beauty of our community?

Waving Flag Does Not Solve Problem

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

. . . The letter of Gayle Shotwell is such a perfect example of the confusion that exists among our people and the sloganeering that has contributed to it that I cannot resist the temptation to answer it.

1. She asserts that the chief reason the aging are often unable to meet their mounting medical expense is that various forms of government taxation have taken a third of their income over the years.

2. She asserts that the American way of life has been that "each worked for what he earned and took care of his own" and that this has been destroyed by "creeping socialism."

3. She suggests that the government stop inflation and "enact a responsible piece of legislation" enabling it to "pay the premiums on health insurance for those who could not afford to pay their own."

To take her statements up in order:

1. In the good old days before the income tax, gasoline tax, etc., the aged could no more afford adequate medical care than they can now. What is more, adequate care in the modern sense was not available at any price because medicine was quite primitive compared to what it is today. So it is senseless to hark back to a fancied preordained-by-God American way of life in this particular sphere.

2. Individual responsibility for self support and provision for the rainy day was, and indeed still is, the American way of life and I can think of no more equitable way to insure that this responsibility is carried out than by the provision in the Medicare Bill that each individual capable of working and earning a wage set aside a certain percentage of his earnings to pay for his medical expenses when he is no longer able to work.

3. If the government undertakes to "pay the premiums on health insurance for those who could not afford to pay their own" wouldn't that negate the American principle of individual responsibility and would it not make necessary a continuance and perhaps an increase in the taxes you so abhor, Mrs. Shotwell?

These problems are not solved by waving the flag or cursing the communists, and well meaning patriots do not serve their cause well by uttering epithets like "creeping socialism" instead of grappling with the real problems. The nature of the campaign against Medicare proves that the Chinese are not the only people who have been subjected to brainwashing.

County Planning Deserves Support

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Not only was the planning commission "taken" when the Madera Apartments were built but so were the people of Marin County.

Maybe we ought to raise a popular outcry to have the structure torn down. It's time to give some support to County planning efforts or the whole of the freeway areas will be blighted with similar structures, and the views of the bay and hills destroyed as they have been on the peninsula south of San Francisco.

On the one hand we attempt something significant and beautiful, such as the County Civic Center, and on the other we cancel it out by giving in to unsightly, self interested commercialism.

BENNETT CERF

Once upon a time there was a steamship captain who had handled freighters for years and took it as a mortal insult when he was transferred to a spanking new deluxe passenger liner. In fact, he often declared forcefully that any landlubber passenger who dared to get seasick should be tossed overboard forthwith.

One day in a howling gale a deck steward made his way along a line of deck chairs warning the few passengers in sight that the skipper was in a foul mood and might put his idea into execution.

"Throw seasick passengers overboard?" croaked one unfortunate voyager — already green around the gills. "Here is a ten-dollar bill for you. Make sure I don't miss my turn!"

A druggist in Mamaroneck tried to sell a new facial cream to an old customer, but she told him, "Oh, no, you don't. A girl on television has been using it in the commercials for weeks and her face is still a mess!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Maybe Reason People Stay Away From City Councils Is They Are Dull

I recently sympathized with city councils that rarely draw big houses unless they're juggling a neighborhood battle.

Now I wonder whether citizens stay away in throngs after having sampled sessions like the Oct. 10 adjourned meeting in Larkspur. Some of the tangled actions and tedious discussions down blind alleys were as nightmarish as a Kafka novel.

Councilmen waded into a five-year projection compiled by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper in February, 1961.

COUNCILMAN Robert J. Smith, handsome, guileless-looking, boyish-appearing attorney, commanded the spotlight formerly held by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler, a kind of friendly counterpart of Supervisor William D. Fusselman in serving as Chief Questioner of Everything.

Smith let loose a motion to end all motions. It started as a motion that streets and drainage improvements be considered a major city project. In the same breath he moved that the council adopt "as policy a philosophy that development of Larkspur be in consonance with single family residential development."

UNDER THIS parliamentary tear gas cloud, the council, planning commission chairman Vaughn Marker and Greenbrae developer Niels Schultz Jr. chomped at length on the single family concept.

Mayor James J. Lienkaemper agreed with Schultz the concept would "act as a deterrent to development." Smith said he sought "a guide line." Schultz said: "Your guide line is broad with fuzzy edges."

Piper said the idea should "go to someone making a master plan." Councilman Neil R. Brixon said: "We've been here two hours 15 minutes and haven't agreed on a thing." Marker suggested they put it off until the council and planning commission met jointly. Smith withdrew his motion, which Daveler had seconded.

Brixon rescued the motion for streets and drainage and it passed.

The council dived into the proposed zoning ordinance. Schultz and others discussed cluster development. This permits use of less than legal-sized lots joined in a single project.

City fathers didn't believe variances were required. Schultz disagreed. The air was cleared when it was learned he was discussing clusters of single family residences; the others were discussing clusters of apartment buildings.

Clusters aren't in the ordinance; haven't been built in Larkspur. Most speakers at the Oct. 3 and 10 meetings said Larkspur hasn't much left to build on except for the hills that in the words of one speaker "just go up and up."

IN JUSTICE to the city fathers, they meet after spending full days at their regular jobs. And early in the Oct. 10 meeting Smith bemoaned the addition "of extra things to agenda of adjourned meetings, and no city attorney or engineer to advise us." Lienkaemper said he had to get used to this. City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner makes only the regular monthly meetings.

One brief bright note was sounded. Condominiums were discussed. Schultz said: "The experience in these developments is age-old. They had condominiums in early Rome."

The mayor said: "They got in all kinds of trouble!"

MEMO ON a different subject:

Alcoholics Anonymous is moving into Ross. Beginning Nov. 5, when Jack I—, San Francisco Inter-County Fellowship secretary, will speak, the AA meetings formerly held in San Anselmo on Monday nights will be held at 12 Lagunitas Road, Ross.

Public Needs To Understand Change In Nuclear Power And Commitments

WASHINGTON — This article is written before any official statement about the latest developments in Cuba. But it is written in the knowledge that the situation has suddenly become acute and critical.

Whatever the President decided to do, it is unfortunate that it had to be done at the height of an election campaign, and particularly of this one, for this campaign has been singularly sterile as a preparation of the American electorate to understand the grave problems in which they are profoundly involved.

The voters are being talked to by the President and the ex-President, by the two leaders who for the 10 years since the Korean war have had the highest responsibility and who have had access to the most intimate knowledge of the facts. Yet neither of them, I submit, has ever tried to explain to the people the dimensions of the Cuban problem and of the Berlin problem.

NEITHER GEN. Eisenhower nor President Kennedy has come near to dealing with the central reality which has dominated their two administrations. This reality is the decisive change in the military and financial position of the United States since the middle of the 1950s.

Neither has ever fully explained to the people how the loss of our nuclear monopoly, even though we are still much the stronger military power, is affecting the whole worldwide commitments which were proclaimed by President Truman and formalized by Secretary Dulles.

FOR EXAMPLE: When we still possessed a nuclear monopoly, we were an irresistible power in the sense that we could destroy without being hurt. Then it was possible to encircle the Soviet Union with military bases usable for offensive action. But when the nuclear monopoly came to an end, then the encircling nations like Turkey, and then Paris and London and Bonn, and finally the United States itself, became vulnerable. Then the advance bases began to become liabilities.

Thus Turkey is a great liability in our relations with Cuba. For if we use force to invade or blockade Cuba, we must be prepared for something similar around or in Turkey or some such place on the frontiers of the Soviet Union.

These advance bases of ours, which are nearly obsolescent with the big bombers and the missiles, are more hostage than ally. If Khrushchev wants to defend Castro, he does not have to do it in Cuba where the Soviet Union is a negligible military power. He can do it in Turkey or Iran or elsewhere on the perimeter.

THESE THINGS need to be understood by our people as we find ourselves in a military crisis over Cuba. Until our people do understand them, they will be thinking and feeling and voting in a world that no longer exists.

In the world that now exists the United States is not omnipotent. It cannot, therefore, enforce the Monroe Doctrine in the Western hemisphere and the Truman Doctrine in the Eastern hemisphere.

Opening lead — ◇ Q

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and saw that he could ruff one spade in dummy and discard another on the king of diamonds.

This seemed like a pretty sure thing, so he returned a spade at once.

TRIFLING

East won with the ace of spades and returned a trump to declarer's ace. South led a spade to dummy, discarded a spade on the king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond.

Then he ruffed his last spade with dummy's 10 of trumps.

There remained only the trifling matter of getting back to his own hand to draw the rest of the trumps. Unfortunately, dummy had nothing but clubs.

CASH ACE

Declarer had to cash the ace of clubs and then lead the king of clubs in the hope that both would get by. Disaster struck at the ninth trick, when West ruffed the king of clubs.

Mind you, South saw his danger when he had nothing but clubs to lead from the dummy. His problem was that he hadn't foreseen this when he started the hand.

It should be clear that South cannot make the hand with a 5-0 club break. Sooner or later one of the defenders will ruff a club. But South can surely make the hand against a 4-1 break if he adopts the right line of play.

2ND TRICK

At the second trick, South should lead a club to dummy's ace. He discards a club on the king of diamonds and ruffs a club.

He gets back to dummy with the ten of trumps and ruffs another club. Then he draws trumps.

By this time the clubs are set up, and South can lead a spade to force entry to the dummy.

He eventually gets back with another spade to run the good clubs and fulfill the slam contract.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of 1962 with 67 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1923, the Teapot Dome scandals began to unfold as Sen. Thomas Walsh of Montana demanded a public hearing on the Department of Interior's leasing of two naval oil reserves to private corporations.

A thought for today: German poet Johann Goethe said: "He only earns his freedom and existence who daily conquers them anew."

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Those Who Neglect Treatment For Appendix Are Tempting Fate

VAN DELLEN

Good research often stems from small and out of the way places. Dr. G. A. Oliver and Dr. G. L. Watkins gathered statistics on ruptured appendicitis from a 75-bed rural hospital in Bonne Terre, Mo. In 13 years, 1,013 appendectomies were performed and of these, 128 had perforations of the organ, with peritonitis in 88.

Sixty children and 69 men and women over 50 were among the group with ruptured appendix. The only death occurred in a 70-year-old man. Such figures are in marked contrast to those of four decades ago when perforation and peritonitis meant death or prolonged disability.

ORDINARY APPENDICITIS is a relatively benign disease, provided the inflamed organ is removed within 24 hours. But the situation changes quickly when surgery is delayed and the infection is allowed to continue until the appendix becomes gangrenous and ruptures.

The purulent material, including the intestinal contents, escapes into the abdominal cavity, leading to peritonitis or abscess. These complications are more serious and we can thank the antibiotics for their ability to control this type of infection.

THE BONNE TERRE hospital study showed that surgery was delayed 24 or more hours in 99 out of 128 persons in whom the appendix ruptured. In 44 per cent of this group the patient was responsible for the delay and in 24 per cent, the physician. But procrastination was not always due to neglect on the part of physician or patient.

In many instances, symptoms and findings were not typical of acute appendicitis and the diagnosis was difficult to make. In infants, children, and the elderly, symptoms are likely to be bizarre. Furthermore, older people fear surgery and don't consent to operations until obviously in trouble.

THE PHYSICIAN often is overly cautious and hesitates to suggest surgery because of the criticism that follows removal of a normal appendix. The diagnosis becomes apparent as soon as the appendix ruptures but, by that time, it may be too late.

Appendicitis is still here. It may be tamed by the anti-biotics but those who neglect treatment still tempt fate.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

REAL AND IMAGINED INFESTATION

R. C. writes: What is parasitosis?

REPLY

Parasitosis (parasitism) should refer to infestation with parasites. Pediculosis (lice) and scabies (seven year itch) are examples. But the psychiatrists have preempted the word to mean a delusion of insects or mites crawling under the skin, or a phobia resulting from an abnormal fear of "bugs."

X-RAY AND CANCER

REPLY

It might but the film is too small to demonstrate details. A tumor large enough to cast a shadow on this film could be felt or diagnosed more readily by palpation.

MUSCLE DETERIORATION

REPLY

This is not a medical term. I assume it refers to a muscle that has undergone degeneration because of poor circulation or infection.

GOOD OLD WATER

N. P. writes: What liquids make the kidneys work the hardest?

REPLY

Water. Drink several glasses and I think you will agree with me. There are some liquids

OVARIAN CYSTS

Mrs. Z. writes: Is operation absolutely essential for an ovarian cyst?

REPLY

These cysts come in different types and sizes and vary in seriousness. Surgery is needed when they cause discomfort, affect the menstrual pattern, or are malignant.

SWEETS AND WORMS

L.M. writes: Can a child get pinworms from eating too many sweets?

REPLY

No. Pinworms develop from micro-sized pinworm eggs that are swallowed by the child.

If You Yearn For Political Success —Be Born Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you yearn to succeed in politics, have the foresight to get born into a politically prominent family.

If you have a name the voters already know, you may find the early stages of your road wonderfully smoothed.

This always has been true in U.S. politics, but rarely have we had so many shining examples.

Look at the famous names that will be on the ballots Nov. 6: Kennedy, Lodge, Roosevelt, Rockefeller, Morgenthau, Long.

As usual Massachusetts leads the familial list.

In the Senate race it's Edward M. Kennedy, 30, who has a brother for president and another brother for attorney general. He's running against George Lodge, 34, whose father was a senator and an ambassador to the United Nations.

Another famous name was bumped off. Edward J. McCormack Jr., whose Uncle John is speaker of the House, was beaten in the primaries. A fourth famous name was added to the senatorial list: H. Stuart Hughes, grandson of Charles Evans Hughes, who barely lost the presidency to Woodrow Wilson, is running as an independent.

Don't go away yet. Waiting to welcome the new senator is Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R.-Mass.). He's the second of that name to serve in Congress. Rep. Leverett Saltonstall, also of family-loving Massachusetts, was the senator's great-grandfather.

Move on to New York.

It's true that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller bears a famous name, but until recently—say, in the last quarter of a century—a name so synonymous with riches would have been looked upon as a liability.

Yet not only Rockefeller but W. Averell Harriman, who also inherited millions, have been governors of New York.

Democrats, hoping to get in a few blows at whatever presidential ambitions Rockefeller has, have chosen Robert M. Morgenthau to oppose him.

Morgenthau is relatively unknown, but he has a fine political name. His father, Henry Jr., was Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary of the Treasury and his grandfather was Woodrow Wilson's ambassador to Turkey.

Speaking of FDR, his son, James, seeks re-election as a representative from California.

Then there are the Longs, a magical name in Louisiana. Gillis W. Long hopes to be elected to the House and Russell B. Long expects to be re-elected to the Senate.

On the other side of the political fence: Robert Taft, son of Sen. Robert A. Taft and grandson of President William Howard Taft, hopes to be elected representative at large from Ohio.

This is nothing new — that any one with the great name has a political headstart.

In 1813 Thomas Jefferson wrote to John Adams—founder of a famous political dynasty—that voters showed "traditionary reverence" for certain families.

"I presume that from an early period in your history," Jefferson said, "members of those families happening to possess virtue and talents, have honestly exercised them for the good of the people, and by their services have endeared their names to them."

The Adams exercised their talents. John Adams was a president. His son, John Quincy Adams was a senator, a president, and finally the only ex-president to serve in the House. J. Q.'s son, Charles Francis Adams, was a representative and minister to England.

The Bayards of Delaware turned out five U.S. senators in four generations. Their record has been described this way:

"There was James Asheton Bayard Sr., who begat Richard Henry Bayard and James Asheton Bayard Jr., who begat Thomas Francis Bayard, who begat Thomas Francis Bayard Jr.—every last one a senator.

"A Bayard was in the Senate as far back as 1804 and as recently as 1929."

Growth Of Private Hauling Cause Fight

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The competitive fight between the various forms of for-hire transportation—rails, trucks, planes, barges, pipelines—waxes steadily.

But just as heated at times is the battle over the inroads into the field by private carriage.

The growth of private hauling of goods and supplies over the nation's highways may have added to traffic jams to your annoyance. It also has raised the tempers of the regulated carriers.

Who is getting hurt and how much? And why do some business firms turn to their own trucks while others stick to for-hire transportation?

A research team of the Transportation Center at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., fed into a computer the replies of 1,100 manufacurers to their queries on the subject.

The answers may shed some light on a controversy noted for generating heat.

The unregulated motor carriers have grown faster since the war than the regulated carriers as a whole. But the team says that, in terms of tonnage, the common motor carriers have grown about as fast as have corporations' own fleets of trucks, even though trucking firms think otherwise.

real battle has been between these two, the for-hire and the do-it-yourself motor haulers.

Firms using their own trucks tend to concentrate on short-haul movements of freight, and thus compete less than some may think with the rails, which get their big volume on the longer than 200-mile freight movement.

But the volume of private carriage is growing. The survey shows one-third of the firms replying increased their use of private carriage in proportion to their total tonnage in recent years, while 23 per cent did not, and the remainder kept about the same proportion.

Altogether about 32 per cent of motor freight tonnages moved by private carriage in 1961, according to the replies. The private fleets were mostly modest—59 per cent of the firms used four or fewer vehicles.

The biggest use of private fleets was in the food industries. Such usage was reported by less than a third of those in the instrument, electrical machinery, leather, textile and apparel industries.

Firms using their own trucks to haul their supplies gave three situations in which they find this most profitable:

1. When prices charged by suppliers are greater than private costs of production;

2. When the firm wants a certain quality of goods or

And the replies indicate the service not offered by suppliers;

3. When the firm desires managerial control over the supply of some productive input.

The Transportation Center plans a private conference the end of this month to discuss the findings and the problems.

Used Cars Top Products' List Which Result In Borrowing

Used cars top the list of consumer products in California which result in borrowing. According to a statewide survey by the California Bankers Assn., more than half of installment credit is in automobile loans. Something over one million used cars moved from dealers' lots last year.

Most banks reported that television sets run a close second to used cars, and there are about as many requests for financing news cars as there are for new automatic washers-dryers. Refrigerators are fifth on the list.

At the moment, people are making greater use of bank credit, even though employment is at a record high in the state. They borrow on the strength of their jobs. Average age of a borrower is 31; his borrowing peak is at 35.

Roughly 11 percent of bank employees are engaged in servicing loans and their average age is also 31. It's a good spot for young men to begin banking careers and often leads to top posts and bigger desks.

California banks issue 27 loans per minute. Less than one-fourth of 1 per cent of them go sour and result in losses.

MORE HOME BUILDING in September. Construction starts in single dwellings took a hike last month over the usual 50-50 split with multiple units, according to the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. The division was 75-25 in number of units; two-thirds and one-third in dollar volume.

Number of commercial units were on a par with September, 1961, but were down in dollar volume 16.9 per cent. Total construction for this year is ahead 4.3 per cent over the first nine months of 1961.

DEEDS RECORDED for September were down 5.5 per cent from last year in Marin, but the first nine months were still up 16.4 per cent. Figures from Title Insurance and Trust Co., San Rafael.

Real estate loans in September were up 6 per cent from last year; the year to date is up 21 per cent.

MRS. BRITT MASSINGALE has sold out her interest in Nancy's Carriage House, San Rafael to her partner Mrs. Wynne H. Bowyer and has returned to an old love—publicity work.

DONALD H. COOK of San Rafael has been appointed salesman in the San Francisco office of Witco Chemical Co., organic chemicals division. He has been with California Ink Co. in Berkeley for 15 years; has held several posts in research.

JAPANESE ART CENTER, San Rafael, is sponsoring a Japanese brush painting contest in San Jose from Dec. 1 to Jan. 2. Open to entries in three divisions: Professional, beginners and young artists (up to and including high school age).

DODGE MOTORS has unveiled an expanded line of cars in its 880 and Custom 880 series, increasing the number of models from six to nine. They will go on sale Nov. 14 at Shamrock Motors, Mill Valley and San Rafael, and at Nave's Dodge, Novato.

Korea Fun Center For GIs

Rulers Bid For More U.S. Dollars

By CONRAD FINK

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Despite their stern austerity campaign, South Korea's military rulers are betting heavily that they can provide the American GI the off-duty fun he seeks.

The question bothering some Koreans—and many high-ranking U.S. officers—is whether what the government will provide will conflict with what American mothers and church groups think the GI should get.

The answer may determine the success of Walker Hill a giant fun center the government is building with 5.5 million dollars squeezed from South Korea's lean treasury.

It is named by the Koreans in honor of Gen. Walton H. Walker, the U.S. Eighth Army commander who defended the Pusan perimeter in the early days of the Korean war and then drove to the Yalu River. Walker was killed in a jeep accident north of Seoul in December 1950.

Walker Hill, overlooking the Han River 10 miles east of this capital city, is scheduled to open in December and start gathering some of the dollars that many of the 50,000 U.S. servicemen in South Korea now carry to Japan on furlough.

Walker Hill's beautiful 156 acres will contain low-cost hotels, motels, swimming pools, hunting area, fishing facilities, libraries and steam baths.

There also will be bars, night clubs, dice tables, roulette wheels, slot machines, card games and, according to informed sources, pretty hostesses.

One Korean official says: "we wonder sometimes what the mothers in Ohio and Pennsylvania will think."

Gen. Guy S. Meloy, top U.S. soldier in Korea, says he knows from long Army experience that American mothers and church groups will react vigorously. Consequently, he says, if there is prostitution or crooked gambling at Walker Hill, the entire complex will be declared off limits and the Korean government will be "out of luck as far as getting GIs is concerned."

Some U.S. servicemen say Walker Hill couldn't offer GIs anything not offered in most cities of the world and that Tokyo will remain Northeast Asia's biggest attraction.

With this in mind, critics suggest that South Korea's military leaders have gambled on what could become a white elephant.

South Korea, with almost three million unemployed and a sorely underdeveloped economy, could have used the 5.5 million dollars to better advantage, these critics say.

To the government, Walker Hill appears to be a national show piece that must succeed to illustrate what Koreans can do on their own.

The powerful Korean Central Intelligence Agency under Col. Kim Chong-pil is in charge of construction, apparently because it has the authority and drive to get the job done. Kim is the No. 2 man of the ruling military junta.

THE ROAD TO FUN?—These roads under construction in South Korea near Seoul lead to Walker Hill, a giant "fun center" the government is building in hopes of attracting American GIs and their dollars. (AP Wirephoto)

9 Counties Eligible For Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy yesterday declared nine northern California counties a major disaster area as a result of recent storms and flooding.

The declaration made the counties eligible for emergency federal grants.

The counties were Alameda, Butte, Contra Costa, Modoc, Napa, San Mateo, Sierra, Sutter and Yuba.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the actual allocation and payment of relief funds awaited a request and justification from state authorities. He said severe weather, which struck the Pacific Coast beginning Oct. 10, so far has led to federal grants of one million dollars to Oregon and $350,000 to Washington.

Business Note

WOES OF A RABBIT LOVER

Elwood P. Dowd (Freeland Romans) is held by cabbie E. J. Lofgren (George Shistar) and Duane Wilson, the man in the little white coat (Bill Morrisey) as Judge Omar Gaffney (Lin Hinkle) says "lock him up." And it's all just because Dowd has a six-foot rabbit nobody else can see. The scene is from the Ross Valley Players' production of "Harvey," which will be repeated tomorrow and Saturday and Nov. 2, 3, 9 and 10 at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Curtain time is 8:30 p. m.

12,000 Known Dope Addicts In California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An Assembly subcommittee was told yesterday that California has 12,000 known narcotic addicts, and they should come under state supervision.

Roland W. Wood, superintendent of the California Rehabilitation Center at Corona (not connected with the women's prison), said the center's program should be expanded to cover all the state's addicts.

Wood said his center now has 1,000 inmates, men and women, and has an eventual capacity of 2,300.

Wood recommended that the center be allowed by law to keep every inmate at least six months for intensive treatment.

Marin Gets Beach, Flood Study Money

Bay Model Is Assured As JFK Signs Measure

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — President John F. Kennedy today signed the five billion dollars water projects appropriation bill which includes funds for start of a survey of Richardson Bay streams, completion of the study of Bolinas channel improvement, and virtually complete operation of the San Francisco bay model in Sausalito in connection with the bay study.

The bill provides 14 million dollars for flood control features of the Oroville dam, 47 million dollars for Central Valley Project reclamation units, 15 million dollars for the Los Angeles County drainage area.

More than a billion of the fund is earmarked for flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects of the Army Engineers, a fund which includes the Marin County appropriations.

Largest in Marin is the $200,000 for the San Francisco area study, which includes operation of the model in Sausalito. George Reilly, chief of the engineering Division of the Army Engineers, San Francisco, said the model will continue to operate on the bay survey until the middle of next year, perhaps into the next fiscal year which starts next July 1.

However, he said, an interim report would be made "in the first two or three months" of next year, with the final report due at the end of the year.

The $15,000 earmarked for the Bolinas channel survey will be enough to complete it, Reilly said. One hearing already having been held, no other is expected. The complete report on the survey is due "sometime in calendar 1963."

The Richardson Bay streams survey will get under way as soon as the $20,000 appropriated by the bill is available here, Reilly said. Because this is only the start of the project he said he had no idea when or how many public hearings would be held or how long the survey would take. "I doubt that we'll be through with it in 1963," he indicated.

The bill also provides a million dollars for "continuing channel work downstream from Coyote dam in Mendocino County and an additional $25,000 for further studies on the Russian River."

BAPTIST LEADER TELLS HIS VIEWS

The Baptist World Alliance declined an invitation to send observers to the Ecumenical Council now meeting in Rome because "we believe in spiritual unity of all believers, or Christians, but not ecumenical union which involves the compromise of spiritual and New Testament principles as we understand them."

Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs, president of the 10-million member Southern Baptist Convention, explained this today at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry where he is participating in the week-long "family life clinic."

"We cooperate with other religious bodies in many, many ways," he added, "that do not involve our theological principles. But we have through the past declined to enter into organic union."

The religious leader, who is author of 14 books, also said that of all the Christian faiths the Baptists are the farthest apart from the Catholics. "All others are in between," he said.

Hobbs, who was born in Alabama and now lives at Oklahoma City where he is pastor of the First Baptist Church, said he is a "gradualist" where integration is concerned.

"I am not a reactionary," he said. "I am a gradualist in that I think the goal of integration is to achieve what the Negro wants. But, I feel, because of social background and varying conditions, it must be a grad-

Powers Rips Nixon Over Cuba, Endorses Brown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Republican Lt. Gov. Harold J. (Butch) Powers today accused Richard M. Nixon of making "a cheap bid for votes" in the Cuban crisis and endorsed Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown for re-election.

A few moments after Powers left the news conference in the Biltmore Hotel, State Sen. John McCarthy (R-San Rafael) told newsmen Powers was "a disgruntled politician"—and was promptly accused by a Democratic spokesman of invading Powers' news conference.

The accusation touched off a flurry of charges and countercharges, but McCarthy, a one-time campaign manager for Powers, refused to leave despite Democratic Party complaints.

Powers, lieutenant governor from 1954 to 1958, an active Republican for 30 years, and who sought the GOP gubernatorial nomination Nixon won, said he will remain a Republican but is opposing Nixon because the former vice president has "failed to come up with a single, solitary program bene-

K Will Halt Arms If Blockade Ends; U.S. Intercepts, Lets Russ Ship By

Pentagon: Others Turn Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blockading U.S. Navy ship today intercepted a Soviet tanker but allowed it to continue toward Cuba.

The Pentagon said a dozen other Soviet ships apparently turned back for fear of running into the U. S. ban on Cuban arms shipments.

Thus there still was no direct U.S.-Soviet showdown, or war-provoking incident, in Cuban waters as the U.S. quarantine of the island went into its second day.

NOT BOARDED

Apparently, the tanker was not boarded by the Navy. The Pentagon said only that it was ascertained not to be carrying contraband weapons.

Washington informants said the tanker was hailed by the Navy ship and questioned about its cargo. The tanker captain said he carried only petroleum. Since the tanker had left its Communist port long before the blockade was announced Monday, and there was no known evidence that tankers had been used to carry weapons, these sources said the ship was allowed to proceed.

REASON WHY

The Navy's forebearance in not boarding the tanker, the informants said, was aimed at getting across to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the United States was not in Cuban waters with a chip on its shoulder looking for a fight.

Viewed in this light the incident appeared to be a significant part of the current diplomatic interchange, comparable in some respects to Khrushchev's decision not to force the issue by sending through the blockade vessels certain to be stopped, turned back or sunk.

EDGE OF WAR

The Washington view was that both the turnabout of some Soviet ships, and the free passage of the tanker, would have a profound bearing on intense efforts at the United Nations and elsewhere to develop some kind of formula to pull the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba back from the edg of nuclear war.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense read this announcement:

"It now appears that at least a dozen Soviet vessels have turned back, presumably because, according to the best of our information, they might have been carrying offensive materials.

"However, the first Russian ship that proceeded through the area patrolled by our naval forces was a Soviet tanker.

"It was ascertained by the U.S. naval vessel which intercepted her that the tanker had only petroleum aboard.

"Since petroleum is not presently included as prohibited material, under President Kennedy's proclamation setting up the quarantine, the tanker was allowed to proceed . . ."

But U.S. officials stressed that while sticking to his readiness for U.S.-Soviet negotiations, Kennedy's main concern and overriding objective is to put an end to Soviet nuclear missile bases in Cuba.

The Soviet premier in a message to British philosopher Bertrand Russell declared yes-

Would Lay Off For Time

MOSCOW (UPI)— Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed today to halt all arms shipments to Cuba for two or three weeks if the United States lifts its Cuban blockade for the same length of time.

The official Soviet Tass agency said Khrushchev made his offer in response to last night's appeal by United Nations acting secretary general Thant for both Russia and the United States to agree to a two-to-three week "suspension" of their actions on Cuba.

"I declare to you that I agree with your suggestion which is in the interests of peace," Khrushchev told Thant.

NOT DISCLOSED

President John F. Kennedy sent his reply to Thant at midday but its contents were not disclosed immediately.

The U.S. view expressed beforehand was that it would be foolhardy to call off its blockade without ironclad guarantees against a further Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

Moscow Radio interrupted a concert to report the exchange of messages between Thant and Khrushchev.

THANT ANXIETY

"Esteemed Mr. Thant, I received your communication and carefully read the proposal contained in it," Khrushchev said.

"I welcome your initiative. I understand your anxiety in connection with the situation which has developed in the area of the Caribbean Sea as the Soviet government, too, considers this situation to be a very dangerous one, demanding an immediate intervention by the U.N.

"I state to you that I greet your proposal which responds to the interests of peace."

The Khrushchev message bore today's date.

Merchant Finds Soviet Stores Poor

By HARRY CRAFT

"Furniture that you might find coming out of a manual training class" was the description applied by home furnishings dealer Sidney Braverman to household pieces which the average Russian is able to buy.

Braverman said stores in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev are large, but selections are small "with not much more than about 25 standard items. There is only one type of sofa which opens into a bed—and it doesn't have foam rubber cushions."

He observed that prices were the same in all stores. There is no competitor down the block to sell for less. Manufacturers concentrate on fewer designs. By our standards he rated articles "from medium to fair to shoddy" in construction and durability. Factories, he said, are lacking in modern tools and equipment.

"Don't misunderstand me," cautioned Braverman. "Russians have the brains but not the facilities."

Among the articles of furniture in big demand, he named the huge, old-fashioned wardrobe of the type used many years ago in American homes. Russian living quarters are small and have no built-in closets.

"Everyone works," he said, "but apparently they have no great enthusiasm in their work. A dent in the Russian armor and a possible sign of creeping capitalism (though the Russians do not admit it to be that) is the recent introduction of incentive pay and piece work."

Braverman said the average worker's pay is about $50 a month, with top executives receiving as high as $250.

"If a man can afford it, he can buy a home in the suburbs and get a loan without interest," he related. "Payments are deducted from his income by his trade association and there are no credit problems such as we have here. If he does run into trouble it's handled direct through the individual trade union to which he is responsible. He cannot contract with anyone for work to be done on the house; that, too, is up to the union."

PROTEST MARCH PROTESTED

Nikita's Summit Proposal Seen As Cautious Course

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Some Western diplomats saw Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for a summit conference today as evidence he is guiding the Soviet Union on a cautious course in the Cuban crisis.

They expressed a belief that his suggestion indicates he wants to avert a head-on collision with the United States.

In a message yesterday to Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher, Khrushchev put the summit proposal this way:

"The question of war and peace is so vital that we should consider useful a top-level meeting in order to discuss all problems which have arisen, to do everything possible to remove the danger of unleashing a thermonuclear war."

While denouncing the U.S. blockade of arms shipments to Cuba as "piratical," Khrushchev ignored the reason President John F. Kennedy announced for the Cuban quarantine, the establishment of Soviet-built missile bases in Cuba.

Moscow insists all arms sent to Cuba are defensive. And it never has admitted missiles are among the weapons. But perhaps significantly, a Soviet Embassy official in London said no nuclear warheads were among arms sent to Cuba.

Russell, in a message, urged the Soviet leader "not to be provoked by the unjustifiable action of the U.S. in Cuba." The Briton also sent Kennedy a message condemning the blockade and calling on him to "end this madness." Kennedy has not replied.

In London, Russell seized on Khrushchev's summit suggestion and sent him a second message urging him to "hold back ships in Cuban waters long enough to secure American agreement to your proposal."

Then the 90-year-old philosopher, who in recent years has been campaigning to abolish nuclear weapons, sent another message to Kennedy. He urged the president to make a conciliatory response to Khrushchev.

There was no indication from Washington, however, that the president is in a hurry to meet Khrushchev. One Washington source said no conclusion should be drawn from the premier's words until it is known how Soviet ships meet the U.S. naval blockade.

Khrushchev's message to Russell contained no hint that he will submit to the U.S. blockade.

However, the premier told Russell the Soviet Union will make no reckless decisions and will not "be provoked by unwarranted actions of the United States."

Khrushchev coupled this with talk of nuclear war and a call for the United States to lift the Cuban quarantine.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Alvin York Sick

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Alvin York, 74, one of the nation's best known war heroes, has been hospitalized for treatment of internal hemorrhaging.

His physicians, Dr. Guy C. Pinckley, said last night the famed sergeant was not in serious condition but may become worse "if this thing doesn't clear up."

"It's been presumed the bleeding is due to ulceration," the doctor said. "But we are not sure."

York won the Medal of Honor after killing 25 enemy soldiers and capturing 132 others during World War I in the battle of the Argonne. He is partially paralyzed fromLYLI partially paralyzed from strokes and has been bedridden for nine years.

Winnie Ruth Judd Free Two Weeks

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd, 1931 mutilation slayer of two women friends, has been free two weeks, already making this her second most successful escape since a six-week absence in 1939.

That escape was her first and since that time she has slipped out of the Arizona State Hospital six more times.

Mrs. Judd, 58, made world headlines when her luggage was found to contain the remains of two friends.

Her latest escape caused little furor. For a few days, police received numerous tips on where she might be.

Satellite Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) The space agency plans to launch the Explorer 15 satellite tomorrow to probe the strength of the radiation belt formed by a U.S. nuclear explosion high above the Pacific last July.

The satellite is designed to measure intensity of the artificial band and perhaps tell scientists how to protect future spacecraft which will pass through it. Three United States satellites have been damaged and rendered useless by the belt.

Gas Rationing

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio said gasoline has been rationed in the Cuban city of Cienfuegos "as a precautionary measure in view of the threat of the Yankee imperialist blockade."

Cienfuegos is on Las Villas Province's southwestern coast near the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion site. The broadcast, monitored in Key West Wednesday night said nothing about gas rationing elsewhere in Cuba.

Conelrad Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Conelrad attack warning plan is being developed by the Federal Communications Commission and radio stations, the Defense Department said yesterday.

The broadcast frequencies which have been used in the past are still in effect — 640 and 1240 kilocycles.

The Pentagon said requirements for restrictions on broadcasting frequencies for emergency information have been lifted by the military and a new plan is being worked out.

No further details were available.

Missiles: Little Time To Install

WASHINGTON (AP) — The relatively simple launch gear of Soviet mobile missiles enabled the Communists to put China's 1,200-mile range rockets into position in very few days.

Longer range Soviet ballistic missiles spotted by U.S. reconnaissance aircraft are designed for firing from more complex permanent launch pads.

These bases for the 2,500-mile range IRBMs take some time to build and photographs made public by the Defense Department indicate construction of some of these Cuban sites are in the early stages.

The Pentagon pictures of the Soviet mobile missiles in Cuba show a relatively crude layout.

There are simple launch pads and missile erectors, missile fuel trucks and some storage buildings or trailers.

In one picture, the launchers were off to one side aimed, a Pentagon spokesman said, at a specific area of the United States.

He didn't say what area, but in general it was said that these missiles could strike within an arc covering the southeastern portion of the United States.

The missiles rested on trailers which are moved to the launcher where they are grasped by a mechanical device and erected upright.

U.S. CIVIL DEFENSE ACTIVITIES INCREASE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Civil defense agencies— on national, state, and local levels—stepped up emergency activities today to meet any eventualities posed by the Cuban crisis.

At Washington it was announced that the capital's emergency relocation center at nearby Lorton, Va., is manned on a 24-hour basis.

The Defense Department said 60 million shelter spaces throughout the nation are scheduled to be stocked with necessary supplies. At present, officials said, facilities for only several hundred thousand persons are immediately available.

The Civil Defense Committee of the Governors' Conference convenes tomorrow at the Pentagon in emergency session. The committee is headed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Already there has been a sharp rise in consumer purchases of canned goods and other non-perishable packaged foods.

Builders of home shelters, whose business had been slow, report a sudden surge in inquiries and requests for fast construction.

In Little Rock, Ark., Gov. Orval Faubus met with top civil defense and military leaders. The state's radiation testing instruments were being checked, and C.D. leaders said they may go on television and radio soon to advise citizens on safety measures. The regional civil defense office was swamped with calls.

The Los Angeles city civil defense director suggested housewives keep a two-week supply of food on hand and keep auto tanks full of gas.

Important Indian Town Is Captured

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Chinese Communists have captured the important northeast Indian town of Towang, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced today.

The spokesman announced that Towang fell after bitter fighting yesterday. Chinese Communist troops are advancing in most areas, he added.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon was coming under mounting fire because of the ineffectiveness of India's resistance on the frontier. Prime Minister Nehru was reported to be defending him.

"It looks as if someone is spreading a ceremonial red carpet for the advancing Red Chinese along the entire northeast frontier," said one party leader who with 29 others critized Menon severely in a meeting with Nehru Tuesday.

The government meanwhile admitted steady Chinese advances all along the northeast boundary, as much as 37 miles in some areas and indicated the Communists had captured most of their objectives in the disputed areas in the northwest, the Ladakh sector of Kashmir.

"In no place has the Indian Army held ground since the massive Chinese assault began on Saturday, and every day it is the same tale of so many pockets falling to the advancing enemy," one of them said.

ual thing—not something that is forced.

"I do not object to the Supreme Court decision (on integration) but think we should have been more lenient in applying it." He said this also applies to the situation in Oxford, Miss. where James Meredith, a Negro, has started classes.

Hobbs said that there are no Negroes who are members of his church but that Negroes attend services and Sunday Schools. "They have their own churches and for the most part prefer to go to their own churches." He added that the convention which he heads has no colleges under its helm but that it has six seminaries, some in the South, and all are integrated. The Strawberry seminary is one of this six.

"We should hold up the principles that Jesus taught and that the New Testament teaches of the infinite worth of the individual," said Hobbs. "If I picked out one basic principle, I would choose the competency of each individual before God."

POWERS

ficial to California." Powers declared:

The 62-year-old grain rancher announced as a gubernatorial hopeful in June, 1961 but never filed for the office. After Nixon announced his candidacy in September, 1961, Powers withdrew from the race. At the time, he termed Nixon a "discard from the rubble heap of national politics."

After Powers left the conference room, McCarthy, who had been a silent witness during Powers' remarks, strode to the head table and sat down before the TV microphones and cameras.

He conceded his action was somewhat unorthodox, inasmuch as the Democrats had called the news conference, but offered to share costs of hiring the press conference room. At this point, Harry Lerner, a publicity man for Brown headquarters, walked to the head table and told newsmen that costs of the room are not an issue. He said McCarthy, minority leader of the State Senate, was "overstepping the bounds of propriety and fairness by undermining and invading" a Democratic news conference.

McCarthy insisted that he was not trying to take over the conference, again offered to share the costs and in turn accused the Democrats of invading news conferences. Lerner charged McCarthy with "below the belt tactics" and denied that Democrats had taken advantage of a conference called by the opposition to present their views.

As Lerner left the speaker's table, McCarthy replied: "You ought to know all about below-the-belt tactics, because you've been using them." Then the legislator told newsmen:

"I am appalled and shocked to see my friend, Mr. Powers, read that statement, which was written for him."

Bradley May Have 'Choked His Mother'

Ex-Marine Claude Hilton Bradley, 22, might well have choked Mrs. Carole Frederick, 29, because he thought she was his mother, a San Rafael psychiatrist testified yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Jean Pouteau, called by defense attorney Berwyn A. Rice, told the jury of nine women and three men that "misidentification" was a strong possibility. The psychiatrist explained that Mrs. Frederick's apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue was dimly lighted, and Bradley had been drinking heavily that night. These could have caused a "transference of identity."

Mrs. Nora Woosley, Bradley's mother, testified last week that her son had always resented the fact that she had remarried, and he did not get along with his stepfather.

Dr. Pouteau likened Bradley's temper to the tantrum of a 2-year-old child, who lies on the kitchen floor and pounds away until he is exhausted.

"The man is capable of explosive reaction," said Dr. Pouteau. "There is a possibility that this explosive reaction might have been toward his mother — a transference of identity."

Another psychiatrist, Dr. Philip S. Hicks of San Rafael, took the witness stand this morning as trial continued before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Dr. Hicks testified he believes Bradley was suffering from psychosis when he visited Mrs. Frederick on the morning of June 3. The psychiatrist said he does not believe that Bradley's mental state was such that he could premeditate the killing of anyone.

RUSS

Braverman was not able to visit any of the suburban homes, but said he saw a model of a new dwelling at one of the numerous exhibitions put on by the Chamber of Commerce of the USSR.

"It evidently was intended to be the last word, but was far removed from what we are used to in size of rooms and conveniences," he commented. "The Russians plan to provide one room for each person in a household by 1970 and by 1980 they hope to provide apartment rentals free. Rentals now run from $10 to $15 a month."

He described the general attitude of the Russian people as "somber" and not given to gaiety or light-heartedness. But he found no indications of disloyalty, rebelliousness or unhappiness among those he met.

"They are not able to save much money, but there are savings banks which pay 3 to 4 per cent interest. Of course if they accumulate too much it probably leads to suspicion that they are engaged in black market activities and an investigation. I understand there is some of this going on. In clothing factories, for example, the yardage is carefully checked, but apparently there are ways of getting around it," he commented.

In Budapest, which the group visited after two weeks in Russia, Braverman said conditions were noticeably different, even though Hungary is a satellite country. He felt the people were gayer and more given to open discussions. Hungary has its own manufacturing plants and there is a wider variety of furnishings and clothing, and more evidence of imported goods.

Defrocked Priest In Scandal Buried

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Walter A. Ryan, the 57-year-old defrocked Catholic priest with the tangled marital affairs, was buried today in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

He was defrocked by the church after his secret marriage to Alice Balskis in New York 12 years ago. They separated in 1955 after having three children.

She later sued the Roman Catholic Church, claiming church authorities kidnaped Ryan from her—a charge he and the church both denied. In later court action, Ryan was found not to have fathered a fourth child as she claimed.

CUBA

terday that he considered a summit meeting useful in order to do everything possible to remove the danger of nuclear war.

But in a letter to Kennedy about the same time, officials here said, Khrushchev made no direct bid for a conference and concentrated his remarks on denouncing Kennedy's quarantine action.

The Washington Post quoted a reliable government source today as saying six Soviet ships nearest Cuba had altered their course but did not turn back. It quoted the official as saying a Polish ship farther back was continuing toward Cuba.

The story added, "It also appeared that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wanted a satellite ship, rather than a Russian vessel, to test the U.S. determination to halt and search ships heading for Cuba, and thus avoid any direct confrontation of U.S.-Russian forces."

In other developments related to the crisis:

The Federal Aviation Agency directed that no civilian planes may fly over the southern half of Florida, the U.S. area nearest Cuba, unless they are operating on approved flight plans and in direct radio contact with air traffic control centers.

Mobilization plans for the home front were brought up to date for use in the event of a shooting war.

Word of the apparent diversion of Soviet ships which could only have been ordered from Moscow coupled with Khrushchev's statement to Russell that the Soviet government would avoid any rash decision and was interested in a summit conference served to lessen somewhat the tense sense of crisis. But authorities here cautioned that it could well be only a lull in the storm, that a confrontation of U.S. warships and Soviet vessels might still occur, and that the central issue of Soviet rocket bases in Cuba remained untouched.

The Defense Department released what it described as undeniable intelligence reports that at least 30 big missiles, more than 20 Soviet-built jet bombers are now in Cuba.

DANIEL THOMPSON

Daniel Martin Thompson, 53, senior group supervisor at Marin County Juvenile Hall for almost six years, died suddenly this morning at his Woodacre home, apparently from a heart attack.

He lived with is wife Albmil K. Thompson at 47 Taylor Drive in Woodacre. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Mrs. Thompson had already left for work this morning when Thompson was stricken in the bathroom.

Thompson's son, Richard Thompson of Fairfax, found his father lying on the floor, fully dressed, about 8:30 this morning. An autopsy was to be performed today. Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Probation Officer Walter H. Busher said Thompson joined the probation office on Jan. 2, 1957, and was the oldest member of the juvenile hall staff in years of service. "He was extremely well liked by the children, and was receptive to the best practices in the field," said Busher. "His loss will be hard to replace."

Flood, Sanitation Meeting Tomorrow

Committee Probes High School Science

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A 19-member committee today began probing California high school science courses to try and keep them up to date with rapidly growing scientific knowledge.

The Department of Education said the committee of educators and administrators will try to modernize biology, chemistry and physics courses along the lines recommended by several recent nationwide experimental studies.

These studies have placed prime emphasis on the laboratory end of science teaching. They recommended letting the student devise his own experiments based on his own ideas and hypotheses, instead of having him repeat old experiments whose results are already known.

One department spokesman said students have to be taugh how scientists think.

The committee has also been asked to collect and distribute information about new science courses some advanced school districts have developed for themselves.

San Rafael Teachers' Pay Compared In Nearby Areas

The ever-recurrent question of teacher salaries was brought up again this week with presentation to the San Rafael Board of Education of a request by the San Rafael Teachers Assn. for a new, 15-step scale.

The teachers took the position that salaries should be raised from those agreed upon last spring because the San Rafael High and Elementary School Districts are in a bit better financial position than was then expected — and because San Rafael teacher salaries are "at the bottom among 25 districts in the Bay Area."

To substantiate the latter allegation, J. F. Trentacoste of the teachers' salary committee presented a list of 25 school districts, all of which were higher at either bottom or top of the salary scale (or both) than the San Rafael schools.

Ralph K. Hansen, district personnel director, told the board, "These are not just picked. These were the districts that appeared in the California Teachers Assn. sample this year."

San Rafael's teacher salary scale has 16 steps ranging from $5,000 to a top of $9,770. None of the 25 others listed showed minimum pay below $5,000. Highest minimum shown was $5,900 in Fremont Union High School District in Santa Clara County. Maximums ranged from $9,332 (in Alum Rock Elementary District in Santa Clara County, with minimum pay of $5,050) to $10,700 in the Fremont district.

The 25 districts shown included such small ones as Brisbane and Woodside elementary districts in San Mateo County, and such large ones as San Francisco Unified (with a scale of $5,335 to $10,140).

San Rafael is among 15 Bay Area school setups with either a unified district or high and elementary school districts jointly administered (the latter being the case here).

Highest starting salary in the 15 is $5,200 in Santa Clara City Schools. San Rafael, at $5,000, tied for seventh place with Mount Diablo Unified (Contra Costa County), Richmond City Schools and San Jose Unified. Lowest minimum is $4,704 in Petaluma schools.

Highest maximum is $10,300 in South San Francisco Unified District. San Rafael again ranks seventh, with $9,770. Lowest is Vallejo Unified with $8,984.

One of the districts with a higher top than San Rafael is Pittsburg Unified in Contra Costa County, but there a doctor's degree is necessary to reach the top pay of $10,020. Without such degree, top is $9,775 — just $5 above San Rafael, where a doctor's degree is not required for the maximum pay.

All 14 of these districts, however, like all 25 on the list provided by the San Rafael Teachers Assn., have fewer steps between minimum and maximum pay than San Rafael. Trentacoste told the board that teachers were more interested in reducing the number of steps — thus making advancement in pay more rapid — than in increasing the scale.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

Saundra Lee Lundberg, 21, told the California Highway Patrol she lost control while negotiating a curve. The vehicle skidded into a fence, knocking down 10 feet of it, and came to rest against a large tree.

Planner Hiring Given Priority

Hiring of a new planning consultant was given "high priority" last night by the Mill Valley City Council, though one councilman said he didn't know if a new planner was needed at all.

The city has received notice planning consultant Robert Cornish will resign Nov. 19.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants was directed to look for a successor, and Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said "high priority" must be given the hiring.

Discussing three plans before the city—East Mill Valley, Alto and North Ridge — Councilman Michael Wornum said Cornish's resignation should be accepted subject to completion of Cornish's commitments, and asked that a letter be written spelling out projects Cornish has orally agreed to complete. These include the above three.

Wornum also said he was agitated because "Cornish said there was no need for a full-time planner at the last budget session. Subsequent to that he said he was too busy. I don't think this is responsible behavior. Now he (Cornish) suggests a fulltime planner. I don't know at this stage whether they (the planning commission) need a planner at all.

The council referred both the East Mill Valley plan and Alto plan back to the planning commission for further study.

The East Mill Valley plan concerns circulation in the area of Miller and Sycamore avenues and Camino Alto. The Alto plan concerns circulation between Highway 101 and Camino Alto along East Blithedale Avenue extension.

Manuel Gomez protested that a zoning hearing not be held on the North Ridge area until the county planning commission has completely studied the surrounding watershed area lying in the county. "If there is anything overdue, it is North Ridge," said Wornum. Both Wornum and Councilman George Blackwell agreed on this and Blackwell said Cornish, who planned the North Ridge, "should stay and see this thing through."

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks asked Mill Valley citizens to report any acts of vandalism and to conduct a vigilante committee to protect public property. He asked this after reporting that 15 per cent of the newly planted city trees had been "wantonly destroyed" Last weekend by vandals. "It's a sad commentary on our city," he said.

The council adopted a proclamation declaring Oct. 31 "UNICEF trick or treat holiday." The action backs the collection of money on Halloween to be used for food and medicine for children around the world.

The council also:

1. Adopted a resolution establishing "no parking" from 550 Miller Avenue to Gomez Way.

2. Decided to hold up until April a proposed repair of drainage problem at Meadow Road and Ashford Avenue.

3. Acknowledged receipt of $75 from Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agencies to purchase fire extinguishers for four police vehicles. This was a gift sent via Muller's General Insurance Agency of Mill Valley.

4. Asked Almcrants to investigate a lot at 30 Corte Madera, up for sale at $40,000, as possible property for city use.

A cartoon will be shown in the school auditorium, then youngsters will again go on parade within the room, to be judged for the best costumes. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. The event is expected to last until 9 p.m.

Deer Hunter Found Guilty

He was fined $250 and his hunting license was suspended for three years by Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in place of Judge David R. Baty who had been recently disqualified from this case.

Baty had previously fined Leonard Groves, a milker on the Moreda ranch, $150, suspended his hunting license for three years, and ordered his rifle turned in to the California Department of Fish and Game on charges of hunting at night and with a spotlight and possession of a loaded rifle in a car. Moreda entered a plea of innocent at the time but waived right to a jury trial.

A total of 3,046 deer were killed by cars in Wisconsin in 1960, an increase of 55 from 1959.

JOHN STEINBECK
Sixth American to win

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — John Steinbeck, whose novel "The Grapes of Wrath" ranks as one of the classics of 20th century American letters, today was awarded the 1962 Nobel Prize for Literature.

Steinbeck, who rose to fame in the 1930s with novels and short stories that reflected the "common people" and the depressed economic conditions of the age, thus became the sixth American to receive the Nobel award.

The other five were William Faulkner, Ernest Hemingway, Sinclair Lewis, Pearl Buck, and playwright Eugene O'Neill.

Steinbeck was born on Feb. 27, 1902 in Salinas, Calif., a section that provided the background for many of his novels and stories.

Once, when asked to furnish biographic information, Steinbeck said:

"Please feel free to make up your own facts about me as you need them. I can't remember how much of me really happened and how much I invented . . . biography by its very nature must be half-fiction."

The Swedish Academy of Letters, in naming Steinbeck the recipient of the award, praised the American novelist for "his at one and the same time realistic and imaginative writings, distinguished as they are by a sympathetic humor and social perception."

Steinbeck's first three books sold only a few thousand copies and he languished in obscurity until the publication of "Tortilla Flat" in 1935.

"Tortilla Flat," is the story of Mexican and other foreign laborers in California.

Following the success of "Tortilla Flat," Steinbeck moved into the political realm with the publication of "In Dubious Battle," a portrait of background Communist movements in a strike of California fruit pickers.

One of his most sympathetic and famous novels was his next published "Of Mice and Men," the study of two itinerant farm hands.

Steinbeck received full critical acclaim in 1939 when "The Grapes of Wrath" was published.

Dealing with the Joad family and the misery they endure when forced to leave their land in Oklahoma and become "Okies" or migrant workers in California, Stenbeck's anger questioned the entire economic structure of a nation that could so blithely ignore private well-being.

Steinbeck's most recently published book was "Travels with Charley," a light, whimsical piece dealing with a trip the author and his dog (Charley) took across the United States.

However, it was apparent the Nobel committee selected Steinbeck not for any one work, but for his vast body of fiction.

THE WINNAH—AND NEW CHAMPEEN!

No, it's not a new kind of Halloween jack-o-lantern. It's a sugar cube with three drops of Sabin oral polio vaccine added (maybe for the eyes, nose and mouth?) giving itself a victory handshake for conquering poliomyelitis. Marin County, which turned out over 80 per cent of its residents for type 1 Sabin vaccine on the first K.O. Polio Sunday, is expected to do it again for type 2 on Nov. 4. Photographer Ken Molino concocted the fantasy of the tiny fighter.

RUNAWAY ALL WET, CAPTURED

Highway patrolmen yesterday turned over to Marin sheriff's deputies a wet, shivering 14-year-old parole violator from Oakland after cornering him in a culvert near Novato.

The youth, who told officers he ran away Tuesday night, had been paroled recently by the California Youth Authority, to which he was assigned for burglary and car theft.

Patrolman Keith Craig, driving south on Highway 101 near Novato, saw the youth walking north. Craig said the youth kept looking back over his shoulder after the patrol car passed him.

"I touched the brakes just to see what he would do," said Craig. "Sure enough, he dived for the ditch."

The youth ran through a field, crossed Novato Creek and swam a slough. He tried to hide in a culvert, but was captured there.

Marinite Named To Teacher Post

Frances Mason, fifth grade teacher at Laurel Dell School, has been named secretary of the California Assn. for Student Teaching.

The state group is affiliated with the American Assn. for Student Teaching with a membership composed of college professors, principals and supervising teachers.

Miss Mason has been a teacher in San Rafael city schools since 1951 and last year was president of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. She is now Marin County representative to the California Teachers Assn. state council.

Japanese Flower Expert For Show

A flower arrangement instructor and adviser from Japan will give two demonstrations Saturday afternoon during the annual chrysanthemum show at the Crocker-Anglo National Bank in San Rafael.

The 14th annual show, sponsored by the Marin Chrysanthemum Society, will be held in the bank lobby both Saturday and Sunday. The show opens at 2 p.m. Saturday and continues until 9:30 that night. Sunday hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Shuko Kobayashi, the flower arranging expert from Japan, will demonstrate at 3 p.m. and at 7 p.m. on Saturday. Last February, Kobayashi held demonstrations and a special workshop at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

On Sunday at 2 p.m., Homer F. Crowell of San Anselmo, chairman of the show, will use a special board of cut blooms to demonstrate the various types and varieties of chrysanthemums.

Ivan Johnson of Novato is co-chairman of the show.

Mrs. Russell F. Bjorn of San Rafael, arrangements chairman, announced that cash prizes, trophies and ribbons will go to winners in various categories. Live plants and cut blooms are expected to fill the lobby of the bank at Fourth and B Street in San Rafael.

Entries will be accepted at the bank from 7:30 p.m. Friday until the show opens Saturday at 2 p.m., Mrs. Bjorn announced.

Volunteers For Tax Campaign

Jules Becker of Ross, who has a San Francisco public relations firm, has agreed to serve as volunteer consultant for the Tamalpais High School District tax campaign, general chairman Edward W. Colthurst announced today.

Becker, with San Francisco newspaper editor Harry Press, was co-chairman of a Tam District campaign in 1959 which authorized the present $1.90 tax rate in the district.

The proposal, scheduled for the state general schools election in April, asks voters to retain the $1.90 basic operational tax rate, the rate to expire in 1964. For the current year, trustees have levied $1.86. In addition, the district levies 34 cents for bond redemption, retirement, and community services.

Aid To Retarded Unit Will Hear Doctor Talk

Dr. Dean will discuss preadmission and admission procedures, and explain the three categories of waiting lists—imperative, active and deferred.

STATE PLANNING 627-FOOT HIGH BRIDGE

This is an artist's concept of the nation's second highest suspension bridge, a five-million-dollar span which the State Department of Water Resources will build across the Middle Fork of the Feather River in Butte County. It was made necessary by construction of Oroville Dam. The roadway will be 627 feet above the river bed. However, once the middle fork is filled, the water will come within 47 feet of the roadway. Only the Royal Gorge Bridge in Colorado is higher. The state will call for bids tomorrow.

'Hyde Park' Speechmaking At College

By FRED WYATT

A student who witnessed speechmaking in Hyde Park while living in London has brought the Hyde Park idea to College of Marin.

The student is Rick Gherman, 23, a business major, who gave opponents the business yesterday in the second weekly speaker's hour from a stump on the college main lawn.

"It's time," he told about 150 students in front of the library, to do something in this crisis with Russia over Cuba. I don't think Russia will back down. I think they'll try to run our blockade and we'll have an old fashioned shooting war. I hope the American people are ready."

Gherman, who spent three-and-one-half years in the American Army in Germany and then several months living in other European countries, was followed to the stump by Robert Stockwell, 19, head of the new Young Republican club on the campus.

"This is not a partisan issue," he said, urging students to send wires to President John F. Kennedy to express their feelings over his stand with Russia. He said wires so far had gone "12 to one in favor of his decision."

A student who identified himself as Mike Woods addressed the group in opposition to Proposition 24, the proposed Francis anti-Communist amendment, which he said was opposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Richard M. Nixon, the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles Times and California State Democratic Committee.

Jim Lucas, star end on the football team, said he had heard on the radio at noon that "Khrushchev backed down" by deciding not to have his ships try to reach Cuba "so I guess there's not going to be war."

Gherman spoke again, saying "I'm glad the Cuban problem is solved."

Gherman said "We can't trust the Russians" and expressed hope that "we won't be pushed around by those damned Reds." He said they kept grabbing land all over the world unless halted, "I'm for dropping bombs."

Other students spoke until it was 1 p.m. and Gherman thanked the students for their participation and disconnected the speaker system.

The speaker's hour will be held every Wednesday noon, he said. Gherman, a native of San Francisco, attended University of California at Santa Barbara before coming to Marin. He intends to go into the real estate business.

Car Collides With Deer On Highway

Pedro F. Elizondo, a gardener living at 2025 Shady Lane, Novato, was driving his station wagon north down St. Vincent's Hill north of Marinwood at 1:30 p.m. when the animal crossed the freeway from the left.

Elizondo said he braked hard but struck and killed the deer which shattered his left front headlight and the left side of the windshield. He refused hospitalization for minor cuts.

Haiti is second only to the United States as the oldest republic in the Western Hemisphere. Haitian independence was proclaimed Jan. 1, 1804.

Peninsula Group Might Expand

Reorganization of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council was considered at last night's council meeting because of increased interest in common problems among peninsula residents.

The council has been restricted to elected delegates from peninsula organizations such as homeowner groups and local districts. But William H. Rafter, council chairman, said there are many new residents who are concerned about community problems including taxes, bridges and planning controls.

The council will seek to open its membership to anyone interested, Rafter said, and may be formed along the lines of a town forum.

APPEALS—Pope John XXIII has appealed to the world's rulers to work harder then ever to keep peace. His appeal was contained in a worldwide broadcast. (AP Wirephoto)

Pope Makes Special Appeal For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) Pope John XXIII, showing deep concern over the Cuban crisis, appealed urgently to the world's rulers to do everything in their power to save peace.

The 80-year-old pontiff made the plea in a surprise broadcast beamed around the world by the Vatican radio. He apparently decided on the plea only a few hours before the broadcast started.

The Pope spoke for two and a half minutes, supplicating the world leaders to do all they can for peace.

"By so doing they will spare the world the horrors of a war that could have disastrous consequences such as nobody can foresee," he said.

"Let them continue to negotiate because this loyal and open attitude is of great value as a witness in the face of history.

"To promote, favor and accept negotiations, at all levels and at all times, is a rule of wisdom and prudence which calls down the blessings of heaven and earth."

Many of the thousands of Roman Catholic Ecumenical prelates here for the Vatican Ecumenical Council were unaware of the Pope's decision to speak. The council was in recess today.

Pope John said the council had just opened amid joy and hope of all men of good will, but "threatening clouds now come to darken again the international horizon and to sow fear in millions of families.

The Pope concluded his brief radio appeal by asking all Christians to "join their prayers to ours in order to obtain from heaven the gift of peace —a peace which will be true and lasting only if it is based on justice and equality."

KTIM Covering Current Crisis

Full radio news coverage of the international situation is being offered by Marin's radio stations KTIM-AM and FM, news editor Karl Barron announced today.

While the station's normal policy is to devote two-thirds of each newscast to local happenings, Barron said this has been changed during the present crisis.

Local news will be condensed to allow full international coverage on every broadcast. In addition, bulletins as they are received from United Press International will interrupt all programming.

News is heard on KTIM at 7:30, 8:45 and 10 a.m., noon, 1:05, 2, 4 and 5:30 p.m., with a final edition on FM at 9:45 p.m.

Carrow Charges Bagley Uses State Funds On His 'Image'

"Immoral and possibly illegal practices" were charged today by Robert D. Carrow, Novato Democratic candidate for the state assembly, against incumbent Republican William T. Bagley of San Rafael.

Carrow said in a KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer that Bagley improperly diverted state funds to a "professional image builder" in the person of Price Hall of San Rafael, listed in the phone book as a public relations man but hired by Bagley as legislative assistant.

Declaring that he was asking investigation by the Marin and Sonoma grand juries, Carrow demanded reply by Bagley.

"A desperate effort to gain a few votes . . . a farce" Bagley called the attack. He said Hall had been paid from campaign funds during the campaign and at other times had sometimes received the maximum $300 monthly allowed for an assistant, at times getting as little as $100.

Bagley said Hall had performed necessary and legal functions through handling phone calls and mail classification.

"I don't wish to descend to mud-slinging," said Carrow. "There is no question but that there is a great deal of work for an assistant as is recognized by the legislature's provision of $300 a month.

"The question is whether this should be directed toward a professional image builder."

Bagley retorted that "funds were not used to build an image of me and I don't feel that it is needed—I build my own image.

He added that Hall has a "small public relations business in addition to assisting me in a legislative capacity."

The hour-long discussion, which will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday by tape recording, got down to issues off and on with Carrow attacking what he characterized generally as a "bad vote" record defended by Bagley as constructive.

Bagley objected to being tied to the San Francisco-Tiburon bridge proposal as his sole contribution to traffic solution and said he favored a coordinated authority, with attention to such needs as a parallel to Highway 101.

Carrow said he favored Supervisor Peter Behr's plan for a bridge first paralleling the Bay Bridge, then swinging along the East Bay to connect with the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge giving a route to downtown San Francisco of about the present distance across the Golden Gate and also adaptable to rapid transit.

On the death penalty, Bagley favored its retention as a deterrent though saying its application should be made more fair, while Carrow felt it should go along with other "barbaric practices" of the past.

Tam School Unification Move Gets Setback

Possibility of a giant, unified school district that would put all elementary and high schools within the Tamalpais Union High School District under one administration and one governing body was set back last night.

A motion placed before the Marin County Augmented Committee on School District Organization to recommend such a district was tabled by a 15 to five vote. The action came during a four and one-half hour meeting of the augmented committee that stretched into the yawning hours in Ruby Scott Auditorium at Tamalpais High School.

When the augmented committee adjourned at 12:30 a.m. today, the regular meeting of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, which makes up the core of the augmented committee, was called to order. The seven members still present voted unanimously to include the West Marin and Point Reyes elementary school districts in the Tamalpais unification study.

The action was hailed by four residents of the West Marin district, including Mrs. David Baty, a member of the West Marin Elementary District board. She said that since the State Board of Education's recent rejection of a Tomales High School Unification, the only alternative West Marin and Point Reyes Districts have is to join some other high school district.

The effect of the action in including the two additional districts will be to force the committee to hold at least three more meetings before making a recommendation on unification in the Tamalpais District.

But it was evident last night that the augmented committee is far from agreement on any recommendation and at least three more meetings will be in order.

Edwin L. Blackmore, coordinator of rural education for the county schools office and assistant secretary of the district organization committee, touched off the discussion last night by presenting tax and attendance figures for four possible areas of unification: the Redwood High School attendance area, the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area, the Tamalpais High School attendance area and the Tamalpais District as a whole.

Based on the 1961-62 assessed values in these areas, the tax rate needed to raise the same amount of school money raised in these areas during that year would be $4.43 per $100 of assessed valuation in Redwood, $4.19 in Drake, $3.79 in Tamalpais and $4.18 in the district as a whole.

There was considerable discussion and debate over the validity of these figures, but members of the committee agreed that the figures could serve as "guides" in the discussion.

Doris Harnsberger, a trustee from the San Anselmo School District, said that a three-way split of the district along attendance area lines would impose serious inequities.

She figured that tax revenues per pupil, including local, state and federal tax revenues, would range from $682 in Drake, to $859 in Tamalpais to $974 in Redwood.

After considerable discussion Robert E. Rogers, a committee member from San Rafael, observed that the three-way, attendance area split held the possibility of endangering education for some and benefiting only a few. He moved that the augmented committee adopt a tentative recommendation in favor of unifying the Tamalpais district as a whole.

Roger Morse, a committee member from San Rafael, seconded the motion.

Main issue in the debate that followed was that such action would rule out all other alternatives—alternatives that have not yet been fully considered by the committee. Strongest protest came from members of the Reed Elementary School District who favor a unified district on the Tiburon Peninsula that would split the Redwood attendance area.

Blackmore explained that adoption of the resolution would force the committee into public hearings on the large, unified district alone. Adoption or rejection of the proposal as a recommendation to the state board of education would take place when the hearings were over.

Rogers' motion never came to a vote. J. R. B. Ellis, Kentfield trustee, moved that it be tabled. Fay Jensen, Fairfax trustee, seconded.

Morse, Rogers, Committeeman Jean Kallmayer of San Rafael, and the Lagunitas and San Anselmo elementary districts cast the only votes against tabling.

In the augmented committee, each school district in the study area involved has one vote. Sausalito and Nicasio elementary school districts were not represented, and William L. Blair of Fairfax and Alex Mitchell of Tomales, members of the district organization committee were absent last night.

During a recess, trustees from various districts were asked to caucus on the three-way attendance area split.

Kentfield, Ross and Reed districts were against a district as a whole. Lagunitas, Fairfax and San Anselmo were against any action that would place Drake in a district by itself. Mill Valley and Bolinas-Stinson were undecided.

Helen Wallace of Belvedere, chairman of the committee, suggested that the augmented committee at its next meeting Nov. 28 hear the Reed proposal and hear also what could be offered by a giant, district-wide unification. The two, contrasting proposals, she thought, would give committee members "points of reference" in the discussion.

Members agreed to this and then voted to adjourn.

The augmented committee will meet Nov. 28. The committee's next regular meeting will be Nov. 21.

Navy Reserve Officer Exam Deadline Nov. 16

Summit Feeler Eases Fears In Europe

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's summit feeler today eased European fears that the Soviet Union and the United States might go to war over Cuba.

Demonstrations protesting the U.S. blockade of arms shipments to Cuba still flared around the globe. Some neutralist nations lined up in opposition to Washington's action.

America's allies in Europe rallied behind the United States. So did those in Latin America, and a number offered military aid to help enforce the blockade of Fidel Castro's Cuba.

A Soviet Embassy official in London asserted arms supplied to Cuba by Moscow are not fitted with nuclear warheads.

Khrushchev's suggestion that "a meeting at the highest level would be useful to discuss all questions that have arisen and to eliminate the threat of nuclear war" was contained in a message to Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher who campaigns for nuclear disarmament.

The West German government representative in West Berlin, Felix Von Eckardt, said he feels world peace will be in acute danger only if the Soviets walk out of the U.N. Security Council.

In London, 500 demonstrators trying to march on the U.S. Embassy fought with police. There was a rash of marches and petitions throughout Britain.

There were demonstrations against the U.S. in Communist Hungary and Poland.

Pro-Castro demonstrators also marched in Milan, Italy. In Rome pro-American youths fought with leftist union demonstrators. Demonstrators for and against Castro clashed outside the U.S. Embassy in Oslo.

Radio Peiping said Communist China agrees with the Soviet Union that a naval blockade of Cuba is "an act of aggression."

Algeria's ruling political bureau declared Algerian solidarity with "the valiant Cuban people." It called the blockade aggression.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cuban crisis captured the attention in the campaign for California's governorship today with a somber announcement and a challenge by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The Democratic governor last night called off most of his campaign appearances between now and election day because of the international situation.

At the same time, he challenged his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, to forget the communism issue during the current emergency.

Brown announced plans to fly to Washington for a governors' civil defense meeting Saturday and said he was "immediately moving back into my Sacramento office." Brown has spent most of his time during the campaign in Los Angeles.

"Let us agree here and now to remove this ugly and divisive kind of material from the campaign," he said.

Nixon told newsmen he does not consider it necessary to alter his campaign because of Cuban developments.

He said he would not cancel any campaign appearances, even if Brown did.

"I haven't been invited to Washington," Nixon said. "I hold no state office that requires my presence. I would have no excuse for canceling my engagements."

Asked if he would acede to a previous request by Brown to stop talking about communism and confine the campaign to "state issues," Nixon told reporters:

"I am going to continue to campaign on state issues. As far as I am concerned, I have been talking about state issues."

Today in a speech prepared for a service club meeting in the Los Angeles suburb of Pico Rivera, Nixon said "one area in which citizen organizations can make great contributions to the fight against communism is in crime prevention and upholding respect for the law."

In other political developments:

1. Brown turned down a demand by Assemblyman John Busterud, GOP candidate for state treasurer that he investigate the conduct of Democratic State Treasurer Bert Betts. Betts has been accused by Busterud of conflict of interest.

2. Republicans organized a "truth squad" to follow Brown around on his campaign travels. Then they learned Brown had called off most of his campaign.

WHY BOB CARROW ISN'T RUNNING ALL HIS ADS DURING THE LAST WEEK OF THE CAMPAIGN

That's the "right" way to do things, you know. A study at Michigan State University showed that many candidates spend about 70% of their advertising budgets during the last 36 hours of the campaign.

Trying to blitz you, the voter, into changing your mind, if only for two or three days. And then you have two years to wish maybe you hadn't.

Bob Carrow, the Democratic candidate for Assembly from Marin-Sonoma, feels that it's pretty important that you make your decision at leisure, on the basis of the men and the issues, not the last minute folderol and flagwaving.*

So now, while there are still a few weeks left, we ask you to consider carefully the merits of Robert Carrow (the Democrat) — and his opponent, W*llm B*gl*y (the R*p*bl*c*n).

We urge you to stop by your nearest Democratic headquarters (in San Rafael, Novato, Santa Rosa, Cloverdale, Petaluma or Sonoma) and pick up all the little folders that tell about Bob Carrow, the man and his platform. (Of course the good ladies there will doubtless load you down with Pat Brown, Stanley Mosk, and Woodrow Wilson bumper stickers. Just remember Bob Carrow is the bald one).

Then we suggest you stop by R*p*bl*c*n headquarters and collect some of the W*llm B*gl*y handouts. Compare the two now, while there's still time to get your questions answered and your opinions organized.

And we'll bet that you'll agree along with us, that Bob Carrow (the Democrat) is the better man to represent you in the State Assembly.

*—Oh, we're going to run a full-page ad in all the dailies on election eve, too. Doesn't everyone? Bob Carrow's however, may be a bit different.

HAPPY PIGEON—Pacific Telephone linemen have found a friendly pigeon called "Ma Bell"—or she's found them. "Ma" turned up last week at the company's equipment yard in San Rafael and seems to have made the yard her home. Gil Johannesen (left) holds the pigeon while Richard Morgan offers her some food. PIGEON HOLES UP

Telephone Company Is Getting The Bird

A blue-gray homing pigeon has made a pigeon out of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Down at the phone company's equipment yard at 98 Louise Street, San Rafael, they're calling the bird "Ma Bell." She's there to stay. The linemen have decided to adopt her—because she's adopted them.

Back in San Rafael, they tried again to get her to fly away home. Nothing doing. That truck was home, to the pigeon.

Yesterday, Richardson and Polacchi took the truck on a job in Woodacre—with the pigeon as passenger. But when Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean showed up to take the stow-away's picture, she had vanished.

"Well, that's that," said Richardson and Polacchi. "We've got rid of the pigeon."

But about that time, a pigeon landed in an identical truck which linemen Walter Simonds and George Flanders had left for a grease job at a Chevron service station on Francisco Boulevard, directly in front of the phone company yard.

Sure enough, it was Ma Bell.

Richardson and Polacchi were feeling a little out of it today. Ma was happy as a lark (or a pigeon) in Simonds' and Flanders' truck.

They're her pigeons.

JFK Clears His Desk Of Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today signed the last two money bills passed by the 87th Congress, completing enactment of a record peacetime total of $102,262,154,659 in appropriations.

The measures were among 11 signed into law by the president. This cleared his desk of legislation approved by the Congress before it left the capital.

The other measures included legislation cutting taxes immediately for all persons over 65 who have big retirement incomes.

Total funds voted by Congress to operate the government this year has been exceeded only twice before—both times during World War II.

The measures signed today provided $5,487,029,500 for the Agriculture Department and $5,069,134,000 for public works projects and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Prisoner Who Escaped Camp Arrested In Washington, D.C.

Patrick Morehouse, 32, a San Quentin inmate who escaped from a Mendocino County work camp a week ago, was in custody in Washington, D.C. facing charges of assault and possible involvement in a murder, Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said yesterday.

Frady said San Quentin authorities were notified of Morehouse's arrest by teletype from the metropolitan police in Washington.

Morehouse was being held for authorities at Seat Pleasant, Md., for alleged assault on a police officer. Washington police said the escapee may also be involved in a murder in Hereford County, Md.

Morehouse crosswired a car and drove off from the Parlin Fork Conservation Camp on Oct. 18, Frady said. He was sentenced to prison for assault with a deadly weapon in Alameda County in 1957.

Morehouse's wife and mother live in Washington, Frady said.

How Did Green Bay Become A Power In NFL? Here's Answer

HANLEY

How did Vince Lombardi convert Green Bay's cellar dwellers into champions in three years? He used a simple formula. But then all complicated problems become simple once solved. Green Bay's problem was extremely complicated when Lombardi went to work on it in 1959. The Packers had won just one of 12 league games in 1958, their worst season in 40 years.

Civic pride and team morale had dipped so low following the 1958 season that the late Bert Bell, then commissioner of the National Football League, feared Green Bay would drop out of the NFL. Bell didn't want that to happen because Green Bay cradled pro football in 1919. Bell convinced the multiple owners of the Packers they needed a strong man who would be the absolute voice in the front office and also on the field. What did the numerous small stockholders have to lose? They agreed.

BELL THEN went to Wellington Mara, owner of the New York Giants, who agreed to let Lombardi go if Bell could sweet talk him into taking the job as general manager and head coach of the Packers. At the time Lombardi was Jim Lee Howell's No. 1 aide with the Giants. A persuasive talker, Bell convinced Lombardi who not only was in line to succeed Howell but had lived his entire life in and about New York.

Lombardi's qualifications for the job were sound. Hadn't he been one of Fordham's "seven blocks of granite" in the '30s? And didn't he coach a New Jersey high school team to a string of 36 wins before becoming freshman coach at Fordham whence he moved to a five year career at Army as Earl Blaik's assistant? It was from the Army in 1954 that Lombardi made the big jump to the pros as Howell's assistant.

LOTS OF COACHES had comparable qualifications but Lombardi also had some extra —a law degree from Fordham that he earned following his basic college degree in 1937. That legal training was as important as his football background because the Green Bay job called for dual hats—general manager and head coach.

One of Lombardi's first acts as general manager now has become a favorite story in Green Bay, part of the community's legend. But it was no legend at the time it happened. Lombardi slashed the Packers' political pass list drastically, even lopping the "dead heads" of city supervisors from the free list.

Lombardi was just as tough with the football team. It sounded corny when he announced his simple formula to the veterans. Blocking and tackling. "They are the basics and that's where we are starting," Lombardi told the Packers.

BLOCKING and tackling comprised 90 per cent of the spring training for the '59 Packers. It was obvious to Lombardi that talent also was lacking in the Packer forward wall. Bell had promised to use his influence in getting the Packers help. It wasn't coincidence that Paul Brown, another general manager-head coach, provided three-fourths of the Packer defensive line from Cleveland—Willie Davis, Bill Quinlan and Henry Jordan.

Lombardi now was ready to announce his attack strategy. "We are not going to attack the foe at his soft spots," Lombardi told the team. "We are going to attack his strength. His weaknesses then become weaker than ever."

That '59 Packer team tied for third with a 7-5 record, a sensational rebound from the 1-10-1 record of '58. The Packers won the Western Division title in 1960 and last year whipped (37-0) the Giants whom Lombardi once helped coach, for the NFL championship.

Medic Doubts Cepeda's Eye Is Serious

By HUBERT J. ERB

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Orlando Cepeda, the San Francisco Giants' slugging first baseman, has eye trouble but the specialist who will examine him Monday says he doubts if the problem is anything as serious as a cataract.

Cepeda, a batting disappointment in the World Series with only three hits in 19 at-bats, revealed his concern over eye trouble yesterday. The 1961 National League home run and runs batted in king said he thought the trouble might be a cataract in his right eye.

Cepeda said he first learned about the condition last week when he took a driver's test.

"I couldn't see out of my right eye," he said. "Left eye, okay. Right eye bad. I went to a doctor who told me I may have a cataract. I am going back to the doctor for another examination before I go home to Puerto Rico."

Dr. George S. Campion, the opthalmologist employed by the Giants, said a cataract condition in Cepeda's eye "without a previous injury or inflammatory condition would be highly unusual."

Admitting that he had not examined Cepeda since 1959, Dr. Campion said there is reasonable doubt Cepeda suffers from an ailment of a cataract nature.

President Horace Stoneham of the Giants said "apparently, there is no cause for alarm. Such a condition would explain why he was missing the ball by six inches. If it is what Orlando says, minor surgery can be performed immediately."

Stoneham said Cepeda had been ordered to report to Dr. Campion Monday when the first baseman returns from a weekend trip.

Cepeda hit 46 home runs and drove in 142 runs for the Giants in 1961. He was hitting at a .352 clip in June this season when he began to tail off. He finished up at .306. During one month, he failed to hit even one homer.

"I was tired," said Cepeda, recalling the slump. He said he told Giants' trainer Ernie Bowman he thought his eyes were bothering him.

Montana May Get Rematch

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The hottest fight town in United States, if you can believe promoter Norman Rothschild, is Bozeman, Mont.

"And where is Bozeman?" asked a sportswriter. "I've just barely heard of it."

"Bozeman," said the Rothschild, "is in Montana, near Yellowstone Park. And if we can hold the next Gene Fullmer-Dick Tiger bout there for the middleweight championship, I can guarantee that we'll have a gate of at least $150,000."

Bozeman, according to the postal guide, has a population of around 15,000 persons. San Francisco area, with a population of around 4,000,000, put only $101,000 into the box office till for the same fight the other night.

When is the fight to be held?

SNOW PROBLEM

"We'll hold it on Jan. 19, if possible," says Rothschild. "And don't worry about the town being buried in snow at that time. Even if it is, the good people of Bozeman will come to the fight—by dog sled or any way they have to get there."

Rothschild has had a bit of experience in Bozeman before. He staged the Fullmer-Joey Giardello fight there in April, 1960, and grossed approximately $140,000 at the gate.

Rothschild has a contract to stage the return match between the two gladiators who hit each other with everything except lightning Tuesday at Candlestick Park with Tiger the victor. The contract calls for the bout to be held either in Bozeman or Las Vegas, Nev.

Jersey Jones, the veteran manager of Tiger, isn't sure either place is the right one.

L.A. OR S.F.

"How about Los Angeles, or a return bout right here in San Francisco?" asked Jersey, who has been around the fight game longer than most people have lived.

"We'd be interested in it for New York," said Harry Markson, of Madison Square Garden.

"Las Vegas would furnish the biggest gate," said Jim Deskin, chairman of the Nevada Athletic Commission.

"Wait a minute," chimes in Rothschild. "Don't forget Bozeman. "There's a r-e-a-l fight town."

Grid Fatalities Mushroom; Helmet Controversy Flares

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football fatalities continue to mushroom toward the 25-year peak total of 36 in 1961 with the deaths of two teen-age players in accidents connected with the contact sport, bringing the unofficial number for the 1962 season to 18.

The latest additions to the list of players who have died as a direct or indirect result of football injuries came within a 24-hour period yesterday when the deaths of Mike Mallory, 17, and James Lucian Baudin, 18, were reported.

Mallory, a senior starting guard from Gallup, N.M., high school, apparently died of a head injury after collapsing on the practice field. Baudin, a freshman at Louisiana State University at Alexandria, suffered a skull fracture in an intramural touch football game.

Mallory's coach, Pete Hurst, said the youth had not complained of an injury or of being ill when he came up for a talk with the coach.

"The was standing there and all of a sudden fell over," said Hurst

Mallory's death was the 13th in high schools this year, Baudin's the second in sandlot play. Three collegians also have died. Last year, there were 21 high school deaths, 8 sandlot, 6 college and 1 semi pro.

Most of the football fatalities have occurred in practice sessions — only four have been attributable to actual competition. And in those four cases, two were sandlot accidents, where it is assumed inferior equipment was used. The main cause seems to be head injuries

At the beginning of the year, sportswriters replying to an A.P. survey designated the hard plastic helmet with its big face bars as the No. 1 cause of accidents on the field. In May, however, the American Medical Assn. said the plastic helmet in general use is the best yet tried.

This week Fritz Crisler NCAA Rules Committee chairman and University of Michigan athletic director, said that the latest blocking technique — blocking with the head and the hard plastic headgear—has increased head and neck injuries by 82 per cent on all football levels.

Giants Get Record Payoff For Losers

NEW YORK (UPI)—There was $2,591.25 a man riding on the pitch which Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees retired Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants for the last putout of the World Series.

And there was at least $5,400 a man riding on the pitch with which Stan Williams of the Los Angeles Dodgers walked home the Giants' winning run in the third game of the National League's playoff.

The first amount is the difference between the full winner's shore of $9,882.74 which will go to 34 Yankees and the full loser's share of $7,291.49 which will go to 29 Giants. And the second is the difference between the relatively paltry $1,860.63 which will go to the Dodgers for finishing second and the lowest amount they could have won in the World Series.

The figures, announced yesterday by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, represent the third highest winner's share and the highest loser's share in World Series history.

The Yankees displayed their customary generosity by voting large amounts to several players who spent only part of the season with them. They voted full shares to Dale Long, who didn't join the club until mid-July, and to Joe Pepitone, who spent part of the season with Richmond of the International League. In addition they voted a half share of $4,941.36 to Bob Cery, who spent only the early part of the season with them, and voted a cash award of $1,000 to Hector Brown, who appeared in only two games near the end of the season.

Both Yankee trainers and one clubhouse man received full shares and three quarter shares went to batting practice pitcher Spud Murray and a second clubhouse man. Cash awards of $500 or $1,000 went to various other part-time players.

The Giants showed similar generosity with full shares going to catcher John Orsino, a two-thirds share to Manny Mota and half-shares to Bob Garibaldi, Gaylord Perry and a second clubhouse man.

The 1959 Dodgers received the biggest winner's shares in series history, $11,231.18, while the 1954 Giants were second highest with full shares worth $11,147.90 each.

The previous high loser's share was the $7,275.17 received by the 1949 White Sox.

The second-place Dodgers and Minnesota Twin each will receive $64,746.13 to be split among their members; the third-place Los Angeles Angels and Cincinnati Reds got $43,164.08, and the fourth-place Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates got $21,582.04 for fourth place.

Total gate receipts for the series came to $2,878,891.11. In addition to the $863,281.71 which went to the players, the New York club, the San Francisco club, and the American and National League offices received a total of $1,583,775.74 while the commissioner's office got $431,833.66.

Uncle Sam's tax collector was in on the act, too, toting away $250,122.14 in tax money . . . without throwing a pitch.

Giants Drop Bob Nieman

The San Francisco Giants announced today the release of outfielder Bob Nieman and the appearance of four new faces on the 40-man roster. The additions are pitchers Robert Bishop, John Pregenzer and Albert Stanek and outfielder Jim McLain.

Nieman was purchased in April of this season from the Cleveland Indians. The Giants were the seventh team Nieman has played for since breaking into the major leagues with the St. Louis Browns in 1951. Used mainly as a pinch hitter by the Giants during the 1962 season, Nieman appeared in 30 games with 31 at bats. He hit one home run, got 9 hits and had a batting average of .290.

Lakers Lose 4th Straight Tilt, 118-107

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers literally came within an inch of dethroning Boston as the National Basketball Assn. kingpins last season. This year, the experts said, they'll go all the way.

Instead, they seem to be determined to go all the way to the bottom.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Dennis Schunk, tough linebacker for the Redwood Giants who are tied with Tam for the lead in the Marin Athletic League football race, is the Independent-Journal's Athlete of the Week for his defensive play in the Redwood-Drake game last Friday. Schunk, a 16-year-old junior who stands 5-10 and weighs 165 pounds, made 14 unassisted tackles in the contest which Redwood won 12-6. Head Giant grid coach Bob Troppmann says Schunk "has terrific linebacker instinct and is pound-for-pound one of the best linebackers in the county."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Salmon Trolling Favors Few; Here Are Some Good Reports

Salmon trolling outside the Gate continues to favor the few and by-passes the many. From Caruso's Sid McMullin we learn that the fish per boat ran between four and seven; but some of the few were weighty ones—up to 40 pounds.

Most of the local salmon fleet stayed in their respective harbors on Monday because of pea-soup fog but, with somewhat better conditions on Tuesday, a few of the did get out but apparently action was no better.

Speaking of foggy weather, seems like it has effected the striped bass in the upper San Pablo Bay. Some fair catches have been reported, but there has been a decided drop in the overall average per rod.

THE LADS who offer a properly rigged bullhead to the stripers continue to outclass the sardine and anchovy tossers.

In all the reports to hand, I find that 90 per cent of the bigger bass have been taken on bullheads. For example, Frank Josephs reported a duo of die-hards who fished Saturday and came in with six lunkers from 10 to 18 pounds. Joseph(of Joseph's Resort at Rodeo) insists that there are plenty of fish around, but the majority of anglers refuse to heed his advice to fish close to shore with bullheads. Instead they follow the party boats downstream where fishing has fallen off considerably.

THINGS ARE different on the Marin side of the bay, though. For about the first time in months, such spots as the Pump House, the shell banks and Coregidor have paid off. Joe Nerviani, of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia and Grace Quan of China Camp are in better spirits as a result of the influx of fine looking bass. Joe told me that on Tuesday, Oscar Nelson and John Wiberg took easy limits from seven to nine pounds on the incoming tide; Ed Majesky and friend had six bass from 10 to 13 pounds Sunday, and on Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. McGowan unloaded limits from five to eight pounds. Understand, please, other fish by other anglers were caught over the weekend—a lot of them, but I have no other names of local Marinites.

Bullhead fishing for stripers at Dillon's Point (water too muddy for plugging) has paid off the Scotts, Ruth and hubby. One day, a nine and a 16, and yesterday, an eight and a 14.

MRS. LAGRONE reported some very nice catches being made on bullheads—large bass, and ditto with sardines but not so large.

Anyone interested in competing in a bass derby should know that the annual San Leandro Bass Derby gets under way this Saturday and Sunday. No restrictions as to locale fished, and some swell prizes to be awarded. Take a drive to South County and pick up a ticket for you might be a winner. Lots of fish coming into the San Leandro Marina these days. They're being caught all over the south bay waters all the way to the San Mateo Bridge on bullheads, sardines and live shiners. More than 100 dandies were registered at the Marina on Sunday. Weigh-in and starting times? From 8 A.M. to 8 P.M.

Little League Dance

The Marinwood Little League Baseball dance, sponsored by the Women's Little League Baseball Auxiliary of Marinwood, will be held tomorrow night starting at 8 o'clock at the Santa Venetia Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall. Proceeds will go for new uniforms and equipment for the teams.

4 Grid Games In Marin This Week; 1 Away

A College of Marin and three high school football games will be held in Marin this weekend, and one high school game will be played across the bay.

The College of Marin Tars, undefeated in four games this season, will host the gridders of Yuba College in a Golden Valley Conference contest tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in College of Marin stadium.

In Marin Athletic League action, Tamalpais will battle San Rafael tomorrow at 8 p.m. on the S.R. Bulldog field, Terra Linda will host Novato Saturday at 1:30 p.m., and Marin Catholic and Drake will clash at College of Marin stadium Saturday at 8 p.m. Redwood draws a bye.

The San Rafael Military Academy Cadets will tangle with the California School for the Deaf in Berkeley across the bay tomorrow at 3:15 p.m. in a Bay Counties League game.

Teresa Carlisle Is Swim Champ

Teresa Carlisle of the Marin Pirates swim club took a first place in the 100-yard breaststroke for children 10 and under during the San Francisco Park and Recreation swim meet in San Francisco's Balboa Park over the weekend.

Other Marin Pirate swimmers who finished in the top three places were:

Don Keller, second in the 100-yard butterfly for children 15 and 16; Susan Carlisle second in the 100-yard breastroke for children 11 and 12; Don Keller took thirds in the 200-yard freestyle senior division and 100-yard freestyle for 15 through 17-year-olds.

Candy Beeler third in the 100-yard breaststroke for 13 and 14-year-olds; Gail Hartwick third in the 200-yard backstroke for seniors; Gary Cheroske third in the 100-yard backstroke for 13 and 14-year-olds; and Tim Frost third in the 100-yard breaststroke for 15 through 17-year-olds.

COLLEGES

Injuns Drill On Offense At Goal Line

STANFORD (UPI)—Coach Jack Curtice does not want to see a repetition of Stanford's performance last week against Washington when the Cards repeatedly failed to move the final 10 yards for touchdowns.

He drilled the team yesterday on goal line offense. The Cards take off tomorrow for their game with UCLA in which they hope to break a three-game loss streak.

CAL CONFUSION

BERKELEY — All was still confusion today in the California Bears' search to come up with a quarterback for Saturday's tussle with tough Penn State.

Larry Balliett received a head injury against USC last week and was expected to get the final word from doctors today on whether he could play Saturday. Craig Morton, out all last year with an injury, might be ready and Jerry Morton, also hurt last Saturday, is also a question mark.

SPARTAN INJURIES

SAN JOSE—San Jose State came up with injuries to both its punters in an afternoon scrimmage yesterday, but Coach Bob Titchenal says he thinks one or the other will be available for Saturday's homecoming clash with New Mexico.

Halfback Bob Patterson suffered a back injury, thought to be a muscle spasm, while Larry Doss, also a halfback, injured an ankle.

UOP PROMOTIONS

STOCKTON—Center Roger Higdon and fullback Bill Kutzer were on the first unit today as the University of Pacific worked out for Saturday night's clash with unbeaten Washington State.

The Tigers yesterday held an intensive pass drill, while the linemen worked on tackling. Coach John Rhode then announced the promotion of Higdon and Kutzer.

WIMBLEDON BLOCKADES GALS' FANCY PANTIES

LONDON (UPI)—The eyes of British Lawn Tennis officialdom frowned today on ladies panties—as worn at Wimbledon.

The London Daily Express reported today that the 12-man Lawn Tennis Championship Committee met in secret session last night in a room over a London restaurant and reached a "major decision" about next year's Wimbledon championships.

"Pink panties will not be allowed," reported the newspaper. "Nor blue panties, nor green panties, nor panties considered by the committee to be of 'extravagant design'."

The trend for "fancy panties" started by America's "Georgeous Gussie" Moran is at an end, it appeared. In future Wimbledon play, the newspaper said, "there will be no more mink or gold or shocking pink."

Seals Defenseman Hero In 3-2 Win Over Stampeders

BY U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Enjoying that euphoria today is Maurice Mantha, a defensive stalwart for the San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League. Mantha scored twice and Len Haley added another as the Seals edged Calgary last night, 3-2, at Calgary.

In the only other game on the WHL card Bob Solinger's last-minute goal enabled the Los Angeles Blades to nip Portland, 4-3.

Mantha, who had not worried a goalie all season prior to last night's game, hit twice within the first four minutes of the second period, Erasing a 2-1 lead which the stampeders had built up in the first stanza.

Rams To Get Tough For 49er Struggle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams are going all out in preparation for their Sunday game in San Francisco against the 49ers.

Coach Bob Waterfield has issued orders against unnecessary conversation in the workouts. The players are working in full harness instead of the light pads usually worn. The head-knocking has been for real.

With a record of 0 and 6, the Rams can't very well hope for victory against the 49ers. But if they can play as well as they did when they held Detroit to a narrow victory two weeks ago, they might give San Francisco a few anxious moments.

'GET TOUGH'

General Manager Elroy Hirsch said the Ram coaching staff abandoned the usual "get tough" attitude when the preseason camp was established at Orange, hoping that friendly relations between veterans and newcomers would build a close team spirit and pay dividends.

"But apparently it hasn't worked," said Hirsch, "so Waterfield is making certain adjustments in the workouts. The players continue to support the coaching staff and they admit that the mistakes they have made are their fault, not that of the coaches."

HICKEY KNOWS RAM WEAKNESS BUT WON'T TELL

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers claims to know that what the Los Angeles Rams' troubles are in going zero for six in NFL play this season.

"I just hope it lasts through one more game," he said today, but he wouldn't disclose the Rams' weakness.

Somebody pointed out that latest league starts show the Prospectors dead last in passing in the league with only 631 yards in six contests.

He said the decline of the air game came when first the team expected to score too easily with big bombs early in the season and later turned into a hard-nosed running team that has, in Hickey's words "won three out of four games playing tough head-to-head ball. So long as they win, I don't care what the passing figures show."

Willows Pheasant Assn. Openings

Marinites interested in joining the Willows Pheasant Assn. should write to the association at Willows, California, announced Father John McGoldrick of St. Monica's Catholic Church in Willows.

He said the association will release 1,000 rooster pheasants shortly before the season opens. The group has 40,000 acres of hunting reserved for the coming season.

Don't Shelve Your Boats Yet, A Sunny Saturday May Be Near

Fallen leaves are on the water. The sound of fog horns sorrow the length and width of the Bay. Marin Water Ski Club members have dismantled their Lake Berryessa site. Many boaters have stored away life jackets, laid their boat paddle across garage rafters, and set the battery box in a dry corner.

But please, don't batten 'er down too tightly. That Most Perfect Day is due any time now. You might open your eyes early this next, (or next, or next) Saturday morning. You'll know it, because you can hear, feel and smell this special day. It's rare. Precious. Launch your boat, and revel in it.

Set an easterly course to the north of the San Rafael-Richmond bay bridge. Prsently the sun will lip like orange neon over the Pinole hills, and press against the water on every side, turning it into a vast field of copper. October's—or early November's—salt-thin wind will be like suave wine.

WHY DID YOU buy a boat? Now you know, if you didn't before. Joie de vivre! Allez!

Set your throttle at cruising speed, and when you are approaching the east bay shore correct your course to follow the shoreline northward. Orient yourself with the Standard Oil tank and shipping installations. Round the point, and soon you will pass old schooner hulks that form a breakwater. You have arrived in San Pablo Harbor.

A few years ago a moving picture, "Blood Alley," with John Wayne, was partly produced in the China Camp area of Marin, also in this secluded harbor. The patina of civilization is but mist-deep here. And if you listen with affection, you can still hear ghostly creaking of the paintless-gray old mizzenmasts.

YOU'RE IN an atmosphere of yellow, lichened planks, teredo-etched piling, odors of ancient creosote, and the voice of the gull. It seems comfortably familiar. Even contemporary. Only the garishly new styrofoam floats become anachronistic.

WEATHER PERMITTING, members of the Gallinas Boating Club will hold their long-scheduled Bass Derby Saturday, Nov 3 is the date for their annual fall dance. The Starlight Club at Terra Linda will be the spot.

SAUSALITO CRUISING Club will host a party, Halloween in decor, Saturday. Some 14 boats from the Fort Sutter Yacht Club are expected to cruise down from the Sacramento area as guests of this event.

QUESTION: I'd like to know how to hold my boat off-shore when I want to land? In my peculiar situation, I can't tie up to a dock or beach my boat. — Jim L., Tiburon

ANSWER: Make one end of the line fast in your boat, and put the other end through the ring of the anchor, so that the anchor is in the loop of the line. As you approach the beach, drop the anchor over the side, and play out the line. After you land you can haul your boat off to the anchor by pulling on the free end of the line. But before you do, be certain your craft is secured to the shore by another line. You don't want to swim back. Do you?

QUESTION: I like to troll in the bay. What I have is a fisherman's outfit with an old 25 h.p. But sometimes after a half hour of fishing, my motor smokes and misses. Sometimes it dies. When I get back to dock it's OK again. Why doesn't it run good slow? Can I do something to the carb?

—Mike T., HAFB

ANSWER: Your motor has a bleeder network of passages for oil. Usually these move in horizontal planes, and now and then they stop up. Let someone who knows outboards take a look at yours. If this is your trouble he can show you how to clear, or blow out the system. It's not a longish job. Often, when the motor smokes, the owner thinks it is getting too much oil, and he cuts down on it. This can lead to motor ruin. We own a 75 h.p. and it was the consensus that we wouldn't be able to troll with it. We do; however, a few years back we had a 30 h.p. that refused to act pleasantly at any speed under a "sprint." Nevertheless, the small h.p.'s do the BEST trolling job.

Marin Boy Wins First Place In Swimming Meet

Jerry Thompson, Greg McCormick, David Newman and Bill Cuneo won the freestyle relay for boys 11 and 12. Other members of the Ann Curtis Swim Club who finished in the top three places were:

Carol Cuneo, third in the 100-yard freestyle for girls 10 and under; Bill Cuneo, third in the 100-yard freestyle for boys 11 and 12; Kathy Donovan, third in the 100-yard butterfly for girls 13 and 14; Mike Cass, second in both the 100-yard butterfly and 100-yard freestyle for boys 13 and 14, and Jim Allen, third in the 100-yard freestyle, boys 13 and 14.

Stan Wins Poll For 'Comeback'

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial, the seven-time National League batting champion who hit over .300 for the first time in four sessions, today was named the circuit's Comeback Player of the Year in the annual Associated Press poll.

Musial was selected by 31 of the 108 baseball writers participating in the balloting. Del Crandall of Milwaukee was second with 23 votes followed by Ed Roebuck, Los Angeles, 15, Bob Skinner of Pittsburgh 10 and Harvey Kuenn, San Francisco, 6.

Musial finished third in batting the past season with a .330 mark. He hit .255 in 1959, .275 in 1960 and .288 in 1961. His 1962 output included 143 hits, 19 of them homers, and 28 runs batted in. The 42-year-old outfielder also stole three bases.

SHOULDER INJURY

Crandall, sidelined with a shoulder injury during most of the 1961 season, came back to participate in 107 games in '62.

Roebuck, the Dodgers' ace relief pitcher, won 10 games and lost two while appearing in 64 games.

Skinner, an outfielder, his .302 in 144 games with 20 homers and 75 RBI. He had a .320 average in 1958, but dropped under .300 during each of the next three years. His 1961 mark was .268.

Kuenn showed vast improvement in his second season with the Giants, increasing his average 39 points to .304. He wound up at .265 in '61.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Many Parties Before Annual Charity Ball Saturday Night

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Adding to the gaiety of the Charity Ball will be many cocktail parties in Marin County as members of Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary get together before the dining and dancing begins at the Meadow Club on Saturday night. This year's event, a Shibui Ball, will, as always, benefit Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

The largest party will be given by Mr. and Mrs. William Scott Anderson Jr., who have invited about a hundred friends to a cocktail party at their Ross home before the ball. Most of the guests are from Marin. However, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winton of Modesto will be there and go to the ball with them and spend the weekend with them.

The Martin E. Stuarts will be entertaining at their home in Mill Valley. Among their guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Rudy Kopfer, Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Bogardas and John T. Raisen.

The George Mitchells of Fairhills, San Rafael will have among their guests Messrs. and Mesdames William Bagley, William McDevitt and George Stempel.

MRS. LUCIA (LUPE) HALSEY, former San Rafael resident, who now has a beautiful home in Honolulu, is visiting friends in Marin. She recently returned from three months in Italy where she has many friends in the music and movie worlds. She came back to California for the San Francisco opera and went to Portland, Ore. to see her son, Richard Alan (Dick) Anderson, his wife, Sari, and their children.

Dick is now with Portland Planning Commission. He majored in architecture at Stanford University and after graduation he studied in Italy. The young Andersons' new home was badly damaged in the recent storm which struck the coast, and the roof of the house was torn off. Lupe also visited her other son, Reginald Grant Anderson, who lives in Ben Bow. Lupe will return to Hawaii the end of October.

MRS. GEORGE F. GIROT of San Rafael is attending the luncheon and fashion show today at the Gamma Phi Beta house at University of California. Mrs. Girot, whose daughter, Suzanne, is a student at the university and a member of the sorority, is co-chairman of the event sponsored by the Gamma Phi Beta Mothers Club. The annual style show will feature Italian and Swiss imports. Autumn gold will be the decor theme. Sorority members will model and bridge will be played after the fashion show.

A FIFTH GENERATION Californian is Krispin Elizabeth Lee, the second child of Dr. and Mrs. John R. Lee (Patricia Boland) of Mill Valley. Little Krispin, who has a brother, John, who is almost two years old, was born Monday at Marin General Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boland of Stinson Beach and Mrs. John Lee of Minneapolis, Minn. Frank Brown of San Rafael is the great grandfather of the little ones.

DELTA DELTA DELTA alumnae had a cocktail party and luncheon yesterday at the Meadow Club. The day was completed with a fashion show with Mrs. Stewart Burmeister, the commentator. About 150 members of the association and their friends attended the party. Proceeds go to the scholarships for girls graduating from Marin high schools.

French Actress Says American Women Taken-For-Granted Pals

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Usually the educators are the ones who sound off on the pros and cons of co-education.

Now, it's Michele Morgan, a beautiful blonde French actress, who holds that co-educational schools for youth are a basic reason why the American woman is a taken-for-granted pal to the men around her.

The European woman, in turn, who is segregated educationally from the boys until her late teens, shapes up as a female of mystery and of intense appeal to the men.

"IF I HAD a girl, I'd see that she went to a girls' school until she was ready for college or a university," said Miss Morgan.

Because of this mixing of the sexes from nursery school on, Miss Morgan believes that the American woman ends up "harder"; the American male, "Completely on the defensive."

"I just believe that European women know better how to handle their men," she said in an interview during a visit to New York from her home in Paris.

"MANY PEOPLE have theories on the difference between American and European women . . . and it is dangerous to generalize," she said. "But I believe that co-educational schooling from early childhood gives the girl a virile attitude toward life.

"She never is a mystery to the boys . . . they grow up playing sandlot baseball together. The coeducational school takes away her femininity at the start. Shyness, coyness . . . the feminine traits never have a chance."

Miss Morgan continued: "Flirtation, necking start at such an early age in America there is no excitement for either boy or girl when the time for these things SHOULD arrive.

Miss Morgan, 42, the mother of a son, Mike, 18, who is in Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, speaks from knowing both American and European customs in matters of education. She has made so many American films she has become almost a commuter between Hollywood and Paris.

HER FIRST HUSBAND was the American actor, Bill Marshall, whom she divorced. Her second was the French actor, Henri Vidal, often her leading man, who died four years ago of a heart attack.

Miss Morgan is in the United States in connection with the release by embassy pictures of "Crime Does Not Pay," first presented at the Cannes film festival.

Born Simone Roussel, she became an actress, she said, because a friend of her parents—reading her horoscope when she was a child—predicted this was the direction her future should take. She changed her first name to Michele because "I couldn't stand Simone"; her last to Morgan because "I was a very smart kid. Name easy for everybody to remember."

Bouffant Hairdos On Way Out

The big news in hair styles is the look of smooth, shorter hairdos which fit closer to the head. Bouffant hairdos are on the way out, and neat and natural-looking coiffures are taking their place. The length of the hair is about an inch or so below the ear. Hair fashion experts are stressing the swing back to "naturalness."

To have this new look, start with a good haircut and shaping. You'll be delighted how this new hair length will leave you with many hair styling possibilities. Once you've had your hair cut and shaped, use a hair dressing which is richly concentrated to give a youthful, beautiful shine to your hair.

What a blessing for us that the days of full and high hair styles are gone! With this new hair style we have a golden opportunity to recondition our hair.

If your hair has been damaged from over-teasing, I suggest you try reconditioning it until your hair becomes natural looking again. Reconditioning is a simple trick you can do by yourself. Simply rub some hair dressing into hair and scalp—cover your head with a hot towel or heat cap for ten minutes — then shampoo your hair as you usually do. This conditioning will work wonders.

Hairdresser Alexandre Decrees Hats

By PATRICIA McCORMICK

The truce came during the international hairdressers' convention in New York. No less than Alexandre of Paris, lock fixer to many of the globe's celebrated females, was first to run up the white flag.

The master coif maker from Internationale de Coiffures de Dames startled fellow hair fixers by saying:

"HATS WERE made to glorify hair, and this year women are realizing it. The trend to hats among my customers is enormous. True elegance is returning."

Then the lock fixer did a daring thing. He unboxed hats created by the milliner Halston, whom he described as "the greatest hat designer in the United States."

ALEXANDRE, CONTINUING the demonstration proving hats and tresses mix, preached while he worked.

"Together," he told the hair dressers, "we must teach women to be exciting again. The perfect hairdo finishes the face like a charming frame. And the hat finishes the dress, just as jewels complete an evening gown."

Before he finished he included demonstrations with hats made of jewels and feathers, berets and bretons and the slouch hat.

"These are the hats I call young, the kind that Brigitte Bardot, Sophia Loren, Elizabeth Taylor and Maria Schell favor," he said.

"LIZ TAYLOR bought 17 hats in 15 minutes from Jean Barthet in Paris. I was there. It was very amusing to watch. He just put them on her head, gave a push here and a tug there, said oui or non, pulled it off and slapped the next one on."

Alexandre figures American hairdressers must encourage patrons to stop wearing hats just to hide poor or messy hairdos.

"To tell the truth about the United States," he said, "women let themselves be seen in curlers here, and they keep the same hairdo, copy the same style.

"In Paris, every woman dresses individually and has a different coiffure. The women here seem determined to stop the great hairdressers from doing what they want."

Home Lighting Changes Due, State Interior Designers

CHICAGO (UPI)—If the wishes of interior designers are any indication, there'll be some changes made in home lighting.

At a news conference at the International Home Furnishings Market, interior designers and lamp manufacturers discussed current trends in lamp design.

Designers Roy F. Beal, Gilbert Gray and Lawrence Peabody called for improved lamp engineering and better use of materials.

Beal said most lamps have no design direction and are overscaled.

"Lighting should be part of the background of a room," he said. "It shouldn't be the most obvious thing you see."

He urged lamp makers to put the switches on the bases of lamps, where they would be easier to reach.

Gray asked for an end to the "early and late manual training" styles, represented by a block of wood with a shade, and the "mod-urn" style with the dual-purpose urn base which "provides light and greenhouse space."

He charged lamp makers with producing poor copies of good traditional forms. He said lamps are not always correctly engineered for practical use, and look like room accessories with a shade on top. Lamp designers, he said, rely too much on flashy ideas and materials.

Gray said the lamp industry should create original designs and styles based on research, rather than copying poor designs.

Peabody said he's using candles and kerosene lamps in his home because nothing manufactured today can romanticize his rooms as well. Manufacturers, he said, should relate lamps to the total volume of space, and the manufacturer, industrial designer and consumer should re-evaluate lighting now being offered.

Manufacturers Ben Glassman and Bernard Roberts represented the Lamp and Shade Institute of America on the panel. They defended the manufacturers, but agreed with some points made by the designers.

Glassman said the most important element he has to consider is consumer acceptance. He said most consumers don't readily accept change in lamps.

Masquerade Dance Planned Saturday

A Masquerade Dance sponsored by the "Voz of the Portuguese Colony Radio Program" will be held Saturday at the IDESI Hall in Sausalito.

The event will begin at 9 p.m. Prizes for the best costumes will be awarded.

Political candidates will also be introduced.

Agnelo Clementino is director of the program.

Daughters Can Be Bewildering In Their Views Of Parents

Daughters are nice, but bewildering. I speak from experience, having three of 'em. Can you understand your girls, fellow fathers?

While they're little, they're perfect. They share their innermost thoughts with us, hold our hands, and enjoy long walks with us. They bring us their toys to repair and dolls to talk to. There's nothing more wonderful than having a clear-eyed little girl look up at you and say, "Daddy, I love you!" Right, gentlemen?

We coast along happily while they start school, and work their way up into the grades. Then boom, they're young ladies. Flat surfaces are replaced by curves. Dolls and toys are put aside. They discover disc jockeys, twist experts, illiterate singers and other revolting entertainers. Clothes and hairdos are transformed. Make-up appears. Suddenly they start thinking their own thoughts. Confidences come rarely. Daddy becomes an "ick." Have you discovered that, fathers?

Then they fall in love. Our nice little girls develop fantastic crushes on the scrawniest, ugliest, noisiest young boys available. Our daughters follow the objects of their affection around like puppy dogs. They write secret love letters. They phone them and talk forever. When the boy friend smiles they're in heaven; when he frowns they're disconsolate. Thank goodness it doesn't last. They fall in and out of love quickly. With each episode their taste improves. Eventually they're dating nice boys. Boys with brains, yet.

About the time they finish high school our girls discover their fathers once more. They find we're okay after all. It's a welcome change. Then they marry and move away. The cycle starts all over again. C'est la vie!

READER'S FORUM

(Q) "When should my girl start having dates?"

Mrs. R. L.

(A) There is no one age. It depends on the customs of your neighborhood, on your girl's ability to accept responsibility, and on the kind of boy she would be going with. Don't let your girl be the first to have dates. Don't make her the last in her gang to do so. Be sure she dates only boys with good reputations.

Hair Color Questionable For Drivers

The elimination by the Motor Vehicles Department of New York of the question about color of hair from drivers' licenses has sparked a campaign for similar action in the other 49 states. With equal gallantry, the department also eliminated the question about weight.

The campaign is being waged by a haircoloring company which early in 1961 urged that such action be taken. At that time, the company wrote to the heads of Motor Vehicles Departments in every state to point out the unreasonableness of regulations requiring a woman's haircoloring to match the shade originally designated on her license.

In reply, several Motor Vehicles commissioners indicated that regulations regarding haircoloring would not be too strictly enforced. However, none of them said that provisions for designating hair color on license would be eliminated completely.

With New York having thrown in the towel, the haircoloring company, out of regard for its customers, now has renewed its drive to do away with what it considers an outmoded regulation in every state.

Program On Wedgwood In Mill Valley

Olivia Lenhart, lecturer and collector of antique Wedgwood, presented the program this afternoon for the Outdoor Art Club's guest day program at the clubhouse in Mill Valley.

She began her presentation by explaining the story of Josiah Wedgwood (1730-1795), a crippled boy who, inspired by a great love, became the world's most famous potter. Miss Lenhart then used colored slides to show modern Wedgwood in the making in England.

Greeting guests at the door were Mrs. William Bentley and Roy Laugesen. Following the program tea was served by Mrs. Donald Schlemmer, assisted by Mesdames John Burnham, R. A. Young, Jr., Howard Bleyle, co-chairman; and Laurence Pritchard. Mrs. George Ballantyne and her committee decorated the club.

Obvious Flaws Call For 'No' Vote On Prop. 24

Designation of the Francis Amendment as "Subversive Activities" has made dispassionate discussion of it difficult. Everyone is against subversive activities. The real question is what to do about them.

Proposition 24, the Francis Amendment, is designed to regulate and control those who seek the "overthrow of the government of the United States, of the several states, and of this state, by force and violence."

We can agree with its aims; most of them are already law of the state.

But the big question is, Who has the authority and power to identify those who violate the law?

Prop. 24 attempts to answer the question in the highly controversial Section 3, which says:

"If an organization is found to be a communist-action organization or a communist front organization . . . by an appellate or superior court, or by the grand jury of any county in the state, or by the attorney general of the State of California, or by any court, officer, board, commission, agency or other body of the government of the United States making such a finding pursuant to law . . . (it) shall be deemed a subversive organization . . ."

With such a subversive designation, everyone knowingly a member of this group is subject to its penalties, including mandatory loss of job for school teachers, loss of tax exemptions, ballot rights and felony jail sentences.

This amendment gives the power of judge and jury to too many people. Grand juries have never been constituted as trial juries. At present they have no power to convict, only the power to turn a person over to the courts for trial.

A federal officer or board or commission or agency, like, for example a U.S. marshall or the Federal Communications Commission or the Federal Aviation Agency, should have no power to determine whether a group of people is subversive.

Proponents say, "But it says "pursuant to law,' that will protect the innocent." Will it? Not, according to the legislative counsel, if the courts construe the words literally.

Richard M. Nixon, who certainly can't be charged as a pro-Communist, says that "because of loose drafting in Section 3, which allows a wide assortment of groups and individuals to designate subversives, the amendment may inadvertently give the Communists a constitutional escape hatch."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, on the other hand, merely calls it "a very, very bad bill."

Because this is an initiative measure, imperfections in it can not be easily changed, even the smallest change must come from a general election of all the people of California. It should not be thus. Legislation which so vitally limits one of our most basic freedoms, the right to believe in an unpopular cause, should be carefully prepared and obvious flaws removed. It should also be available for further amendment if other flaws become apparent.

There are obvious flaws. Too many people are given the tremendous power of designating someone else subversive.

We urge a strong NO vote on Proposition 24.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

'CHIP' DAY

One thing that interested me in both the primary and the general elections was the involvement of Marin's two legislative officials in the gubernatorial campaign. In the primary, Assemblyman William T. Bagley disappeared for weeks at a time traveling with Richard M. Nixon. Now, seven children hardly know what their father, Sen. John F. McCarthy, looks like since he was designated some weeks ago, "unofficial chief of staff" for Nixon.

On the Nixon campaign train I was able to get some kind of an idea of what the job entailed. An "unofficial chief of staff's" biggest duty is like that of a good private secretary—to keep as many people off the boss' back as possible, preferably by solving their problems himself.

But there is an added, important responsibility. The "unofficial chief of staff" is authorized to speak for the candidate, both in public and in private.

Thus McCarthy's job on the train was a combination of political and social host. He personally met and greeted every VIP, regardless of age, size or sex, that rode on the train even from one stop to another.

IN DOING THIS, he had numerous problems, both party and governmental, brought to his attention for reference on to Nixon. Some of the problems, particularly party organizational problems, he solved immediately, some to the joy and some to the sorrow of their protagonists. At this type of work, McCarthy excels.

He gets the background and authority for direct action by sitting in on most of the Nixon strategy huddles. When the candidate daily draws his staff around him, McCarthy is included. He can speak and has a voice in the decisions. His contact with the people in the various areas makes him invaluable in bringing local problems to Nixon's attention.

HE IS OFTEN given specific assignments, varying from smoothing out some local feathers to bringing harmony between two GOP candidates.

In talking to newsmen he is authorized to state and detail a Nixon position. Quite often he reviews press releases before they are made public.

He often makes public appearances for Nixon. The night after the train trip, he appeared on television with State GOP Chairman Cap Weinberger in a debate with Assembly Floor Leader Jerome Waldie and Democratic State Chairman Eugene Wyman. He's been on both radio and TV numerous times, besides lunches, dinners and just meetings.

In short, I don't recommend being an "unofficial chief of staff."

ONE NON-PARTISAN reference: The League of Women Voters of Central Marin now has available their digest of provisions and principal arguments on ballot propositions. Either groups or individuals wanting to get this eight-page booklet, "Pros and Cons," may do so through Mrs. John Salz of Ross.

Hate Groups In Mill Valley

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

What type of people live in Mill Valley?

This is not being written about the large percentage who are friendly, kind and neighborly folks; it's about the small percentage, the same vandals who steal flowers from the Easter displays, take light bulbs from the Christmas decorations and broke the statue on the square and have started to pull up, break off, and otherwise damage the young trees that have been planted around town at quite a cost in planning, money, and several days of labor.

These are the same persons who belong to "hate groups" throughout our country. They hate everybody and everything.

There must be a special place for this type! Why not round them all up and ship them to some distant, barren island where they can be left to devour each other with their hate and let decent people live in peace and the beauty of our community?

Waving Flag Does Not Solve Problem

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

. . . The letter of Gayle Shotwell is such a perfect example of the confusion that exists among our people and the sloganeering that has contributed to it that I cannot resist the temptation to answer it.

1. She asserts that the chief reason the aging are often unable to meet their mounting medical expense is that various forms of government taxation have taken a third of their income over the years.

2. She asserts that the American way of life has been that "each worked for what he earned and took care of his own" and that this has been destroyed by "creeping socialism."

3. She suggests that the government stop inflation and "enact a responsible piece of legislation" enabling it to "pay the premiums on health insurance for those who could not afford to pay their own."

To take her statements up in order:

1. In the good old days before the income tax, gasoline tax, etc., the aged could no more afford adequate medical care than they can now. What is more, adequate care in the modern sense was not available at any price because medicine was quite primitive compared to what it is today. So it is senseless to hark back to a fancied preordained-by-God American way of life in this particular sphere.

2. Individual responsibility for self support and provision for the rainy day was, and indeed still is, the American way of life and I can think of no more equitable way to insure that this responsibility is carried out than by the provision in the Medicare Bill that each individual capable of working and earning a wage set aside a certain percentage of his earnings to pay for his medical expenses when he is no longer able to work.

3. If the government undertakes to "pay the premiums on health insurance for those who could not afford to pay their own" wouldn't that negate the American principle of individual responsibility and would it not make necessary a continuance and perhaps an increase in the taxes you so abhor, Mrs. Shotwell?

These problems are not solved by waving the flag or cursing the communists, and well meaning patriots do not serve their cause well by uttering epithets like "creeping socialism" instead of grappling with the real problems. The nature of the campaign against Medicare proves that the Chinese are not the only people who have been subjected to brainwashing.

County Planning Deserves Support

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Not only was the planning commission "taken" when the Madera Apartments were built but so were the people of Marin County.

Maybe we ought to raise a popular outcry to have the structure torn down. It's time to give some support to County planning efforts or the whole of the freeway areas will be blighted with similar structures, and the views of the bay and hills destroyed as they have been on the peninsula south of San Francisco.

On the one hand we attempt something significant and beautiful, such as the County Civic Center, and on the other we cancel it out by giving in to unsightly, self interested commercialism.

Once upon a time there was a steamship captain who had handled freighters for years and took it as a mortal insult when he was transferred to a spanking new deluxe passenger liner. In fact, he often declared forcefully that any landlubber passenger who dared to get seasick should be tossed overboard forthwith.

One day in a howling gale a deck steward made his way along a line of deck chairs warning the few passengers in sight that the skipper was in a foul mood and might put his idea into execution.

"Throw seasick passengers overboard?" croaked one unfortunate voyager — already green around the gills. "Here is a ten-dollar bill for you. Make sure I don't miss my turn!"

A druggist in Mamaroneck tried to sell a new facial cream to an old customer, but she told him, "Oh, no, you don't. A girl on television has been using it in the commercials for weeks and her face is still a mess!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Maybe Reason People Stay Away From City Councils Is They Are Dull

I recently sympathized with city councils that rarely draw big houses unless they're juggling a neighborhood battle.

Now I wonder whether citizens stay away in throngs after having sampled sessions like the Oct. 10 adjourned meeting in Larkspur. Some of the tangled actions and tedious discussions down blind alleys were as nightmarish as a Kafka novel.

Councilmen waded into a five-year projection compiled by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper in February, 1961.

COUNCILMAN Robert J. Smith, handsome, guileless-looking, boyish-appearing attorney, commanded the spotlight formerly held by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler, a kind of friendly counterpart of Supervisor William D. Fusselman in serving as Chief Questioner of Everything.

Smith let loose a motion to end all motions. It started as a motion that streets and drainage improvements be considered a major city project. In the same breath he moved that the council adopt "as policy a philosophy that development of Larkspur be in consonance with single family residential development."

UNDER THIS parliamentary tear gas cloud, the council, planning commission chairman Vaughn Marker and Greenbrae developer Niels Schultz Jr. chomped at length on the single family concept.

Mayor James J. Lienkaemper agreed with Schultz the concept would "act as a deterrent to development." Smith said he sought "a guide line." Schultz said: "Your guide line is broad with fuzzy edges."

Piper said the idea should "go to someone making a master plan." Councilman Neil R. Brixon said: "We've been here two hours 15 minutes and haven't agreed on a thing." Marker suggested they put it off until the council and planning commission met jointly. Smith withdrew his motion, which Daveler had seconded.

Brixon rescued the motion for streets and drainage and it passed.

The council dived into the proposed zoning ordinance. Schultz and others discussed cluster development. This permits use of less than legal-sized lots joined in a single project.

City fathers didn't believe variances were required. Schultz disagreed. The air was cleared when it was learned he was discussing clusters of single family residences; the others were discussing clusters of apartment buildings.

Clusters aren't in the ordinance; haven't been built in Larkspur. Most speakers at the Oct. 3 and 10 meetings said Larkspur hasn't much left to build on except for the hills that in the words of one speaker "just go up and up."

IN JUSTICE to the city fathers, they meet after spending full days at their regular jobs. And early in the Oct. 10 meeting Smith bemoaned the addition "of extra things to agenda of adjourned meetings, and no city attorney or engineer to advise us." Lienkaemper said he had to get used to this. City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner makes only the regular monthly meetings.

One brief bright note was sounded. Condominiums were discussed. Schultz said: "The experience in these developments is age-old. They had condominiums in early Rome."

The mayor said: "They got in all kinds of trouble!"

MEMO ON a different subject:

Alcoholics Anonymous is moving into Ross. Beginning Nov. 5, when Jack I—, San Francisco Inter-County Fellowship secretary, will speak, the AA meetings formerly held in San Anselmo on Monday nights will be held at 12 Lagunitas Road, Ross.

Public Needs To Understand Change In Nuclear Power And Commitments

WASHINGTON — This article is written before any official statement about the latest developments in Cuba. But it is written in the knowledge that the situation has suddenly become acute and critical.

Whatever the President decided to do, it is unfortunate that it had to be done at the height of an election campaign, and particularly of this one, for this campaign has been singularly sterile as a preparation of the American electorate to understand the grave problems in which they are profoundly involved.

The voters are being talked to by the President and the ex-President, by the two leaders who for the 10 years since the Korean war have had the highest responsibility and who have had access to the most intimate knowledge of the facts. Yet neither of them, I submit, has ever tried to explain to the people the dimensions of the Cuban problem and of the Berlin problem.

NEITHER GEN. Eisenhower nor President Kennedy has come near to dealing with the central reality which has dominated their two administrations. This reality is the decisive change in the military and financial position of the United States since the middle of the 1950s.

Neither has ever fully explained to the people how the loss of our nuclear monopoly, even though we are still much the stronger military power, is affecting the whole worldwide commitments which were proclaimed by President Truman and formalized by Secretary Dulles.

FOR EXAMPLE: When we still possessed a nuclear monopoly, we were an irresistible power in the sense that we could destroy without being hurt. Then it was possible to encircle the Soviet Union with military bases usable for offensive action. But when the nuclear monopoly came to an end, then the encircling nations like Turkey, and then Paris and London and Bonn, and finally the United States itself, became vulnerable. Then the advance bases began to become liabilities.

Thus Turkey is a great liability in our relations with Cuba. For if we use force to invade or blockade Cuba, we must be prepared for something similar around or in Turkey or some such place on the frontiers of the Soviet Union.

These advance bases of ours, which are nearly obsolescent with the big bombers and the missiles, are more hostage than ally. If Khrushchev wants to defend Castro, he does not have to do it in Cuba where the Soviet Union is a negligible military power. He can do it in Turkey or Iran or elsewhere on the perimeter.

THESE THINGS need to be understood by our people as we find ourselves in a military crisis over Cuba. Until our people do understand them, they will be thinking and feeling and voting in a world that no longer exists.

In the world that now exists the United States is not omnipotent. It cannot, therefore, enforce the Monroe Doctrine in the Western hemisphere and the Truman Doctrine in the Eastern hemisphere.

Opening lead — ◇ Q

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and saw that he could ruff one spade in dummy and discard another on the king of diamonds.

This seemed like a pretty sure thing, so he returned a spade at once.

TRIFLING

East won with the ace of spades and returned a trump to declarer's ace. South led a spade to dummy, discarded a spade on the king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond.

Then he ruffed his last spade with dummy's 10 of trumps.

There remained only the trifling matter of getting back to his own hand to draw the rest of the trumps. Unfortunately, dummy had nothing but clubs.

CASH ACE

Declarer had to cash the ace of clubs and then lead the king of clubs in the hope that both would get by. Disaster struck at the ninth trick, when West ruffed the king of clubs.

Mind you, South saw his danger when he had nothing but clubs to lead from the dummy. His problem was that he hadn't foreseen this when he started the hand.

It should be clear that South cannot make the hand with a 5-0 club break. Sooner or later one of the defenders will ruff a club. But South can surely make the hand against a 4-1 break if he adopts the right line of play.

2ND TRICK

At the second trick, South should lead a club to dummy's ace. He discards a club on the king of diamonds and ruffs a club.

He gets back to dummy with the ten of trumps and ruffs another club. Then he draws trumps.

By this time the clubs are set up, and South can lead a spade to force entry to the dummy.

He eventually gets back with another spade to run the good clubs and fulfill the slam contract.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of 1962 with 67 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1923, the Teapot Domes scandals began to unfold as Sen. Thomas Walsh of Montana demanded a public hearing on the Department of Interior's leasing of two naval oil reserves to private corporations.

A thought for today: German poet Johann Goethe said: "He only earns his freedom and existence who daily conquers them anew."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Those Who Neglect Treatment For Appendix Are Tempting Fate

VAN DELLEN

Good research often stems from small and out of the way places. Dr. G. A. Oliver and Dr. G. L. Watkins gathered statistics on ruptured appendicitis from a 75-bed rural hospital in Bonne Terre, Mo. In 13 years, 1,013 appendectomies were performed and of these, 128 had perforations of the organ, with peritonitis in 88.

Sixty children and 69 men and women over 50 were among the group with ruptured appendix. The only death occurred in a 70-year-old man. Such figures are in marked contrast to those of four decades ago when perforation and peritonitis meant death or prolonged disability.

ORDINARY APPENDICITIS is a relatively benign disease, provided the inflamed organ is removed within 24 hours. But the situation changes quickly when surgery is delayed and the infection is allowed to continue until the appendix becomes gangrenous and ruptures.

The purulent material, including the intestinal contents, escapes into the abdominal cavity, leading to peritonitis or abscess. These complications are more serious and we can thank the antibiotics for their ability to control this type of infection.

THE BONNE TERRE hospital study showed that surgery was delayed 24 or more hours in 99 out of 128 persons in whom the appendix ruptured. In 44 per cent of this group the patient was responsible for the delay and in 24 per cent, the physician. But procrastination was not always due to neglect on the part of physician or patient.

In many instances, symptoms and findings were not typical of acute appendicitis and the diagnosis was difficult to make. In infants, children, and the elderly, symptoms are likely to be bizarre. Furthermore, older people fear surgery and don't consent to operations until obviously in trouble.

THE PHYSICIAN often is overly cautious and hesitates to suggest surgery because of the criticism that follows removal of a normal appendix. The diagnosis becomes apparent as soon as the appendix ruptures but, by that time, it may be too late.

Appendicitis is still here. It may be tamed by the anti-biotics but those who neglect treatment still tempt fate.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

REAL AND IMAGINED INFESTATION

R. C. writes: What is parasitosis?

REPLY

Parasitosis (parasitism) should refer to infestation with parasites. Pediculosis (lice) and scabies (seven year itch) are examples. But the psychiatrists have preempted the word to mean a delusion of insects or mites crawling under the skin, or a phobia resulting from an abnormal fear of "bugs."

X-RAY AND CANCER

REPLY

It might but the film is too small to demonstrate details. A tumor large enough to cast a shadow on this film could be felt or diagnosed more readily by palpation.

MUSCLE DETERIORATION

S.R. writes: What is meant by a weak heart muscle?

REPLY

This is not a medical term. I assume it refers to a muscle that has undergone degeneration because of poor circulation or infection.

GOOD OLD WATER

N. P. writes: What liquids make the kidneys work the hardest?

REPLY

Water. Drink several glasses and I think you will agree with me. There are some liquids

OVARIAN CYSTS

Mrs. Z. writes: Is operation absolutely essential for an ovarian cyst?

REPLY

These cysts come in different types and sizes and vary in seriousness. Surgery is needed when they cause discomfort, affect the menstrual pattern, or are malignant.

SWEETS AND WORMS

L.M. writes: Can a child get pinworms from eating too many sweets?

REPLY

No. Pinworms develop from micro-sized pinworm eggs that are swallowed by the child.

If You Yearn For Political Success —Be Born Right

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you yearn to succeed in politics, have the foresight to get born into a politically prominent family.

If you have a name the voters already know, you may find the early stages of your road wonderfully smoothed.

This always has been true in U.S. politics, but rarely have we had so many shining examples.

Look at the famous names that will be on the ballots Nov. 6: Kennedy, Lodge, Roosevelt, Rockefeller, Morgenthau, Long.

As usual Massachusetts leads the familial list.

In the Senate race it's Edward M. Kennedy, 30, who has a brother for president and another brother for attorney general. He's running against George Lodge, 34, whose father was a senator and an ambassador to the United Nations.

Another famous name was bumped off. Edward J. McCormack Jr., whose Uncle John is speaker of the House, was beaten in the primaries. A fourth famous name was added to the senatorial list: H. Stuart Hughes, grandson of Charles Evans Hughes, who barely lost the presidency to Woodrow Wilson, is running as an independent.

Don't go away yet. Waiting to welcome the new senator is Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R.-Mass.). He's the second of that name to serve in Congress. Rep. Leverett Saltonstall, also of family-loving Massachusetts, was the senator's great-grandfather.

Move on to New York.

It's true that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller bears a famous name, but until recently—say, in the last quarter of a century—a name so synonymous with riches would have been looked upon as a liability.

Yet not only Rockefeller but W. Averell Harriman, who also inherited millions, have been governors of New York.

Democrats, hoping to get in a few blows at whatever presidential ambitions Rockefeller has, have chosen Robert M. Morgenthau to oppose him.

Morgenthau is relatively unknown, but he has a fine political name. His father, Henry Jr., was Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary of the Treasury and his grandfather was Woodrow Wilson's ambassador to Turkey.

Speaking of FDR, his son, James, seeks re-election as a representative from California.

Then there are the Longs, a magical name in Louisiana. Gillis W. Long hopes to be elected to the House and Russell B. Long expects to be re-elected to the Senate.

On the other side of the political fence: Robert Taft, son of Sen. Robert A. Taft and grandson of President William Howard Taft, hopes to be elected representative at large from Ohio.

This is nothing new — that any one with the great name has a political headstart.

In 1813 Thomas Jefferson wrote to John Adams—founder of a famous political dynasty—that voters showed "traditionary reverence" for certain families.

"I presume that from an early period in your history," Jefferson said, "members of those families happening to possess virtue and talents, have honestly exercised them for the good of the people, and by their services have endeared their names to them."

The Adams exercised their talents. John Adams was a president. His son, John Quincy Adams was a senator, a president, and finally the only ex-president to serve in the House. J. Q.'s son, Charles Francis Adams, was a representative and minister to England.

The Bayards of Delaware turned out five U.S. senators in four generations. Their record has been described this way:

"There was James Asheton Bayard Sr., who begat Richard Henry Bayard and James Asheton Bayard Jr., who begat Thomas Francis Bayard, who begat Thomas Francis Bayard Jr.—every last one a senator.

"A Bayard was in the Senate as far back as 1804 and as recently as 1929."

Job Openings At HAFB Told

The Civil Service Commission is accepting applications for two classes of openings at Hamilton Air Force Base, it was announced today by E. A. Rossi, examiner in charge at San Rafael.

Applications for present and future vacancies as air reserve technicians (management technicians, records and publications) are being accepted from men only. Salary is $5,355 per year.

An examination will be scheduled for the position of parts expediter-parts router at $2.69 per hour at both Hamilton and Travis Air Force Base. Information and forms may be obtained from any post office or the civil service commission at 630 Sansome Street, San Francisco.

Post Office Yule Jobs Opening Soon

Applications for temporary Christmas season employment will be accepted by the San Rafael Post Office starting next Tuesday, it was announced today by Warren H. Williams, postmaster.

Applicants must live within 10 miles of the post office and be 18 or older. Veterans will have preference. Forms may be obtained at the post office, and applications will be accepted until Nov. 7, or earlier if he decides enough have been filed, Williams said.

Growth Of Private Hauling Cause Fight

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The competitive fight between the various forms of for-hire transportation—rails, trucks, planes, barges, pipelines—waxes steadily.

But just as heated at times is the battle over the inroads into the field by private carriage.

The growth of private hauling of goods and supplies over the nation's highways may have added to traffic jams to your annoyance. It also has raised the tempers of the regulated carriers.

Who is getting hurt and how much? And why do some business firms turn to their own trucks while others stick to for-hire transportation?

A research team of the Transportation Center at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., fed into a computer the replies of 1,100 manufacurers to their queries on the subject.

The answers may shed some light on a controversy noted for generating heat.

The unregulated motor carriers have grown faster since the war than the regulated carriers as a whole. But the team says that, in terms of tonnage, the common motor carriers have grown about as fast as have corporations' own fleets of trucks, even though trucking firms think otherwise.

And the replies indicate the service not offered by suppliers;

3. When the firm desires managerial control over the supply of some productive input.

The Transportation Center plans a private conference the end of this month to discuss the findings and the problems.

real battle has been between these two, the for-hire and the do-it-yourself motor haulers.

Firms using their own trucks tend to concentrate on short-haul movements of freight, and thus compete less than some may think with the rails, which get their big volume on the longer than 200-mile freight movement.

But the volume of private carriage is growing. The survey shows one-third of the firms replying increased their use of private carriage in proportion to their total tonnage in recent years, while 23 per cent did not, and the remainder kept about the same proportion.

Altogether about 32 per cent of motor freight tonnages moved by private carriage in 1961, according to the replies. The private fleets were mostly modest—59 per cent of the firms used four or fewer vehicles.

The biggest use of private fleets was in the food industries. Such usage was reported by less than a third of those in the instrument, electrical machinery, leather, textile and apparel industries.

Firms using their own trucks to haul their supplies gave three situations in which they find this most profitable:

1. When prices charged by suppliers are greater than private costs of production;

2. When the firm wants a certain quality of goods or

Used Cars Top Products' List Which Result In Borrowing

Used cars top the list of consumer products in California which result in borrowing. According to a statewide survey by the California Bankers Assn., more than half of installment credit is in autobile loans. Something over one million used cars moved from dealers' lots last year.

Most banks reported that television sets run a close second to used cars, and there are about as many requests for financing news cars as there are for new automatic washers-dryers. Refrigerators are fifth on the list.

At the moment, people are making greater use of bank credit, even though employment is at a record high in the state. They borrow on the strength of their jobs. Average age of a borrower is 31; his borrowing peak is at 35.

Roughly 11 percent of bank employees are engaged in servicing loans and their average age is also 31. It's a good spot for young men to begin banking careers and often leads to top posts and bigger desks.

California banks issue 27 loans per minute. Less than one-fourth of 1 per cent of them go sour and result in losses.

MORE HOME BUILDING in September. Construction starts in single dwellings took a hike last month over the usual 50-50 split with multiple units, according to the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. The division was 75-25 in number of units; two-thirds and one-third in dollar volume.

Number of commercial units up 21 per cent.

MRS. BRITT MASSINGALE has sold out her interest in Nancy's Carriage House, San Rafael to her partner Mrs. Wynne H. Bowyer and has returned to an old love—publicity work.

DONALD H. COOK of San Rafael has been appointed salesman in the San Francisco office of Witco Chemical Co., organic chemicals division. He has been with California Ink Co. in Berkeley for 15 years; has held several posts in research.

JAPANESE ART CENTER, San Rafael, is sponsoring a Japanese brush painting contest in San Jose from Dec. 1 to Jan. 2. Open to entries in three divisions: Professional, beginners and young artists (up to and including high school age).

DODGE MOTORS has unveiled an expanded line of cars in its 880 and Custom 880 series, increasing the number of models from six to nine. They will go on sale Nov. 14 at Shamrock Motors, Mill Valley and San Rafael, and at Nave's Dodge, Novato.

DEEDS RECORDED for September were down 5.5 per cent from last year in Marin, but the first nine months were still up 16.4 per cent. Figures from Title Insurance and Trust Co., San Rafael.

Real estate loans in September were up 6 per cent from last year; the year to date is up 16.9 per cent. Total construction for this year is ahead 4.3 per cent over the first nine months of 1961.

There are more than 700,000 rural boys who are Boy Scouts.

Korea Fun Center For GIs

Rulers Bid For More U.S. Dollars

By CONRAD FINK

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Despite their stern austerity campaign, South Korea's military rulers are betting heavily that they can provide the American GI the off-duty fun he seeks.

The question bothering some Koreans—and many high-ranking U.S. officers—is whether what the government will provide will conflict with what American mothers and church groups think the GI should get.

The answer may determine the success of Walker Hill a giant fun center the government is building with 5.5 million dollars squeezed from South Korea's lean treasury.

It is named by the Koreans in honor of Gen. Walton H. Walker, the U.S. Eighth Army commander who defended the Pusan perimeter in the early days of the Korean war and then drove to the Yalu River. Walker was killed in a jeep accident north of Seoul in December 1950.

Walker Hill, overlooking the Han River 10 miles east of this capital city, is scheduled to open in December and start gathering some of the dollars that many of the 50,000 U.S. servicemen in South Korea now carry to Japan on furlough.

Walker Hill's beautiful 156 acres will contain low-cost hotels, motels, swimming pools, hunting area, fishing facilities, libraries and steam baths.

There also will be bars, night clubs, dice tables, roulette wheels, slot machines, card games and, according to informed sources, pretty hostesses.

One Korean official says: "we wonder sometimes what the mothers in Ohio and Pennsylvania will think."

Gen. Guy S. Meloy, top U.S. soldier in Korea, says he knows from long Army experience that American mothers and church groups will react vigorously. Consequently, he says, if there is prostitution or crooked gambling at Walker Hill, the entire complex will be declared off limits and the Korean government will be "out of luck as far as getting GIs is concerned."

Some U.S. servicemen say Walker Hill couldn't offer GIs anything not offered in most cities of the world and that Tokyo will remain Northeast Asia's biggest attraction.

With this in mind, critics suggest that South Korea's military leaders have gambled on what could become a white elephant.

South Korea, with almost three million unemployed and a sorely underdeveloped economy, could have used the 5.5 million dollars to better advantage, these critics say.

To the government, Walker Hill appears to be a national show piece that must succeed to illustrate what Koreans can do on their own.

The powerful Korean Central Intelligence Agency under Col. Kim Chong-pil is in charge of construction, apparently because it has the authority and drive to get the job done. Kim is the No. 2 man of the ruling military junta.

12,000 Known Dope Addicts In California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An Assembly subcommittee was told yesterday that California has 12,000 known narcotic addicts, and they should come under state supervision.

Roland W. Wood, superintendent of the California Rehabilitation Center at Corona (not connected with the women's prison), said the center's program should be expanded to cover all the state's addicts.

Wood said his center now has 1,000 inmates, men and women, and has an eventual capacity of 2,300.

Wood recommended that the center be allowed by law to keep every inmate at least six months for intensive treatment.

Heavy Cargo

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Three major ports in Louisiana—New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Lake Charles — handled 107,193,872 tons of water-borne commerce during 1961, according to the Army Corps of Engineers.

9 Counties Eligible For Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy yesterday declared nine northern California counties a major disaster area as a result of recent storms and flooding.

The declaration made the counties eligible for emergency federal grants.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the actual allocation and payment of relief funds awaited a request and justification from state authorities. He said severe weather, which struck the Pacific Coast beginning Oct. 10, so far has led to federal grants of one million dollars to Oregon and $350,000 to Washington.

Business Note

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — An exterminator's sign here says "Our business is good when things are lousy."

WOES OF A RABBIT LOVER

Elwood P. Dowd (Freeland Romans) is held by cabbie E. J. Lofgren (George Shistar) and Duane Wilson, the man in the little white coat (Bill Morrisey) as Judge Omar Gaffney (Lin Hinkle) says "lock him up." And it's all just because Dowd has a six-foot rabbit nobody else can see. The scene is from the Ross Valley Players' production of "Harvey," which will be repeated tomorrow and Saturday and Nov. 2, 3, 9 and 10 at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Curtain time is 8:30 p. m.
